Make it a point to attend the Irish Social on St. Patrick's night, 17th March, in the Presbyterian Church at 8 o'clock. An enjoyable evening is promised and the admission fee of 15 goes towards buying comforts for the soldiers. It is being arranged by six young ladies of that church.

MANITOBA GOES DRY.—The vote in Manitoba last week was a tremendous success for the temperance forces. Only one district gave a "wet" majority and that small. The foreign vote, the soldier vote and even Winnipeg all gave big majorities against liquor. Over all the vote was over 2 to 1.

The Zion Branch of the Women's Institute will hold an Irish Shingle Social at the home of Mr. Arthur Blair on Friday evening, March 17th. A good program of songs, recitations, speeches and music will be given. Admission: Ladies with boxes, free; Gentlemen 25c and Children 10c. Proceeds in aid of Red Cross fund.

IT WAS PRIVATE.—Because he had imported a quantity of whiskey in suspicious proportions, Wm. Wigginton was on Saturday brought before Magistrate Laidlaw to explain the transaction. He swore that he was within the law as he had imported it for his own use. Evidence is rebuttal of this was not quite clear and the magistrate gave him the benefit of the doubt and dismissed the case.

BIG SEIZURE.—Mat. Beckett last week in Owen Sound about 5 a.m. one fine morning got his eye on a dray load that took his fancy. The driver unhitched in a coal yard, fed his horses, and as he was hitching up again Mat came on the scene and found 15 cases of whiskey which he ordered to be driven to town hall cell. The driver could not be made to say where he got it, where he was taking it and as address labels had been torn off the owner could not be found!

WEDDING.—The usual congratulations over, all sat down to a hearty supper, after which the evening passed happily. Rev. Mr. Ashton added much enjoyment with his auto-harp and singing. The many costly and useful presents show the high esteem in which the young couple were held.

On the following evening a reception was held in honor of the bride at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McDonald.

After spending a few days with friends here, the happy young couple will leave for their home in Gull Lake, Sask. All who know Mr. and Mrs. McLean will join in wishing them health, happiness and prosperity in their new home in the far west.

MCKINNON—HINKS.—One of those happy events took place at the cozy home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hinks, Pricville, (which everybody wishes the contracting parties never to occur again) when their daughter Almada was united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Bowes of Pricville to Mr. Donald McKinnon, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McKinnon, S. L. Glenelg.

The ceremony took place at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening, 8th March. The bride who was given away leaning on the arm of her father, looked her best in a gown of ivory silk with shadow lace, carrying a bouquet of bride's roses. The groom's gift to the bride was a cameo necklace. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Bowes and the young couple were unattended. As a coincidence the young couple were raised in the same home in the days of their youth. Mr. McKinnon's home for the last 12 years was the one where his young bride was raised from childhood and bought from the bride's father. The bride who was a general favorite with all her schoolmates, received all her education at Top Cliff school as did also the groom, as they were acquainted with one another from their school days. About two dozen of the nearest friends of the contracting parties attended the ceremony. After the solemn part of the proceedings were over, the guests sat down to a sumptuous repast prepared by the bride and her mother. The evening was spent for a time in a becoming manner suitable for the happy occasion.

PEARSON—CLARK.—On Wednesday afternoon, March 3th, a quiet wedding took place when Miss Florence Clark, second eldest daughter of the late William Clark, formerly of Chesley, became the bride of Mr. William N. Pearson, eldest son of the late Nelson Pearson, of Toronto, the Rev. Dr. MacGillivray, pastor of Bonar Church officiating. The bride wore a becoming travelling suit of amethyst velvet and white hat with ospreys and black furs. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Pearson left for New York and other points and on their return will be at home with their many friends at the bride's mother's, Mrs. Clark, 188 McDowell Ave., Parkdale, Toronto.

BUCHAN—WILSON.—On Wednesday, 15th March, wedding bells pealed over Miss Ida Wilson, youngest daughter of Mrs. Geo. Wilson, Upper Town, and Mr. Wm. F. Buchan, one of Durham's business men, and son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Buchan of town.

