PRICEVILLE AND LIMITS

This time we intend to give a little of everything and not much of that. If we begin to tell about the weather it's nothing but what everybody knows, that during the past week, especially the fore part, a person would need to have his nose and face well protected from the biting storms of a January in 1916. This brings our thoughts to olden times when everybody who is old now was young, when they were not so well protected by being clad to meet the requirements necessary to keep the body from being exposed to the inclemency of the winters of long ago. Many a young grown-up boy had to go with out a comfortable garment 50 or 60 years ago. We heard a well-to-do farmer tell us that he was quite a young man before he got his first pair of boots, only wearing what they called in olden times "moggans" or old clothes sewed together to protect the feet from freezing, but the good farmer has now a comfortable brick house and all other comfortable conveniences to suit, but we pass on to some other matter. A story is told that after a large number of the Highland tenantry had been ejected and their estates filled with sheep, a recruiting officer happened to come into the neighborhood, but the only response received by him to his request for volunteers for the army was "Baa Baa," thus indicating that as sheep had been substituted for men, the recruiting officers might look to the sheep for his soldiers. How different to our time for getting volunteers to enlist, although our country has a fair supply of those innocent creatures, the sheep. We have brave young men who enlisted to defend their country and who at this cold and inclement season of the year, are suffering, as we have been reading, from the effects of frozen feet and other uncomfortable circumstances unknown to those who are only experiencing the circumstances by hearsay.

A story is told of a good natured highlandman of the olden times who imbibed too freely. On his wanderings homeward he crossed and recrossed several streams till he was drenching wet. His good natured wife on his arrival home began to pity him, saying "O my poor man, where have you been?" "Och woman," replied the drenched highlandman, "she's cam from Egypt and she pe crossing the Red sea often."

Another story is told of another highlandman of ye olden times, called Rory. This old farmer was noted for his early rising summer and winter. Four o'clock in the morning never

Death of Mr Duncan Baxter

On Monday evening, Jan. 17th, one of Artemesia's oldest residents passed away in the person of Mr. Duncan Baxter, after a lingering illness of about three years. Death was due to a paralytic stroke.

Deceased was born in London, Ont. in the year 1838 where he lived for twenty years. From there he went to the township of Caledon, Peel Co. where he married Catherine Ferguson daughter of the late Archibald Ferguson of said township and in the year 1857, he and his young wife moved to Lot 3rd Con, north of the Durham Road in the township of Artemesia where he remained until his death.

Mr. Baxter was one of Artemesia's hardest pioneers and took an active part in clearing the land and building roads in what was then a lonely wilderness.

He was a noted axman and was always called upon to take his place on the corner in the erection of the log buildings that served as shelter for both man and beast in those days. Deceased was a good neighbor and was always willing to lend a helping hand whenever needed. In religion he was Presbyterian and in politics a end at their homes here.

We hear that the grip is very prevalent in some parts of the country though as yet our little burgh has escaped fairly well. Perhaps it is on account of being situated in such high altitude. It would certainly take robust germs to withstand the high winds of last week and not get blown away and we wouldn't mind it the least if this has been the case.

The afternoon meetings of the Farmers' and Women's Institute were fairly well attended considering the very stormy weather. The joint meeting in the evening was a decided success both as to attendance and program. Mr. Carruthers makes an ideal chairman, Mr. Barbour is a good speaker and is a fair sample of the up-to-date progressive farmer, and possesses the faculty of making his addresses both practical and interesting. Of Mrs. Hunter, the speaker of the W. I. too much cannot be said in commendation. Her subject, "Patriotism," in which all are equally interested, was dealt with in such a way as to impress each and every one with the importance of doing their share. The word "bit" she thinks is too small and not expressive enough. Several selections of vocal and instrumental helped to liven up the program. Mr. J. Black and Mr. Colin McLean giving some rousing violin and piccolo duets. Mr. J. I. Graham and Mr. G. S. Desbarats and Surgeon Maj.-Gen. Fiset, and H. S. Holt, F. X. Lemieux, Capt. Clive Phillips Wooley and Wm. Price were made Knights Bachelor.

General News of 1915

THE great events of the world war so immensely overshadowed other news that outside of military and political affairs little occurred to attract the attention of the public. The United States had one big disaster, the Eastland horror in Chicago. The chief accidents in Canada were the Queenston wreck and two mining camp mishaps in the West. Premier Borden's visit to England and the honors he received there formed an interesting event. New Year and Birthday Honors enriched Canada to the extent of thirteen "Sirs."
