March brings with it the thought of Spring and its needs. PRICEVILLE VILLAGE

March is sustaining her reputation with a vengeance. Mr Malcolm McIntyre is under the weather this week, probably an attack of the gripple.

Dr. Lane was called away to attend his mother last week, who is seriously ill.

Mrs Geo. Miles has returned home, after spending a week with her mother at Proton.

Some of our mailmen failed to make their routes last week for the first time this winter.

An accident was narrowly averted last Tuesday, when the C. P. R. noon train engine or rather the front wheels of it left the track on the steel bridge here. By the prompt action of the trainmen, a disaster was averted, and the train was soon on her way as before.

Still another lady, a former resident of this place, sends along a contribution of $25.00 to the Red Cross Society here, showing that although she has chosen to make her home far away from us, that her thoughts and sympathies are with the work being carried on in the little home village among the Artemesia hills. The Society is sincerely thankful for these gifts, not only for the financial aid which is valued, but for the kindly thoughts and remembrances that have prompted them. Already about $125.00 has been received in this way.

PRICEVILLE AND LIMITS

The home of Mrs McPhail, Durham Road, Glenelg, was completely destroyed by fire on the night of 7th March. The aged lady was living alone and was nearly overtaken by the raging element which gained a complete headway before she noticed it. She barely escaped in her night dress, snatching a blanket with her while making her way through a standing in a snow drift, and barely eluded the neighbor did not know of the sad event till after daylight. Fortunately the old lady's cries were heard by some that were coming home from a party down the line and came to her rescue before she perished standing in a snow drift, and barely eluded. She was taken to her son Neil's house where fortunately the young Mrs McPhail had a good fire on early in the morning.

The storms of last week were the worst of the winter, roads were badly blocked in all directions. All our mail carriers were obliged to stay at home for a couple of days last week.

In all our churches the names of those on the honor roll of our brave young boys who enlisted were read by our pastors last Sunday. We noticed in the Pres. Ch. the honor roll was beautifully written in printed form by Mr. Peter McArthur of this town. It is hard to beat Peter as a penman. As our Priceville correspondent will be giving a good account we will refrain from trespassing on her territory at this time. Sacrament will be held in the Presbyterian Ch. Priceville, on the last Sunday in March.

A large gathering of invited guests assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs Hugh McKinnon, S. L. Glenelg, on Friday night, 10th inst. The object was in honor of that dutiful son Donald and his amiable young bride who were recently united in marriage. The young couple who were held in the highest esteem by all who formed their acquaintance were made the recipients of a comfortable rocking chair each. After the company enjoyed themselves in a becoming manner for a time they were called to order and a chairman appointed who called the young and bashful couple to the front and after seated quietly side by side, the following address was read by one of the young boys of the company.

Mr and Mrs Don McKinnon,
Dear Friends,
It is with deep regret that we learn of your intended departure from our midst.

To many of us present here you have both been associated since childhood days having been schoolmates together. We have known you since then as true, kind, obliging friends. I always ready to help when help was needed. The place you have held amongst us will be hard to fill.

We congratulate you on your recent marriage and sincerely wish you a long and happy life in your new home. As a small token of our esteem toward you, we ask you to accept these small gifts and our earnest prayer is that you may be long spared to each other and may ever have the smile of a kind Providence signed on behalf of your friends,

Norman McIntyre
Hector McEskobern

The young recipients were completely taken by surprise for being presented with such valuable presents. Mr McKinnon in replying asked to be excused as words failed him to return his sincere thanks for such an unexpected gift. But Mrs McKinnon who was more plucky, thanked the donors by expressing her feelings for their valuable presents, which would be a reminder to both of them of their many friends in old Glenelg and Artemesia and south line. Refreshments were in abundance served by the Misses McKinnon and the company enjoyed themselves till the small hours of the morning.

EDGE HILL

On Monday night the people of Edge Hill gathered at the home of Mr J. Firth. Mr W. J. Ritchie called the meeting to order and asked Mr C. Nicholson, Miss Cassie Ritchie, Mr D. Edge, Mr W. G. Firth and Mr C. H. Moffat to come forward. The latter read an address to Mr Nicholson who has enlisted recently, and presented him with a sum amounting to nearly $14.00. Miss Cassie Ritchie presented a pair of military socks. Mr Edge, on behalf of Glenelg pt. gave him an address and a military watch. Mr Nicholson replied briefly, thanking them all for their kindness. Messrs J. Firth, J. Moffat and the chairman spoke and after singing the National Anthem, the rest of the evening was spent in games and dancing, which for a short time was run on leap year days, until the wee small hours, when all gave Mr Nicholson their best wishes before leaving for home. Mr Nicholson has been in this district only a few months in the employ of Mr J. Firth and has a brother-in-law the trenches and has had a brother-in-law killed at the front.

Mr T. Greenwood received a telegram from his son John at Bearbrook, saying he was going to the front as private secretary for a major. A short time ago word was received that he had enlisted as a private, but was rejected. A safe return is the wish of his friends.

Mr Campbell Davis, who has been visiting his many cousins around here, leaves Wednesday for Hamilton, en route to his home in Alberta.

Messrs Sam Edge and W. Cameron left Tuesday for their home in North Dakota, after spending the winter pleasantly with friends and relatives around here.

Mr Thos. Greenwood has purchased the Allan McKinnon property, east of upper town, the consideration being $2000.

Mrs W. G. Firth is holding a Red Cross sewing bee at her home on Thursday of this week.

Miss Eva and Mr Earl Ritchie are leaving this week for Bagot, Manitoba.

A Dream, a Prayer and a Prophecy

By J. S. BLACK

I had a dream the other night,
When I was half awake,
I thought I heard an "S. O. S."
From Germany to Hades,
I took my pencil in my hand,
A shaky hand at that,
And noted down the words I heard
And this is what was said:
"S. O. S. — S. O. S."
Most powerful Satan, your help I implore:
Will you kindly protect me from merciless foes?
They press me so reckless before and behind,
It makes me imagine I'm losing my mind.
Those rascally Frenchmen, they show me no pity,
They would not allow me to enter their city.
If you will turn up and give a hand in the fray,
One-half of the spoils you shall have for your pay.
I crave your approval of the nearby seas,
Being strewn with mines and destructive marines.
They are placed on my orders around the whole coast.
To destroy old scows and some fishermen's boats.
Those useless old boats—they are making me crazy,
They are causing much terror to the Head of my Navy.
They make my big war-boats to run for their lives,
That one day they fight may in some other place.
I pray for your help a disaster to shun
Ere my supplies of war are exhausted and done.
My men in the trenches are longing for rations,
With my people at home at the point of starvation.
So now dear Satan, just listen to me:
In exchange for your help, I shall worship but thee:
I am man interested in most of your game,
Our thoughts and our actions are almost the same.
The Prayer Answered
You foolish old Kaiser, I am sorry for thee,
You did not live up to instructions from me.
Your raiding on Belgium has opened a way
For the Allies to finally win out the day.
A check to our friendship was latterly made
By your murder of women and innocent babies.
You presumed on your powers in your limited sphere
To outclass your Master in your Hellish career.
Those innocent victims falling under your blows,
Will never show up in the regions below.
But seasoned old sinners like Hollweg and you
Are admitted in batches of many or few.
But as chums for some years and a slave to my will,
In success or reverse I shall stay with you still,
And whatever may happen to the rest of your crew,
I shall hold a hot corner awaiting for you.