The wedding was of an extremely quiet nature, owing to the illness of the groom's mother and was attended by only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. Rev. S. M. Halsey performed the ceremony and the happy couple left on the p.m. G. T. R. train for Bayfield where they will visit the groom's sister, Mrs. Dr. Woods, for a few days.

The bride has been a successful nurse since returning from the West where she practised for two years, and also for her musical qualities. Durham will be glad to keep her. From childhood she has been in demand for her singing which talent was always cheerfully given and was a valued member of the Presbyterian choir. The groom is also well and favorably known and the best wishes of town friends follow them in their married life.

MCLEAN—MCDONALD.—On Wednesday, March 8th, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. H. McDonald, Bentinck, a very pretty wedding took place, when her daughter Miss Sarah became the bride of Mr. Malcolm McLean, Gull Lake, Sask. Shortly after six o'clock to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Andrew Hastie, a friend of the bride, the groom took his place under an arch of evergreen decorated with flags and was followed by the bride leaning on the arm of her brother Donald, who gave her away. Master Johnny McDonald, nephew of the bride, acted as page boy and discharged his duties most admirably.

The nuptial knot was well and securely tied by Rev. F. Ashton, in the presence of the most intimate friends.

The bride, who is one of nature's most charming young ladies, looked beautiful attired in a gown of white silk, trimmed with silk embroidered Oriental lace and ribbon and carried a bouquet of maiden hair fern and carnations.

The usual congratulations over, all sat down to a hearty supper, after which the evening passed happily. Rev. Mr. Ashton added much enjoyment with his auto-harp and singing. The many costly and useful presents show the high esteem in which the young couple were held.

On the following evening a reception was held in honor of the bride at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McDonald.

A Recruiting Sunday

Durham Church Goes Listen to Preachers in Khaki

Last Sunday Major Ardill of the Anglican Church, Lieut. Spenser of the Methodist Church, Lance Corporal Proudfoot and Private Kerr of the Baptist Church, Reverends all of them, filled Durham pulpits on Sunday. The three last named were in khaki, and every one of them has resigned their charges, and still as "Christian Soldiers" they are "Marching on to Righteousness and Liberty and to the good faith that should exist not only between man and man, but between nation and nation."

Their mission to Durham was to present the war situation and the needs of the 17th Battalion now forming at Owen Sound, with a view to stimulating recruiting. Their presentation of the case left little to be desired and as Lieut. Spenser said in the Town Hall, they were confident they had sowed seed that would yield its fruit before long in a bunch of new recruits.

Major Ardill preached morning and evening in Trinity, his recruiting message in the evening. Private Kerr and Lance Corporal Proudfoot preached to Baptist and Presbyterian congregations in the morning and reversed in the evening. Lieut. Spenser took the Methodist service in the evening. Their discourses apart from the recruiting feature, were all well-spoken of, they are a quartette of earnest gospel workers, who have seen it their duty to exchange spiritual warfare for warfare of the physical kind against the enemies of Britain and Canada, enemies that if successful would destroy what we call civilization and put a clog on human progress.

At 8:15 a mass meeting was convened in the Town Hall, Dr. Jamieson, M. P. P., President of the Recruiting committee, in the chair. The Hall was totally inadequate again to accommodate the crowd and hundreds perhaps had to forego the pleasure of an interesting evening.

Two rows of chairs on the platform were filled with about a dozen new recruits, who had joined since the demonstration on 4th Feb. The four preachers of the day, the local ministers, except Rev. Mr. Morris, who was in Owen Sound, Messrs. Calder, Laidlaw, A. H. Jackson and some of the visiting Khaki boys, of whom 7 came over from Sault Ste. Marie to avoid the long wait. In the same way they were returned Monday evening, the C. P. R. special leaving about 7:45 p.m.

