Cecil Wolfe in Serbia

Dr. and Mrs Wolfe last Friday re-ceived an interesting letter from their son Dr Cecil in Serbia. now at that tamous ally war centre, Salonika. The following is in part :

Hasanti, Servis, Nov, 29, 1915

Dear father and mother : I am still waiting for a letter from are now it will be some time before J | mother here. get one. I am only hoping that my letters are going alright to you and the week end with his brother, Mr. that you won't be anxious about me. J. Sullivan. I also hope Greece doesn't come in pletely shut in and I don't know how | mother, Mrs R. Dargavel. would send any word then, as our letters all go through Greece and our | Xmas with Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood supplies come the same way. This of Ebordale. is not the most pleasant task, writing letters in this cold by the light of a candle. I am writing this with my gloves, overcoat and cap on and am too warm at that. It starts to freeze every afternoon about five clock and by morning everything is frozen tight. Bed is the only place to keep warm in and even there it requires some ingenious twists to get the blankets around you so that no drafts come in and we don't take off all our clothes either before going to bed. Only one man was killed and a few wounded, but I picked some thirty bullets out of the horses this morning pesides dressing minor cuts on a few core, so I think I have done a fair day's work. Well, to morrow is the 25th of November and then only one month till Christmas. I wish I were nome to enjoy it with you, but it is to be hoped that this struggle will be long over and I will be with you to enjoy the next Christmas time, Don't worry about me, as I am enjoying the best of health.

Now I see my candle is about done and I must close for bed. It is only about half past seven, but we go to

Is a mother who has once used Chamberlain's "Crany" Chamberlain Cough Remedy, for she makes a point of telling other mothers about it, who in turn pass the news on. It is this that has made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a household word throughout the world. Just ask some mother in your community what she thinks of Chamberlain's Cough Remedyshe will tell you that it enables her to get her children through the winter without coughs, colds or croup, and that at first approach of a cold she herself takes

She will tell you that it is as thoroughly reliable for the youngest child as for the oldest member of the family. You can give it to the baby, the children going to school, or take it yourself, always with the same result-a quick relief."

Two Hampden Boys Honored

A number of the young people from around Hampden, met at the home Fiday evening and presented Mr Thes B adiey and Noble Lucas with Dominion Day comes on a Saturday. a Fountain pen and small sum of money each. Miss Sarat Fulton read the tollowing address and Mesers Thos Derby and Jno. Henry present d the gitts.

To Thos Bradley and Noble Lucas,-It is with regret and yet with very great pleasure that we learned of your joining the service of your king and country. We admire your true Hampden congregation in offering your services in this awful wa in which British freedom, British liberty and even the very existence of the British nations are at stake.

Britishers, the wide world over, regret the course of events that thrust the ravages of ruthless war upon them. The path of duty is unmistake bly clear, though it leads to self sacrifices unknown in this world before the present strenuous time.

All honor to you for seeing your duty clearly and embracing the opportunity to perform that duty faithfully and fearlessly. Your manly conduct will be an incentive to us all to grasp our opportunities whatever they may be.

May God who alone knows what self sacrifice you have made, protect you through dangers seen and unseen and bring you safely back to your home and many friends, when this cruel strife is over and peace once more pervades this happy country. Before parting we ask you to accept from us this little mementum by which to remember us when you may be far away from the circle of friends around you to day. Our kindest regards and best wishes will follow you wherever your lot may be cast.

Signed on behalf of Hampden Friends Alex. Sharp George Nicol Andrew Marshall

The boys both made a suitable reply although taken by surprise, as also did Mrs Bradley. The remainder of the evening was spent in music, games, etc. After refreshments had been served, the little gathering departed for home by singing "God Save the King."