There was a fitting introduction by the chairman in which he voiced the pride he had in seeing Durham so well represented in the Khaki. It was encouraging to parents also to see among the companions of their boys men of the stamp of those fling the pulpits that day. He was sure from the character of all the officers that no immoral atmosphere would endanger the morals of the boys. He called upon to trust Messrs. Ardill, Kerr, Spenser and Proudfoot, who, as we have said, left little to be desired in cogency of appeal. To boys who are free, of proper age, physically fit, and without ties or encumbrance, the appeals should come home with much weight. Much was made of the fact that many young married men were enlisting and with few exceptions fathers and mothers were not holding back their boys, but making the sacrifice. Most of the speakers spoke with admiration of the spirit of the women. Corp. Proudfoot told a harrowing tale of a mother who said she would sooner see her boys in the grave than see them enlist. In two weeks he saw one of them in his coffin and the mother's agony may be imagined. Another favorite argument is to picture Canada following an imaginary German victory, when confiscation and conscription would follow.

"But they're not going to win, and the 17th is coming back" declared optimistic Spenser amidst applause, and if some of them should fall he reminded them of Macaulay's lines:

"How can one die better Than facing fearful odds For the hour of his fathers And the temples of his God."

At a proper time the new recruits passed across the platform, the chairman handing each a warm watch. One of finer quality was given to Bert Willis, who is leaving wife and five children to meet the enemy. The chairman hoped the others would not be envious and promised them something better when they too reached Bert's standard. In addition the ladies of the Red Cross Society are giving their usual bundle of socks and underwear and Mr. Calder in a brief address promised each a khaki testament on the morrow, a gift he gave to all previous enlisters.

A male chorus comprising H. McCrae, Will Glass, Dan McGrath, Peter Ramage, J. P. Telford, W. Mistle, J. H. Harbidge, Ed. Burchell, Bert Smith,

Will Nichol rendered with spirit patriotic numbers, Mr. Telford leading in "Red, White and Blue," and Mr. Mistle the new Royal Bank Manager in "Rule Britannia." Accompanist, Miss Rita Irtwin.

The call for volunteers brought forward Roy Vickers and Harry Cunningham, who were warmly applauded and welcomed to the ranks.

Military Notes

Five new recruits accompanied the boys back to Owen Sound on Monday evening: Mack Saunders, John McDonald, Lorne Mountain, Geo. Gagnon and John McGowan Jr. The latter two were since turned back, Gagnon for a slight deafness, and McGowan under age.

Three more left here Wednesday afternoon to join the ranks of the 147th, in Owen Sound: Fred Corbett, of the Royal Bank staff, Robt. Keith, and Robt. Robb, of the Furniture factory.

Several more married men in town are considering signing up.

Clarence Darling has been successful in obtaining a corporal's standing in the 147th battalion.

Mr. Sam Hillis, a former Durham boy has enlisted in St. Marys with the Perth battalion.

We learn that Mr. Fred Smith, a Durham boy, now employed in the International Harvester Co. offices, Regina, is enlisting in a Regina battalion. Chas. K. Crawford, another old Durham boy in the West, has enlisted, and his father who was home for the winter, has taken his place as Secy.-Treas. of a municipal unit at Eyebrow. Charlie and a companion were recently feted, and presented with a $25 gold wrist watch each.

Capt. Arthur W. McNally, of the 109th Bruce battalion, Walkerton, who works in Durham as the 4th Feb. demonstration, has been promoted to the rank of junior major, the former major having resigned owing to ill-health.

C. Elvidge appointed Hydro Secy.

The town council had a special session on Monday night to open tenders for the position of Secretary of the Hydro accounts which are to be rendered monthly. Three applications were before them and the position was given to Mr. C. Elvidge at $800 a year.

Considerable discussion took place over the still unfinished settlement with the Furniture Co. for light power supplied to the town from 11th July to 17th Nov., 1915. It appears that a few still have not paid. In two cases, Messrs. Calder and Campbell, there is a difference of opinion. It would appear that they had some special agreement with Mr. McIntyre giving them the privilege of a lower rate and Reeve Catton and others of the council claim that this privilege does not extend beyond July 10th, when a contract was entered into with the town and not merely a verbal agreement. Besides notice that all commercial lights were to be $3.00, residential lights $2.00, and those having agreements should then have protested. The matter was left in the hands of the Fire & Light committee, who will interview the parties and report.

Cost of Weekly Papers

At a meeting of Publishers of Grey County held in Owen Sound last Friday the question of increasing the price of local weeklies to $1.50 a year was under discussion and met with unanimous favor by those present. The violent storm that day prevented representatives from Durham, Dundalk, Flesherton and Markham, from being present, and possibly other places, and it is likely that another meeting will be held of a more representative character before an increase, if any, takes place.

Surrounding counties have felt the same pinch that Grey feels as to the increasing cost of printers' supplies. The increased price is in operation in Bruce Co. already and Perth and Huron adopt the new scale on July 1. Meanwhile we are still supplying the Review at $1 a year, the price charged 30 years ago when dressed hogs were 85 per cent. and to-day we learn live hogs are $10 per cwt. A similar increase of 100 per cent. and more has taken place in many lines of produce so that a modest increase of 50 cents per year seems only reasonable in view of the upward tendency of the overhead cost of material, &c. that go to make up a weekly paper.

The snowstorm last week was the heaviest of the season and blocked country roads in many places. Rural mail carriers had their greatest difficulties this winter, though the railways got along fairly well. Sleighing is splendid and everyone hoping it will continue for two weeks yet anyway.

Masquerade Carnival

The second Carnival of the season held last Friday was, though not so largely attended as the one a fortnight ago, productive of many fine costumes and some good races. The opening event, a hockey exhibition between the "colored mammas" and "White Hopes" was rather ludicrous, as some of the performers being decked out in such original feminine styles, as would turn a Paris fashion designer green with envy.

The masqueraders were not as numerous as formerly, but the attire and rig-outs were fully up to the standard. Frank Irwin culled off the events and S. McClellan, A. McCartney and P. Ramage judged as follows: National costume, ladies—(Britannia) Otilie Limin, Bessie Saunders; Historic gentlemen—(Roman shield) George Catton, (French Count) Sheldon Abraham. Fancy dress, ladies—(Gipsy) Minnie Limin, (night) Vivian Crawford; Gentlemen—W. Lander, Comic, ladies—(suffragette) Miss S. Paulford, (mammy) Mrs. A. W. H. Lander; gentlemen—(nurse and baby) Len Campbell and Cecil Towner, (clown) Wm. Jacob. Mother Goose—Royden Burnett. Historic, ladies—Frankie Burnett.

Frank Morlock again won the gent's race, while Bert Saunders finishing second. Margaret Ewen, who won the girls' race two weeks ago, stepped up into the ladies' class, and again held the lead throughout, with Annie McGirr second. Sheldon Abraham captured the boys' race and Mack Saunders and Annie McGirr the couple race, though Bob Saunders and Margaret Ewen were hung up to the finish.

WALKERTON HALL SINKING.—Walkerton's splendid town hall, which it seems was built on the site of an old swamp, is sinking to such a degree that the two interior brick walls built through the centre of the structure have, it is said, practically cracked in two, caused it is supposed by the back of the hall, which seems to be sinking most, pressing away from the front of the building. So badly in fact was the floor found to have sunk that a Leap Year dance, which the young ladies of the town had arranged to be held recently, had to be abandoned as an unwise proposition.—Bruce Times.

-shear facts

Shear facts are important facts in your appearance—hand tailored, made-to-measure clothes are cut from the cloth one at a time—by a shears in the hands of a clever cutter—from the "plans and specifications" of your own body.

Quite naturally, clothes so made have very distinct advantages—personality, is a very apparent characteristic of them—they truly and accurately fit you.

When you let us tailor a suit to your measure you get the advantage of shear cutting, hand tailoring, attractive designing, fine fabrics and real fit.
