ARRIVED SAFELY IN ALTA.—In a letter received from Mr Wm. Leggett, of Rocky Sanges, who left about March 1st, he says: "We reached our destination all O. K. and drove out 35 miles on wheels over the prairie to Wm. Ed. Fitzsimmons and enjoyed the trip. Our town (Battle Bend) has a post office and a small store which is a dry town as regards milk. We are here a week to-day and like country and climate fine."

The High School Trustees in response to requests of citizens had set apart Friday next, 31st March, as a day when inspection of the new High School Building might take place. However the muddy surroundings of the school this week makes a general survey undesirable and an opportunity will be given later to gratify a natural curiosity.

A breezy letter from Mrs Geo. Marshall, daughter of David McCrie, says: "Good crops around here, 30 to 60 bushels to the acre. We had 200 acres 150 in wheat, rest in oats. Hard to get sale for it, as elevators soon fill and cars can't be had. We had to build a granary in town and store it there and sell it as we can. George makes three trips a week, four horses on a grain tank, containing 100 bushels. Worst winter here in 10 years, say old timers, 20 to 40 degrees below zero for a month." They are busy on Red Cross work there too, all well but her father, who is laid up with rheumatism for a month.

Whooping cough is prevalent among the children, nearly half of Miss Middlebro's room being absent with it.

An outbreak of rabies in Mono township has compelled the muzzling or tying up of dogs in Orangeville for two months.

The mayor of Barrie refused the Town Hall to Pastor Russell propagandists for the reason that Russell's influence is against recruiting. In Peterborough and other places the same action has been taken, charges even being made that he is a German agent.

STILL RISING.—And now it is the photo-engraving prices that are going up on the printers, as if rises in paper, type and ink weren't enough. They are reminded that chemicals and other ingredients required in producing engravings, are also used in the manufacture of munitions. After April 1st prices will go up about 200 per cent.

The strength of the 147th battalion to have it complete by April 1st, but this is now scarcely possible, 109 or more being yet required. John Derby, son of And. Derby, Bentinck, is the latest to join the ranks in this vicinity. Mr. A. Hawke, recently employed by Mayor Hunter on his farm, went to Owen Sound this week to enlist.

A chain of movings is taking place in town. Mr. F. Search and family are occupying the residence recently vacated by Banker Hogben, Mr. W. Rabb goes to Search's, Mr. Arn. Noble into Rabb's and Mr. W. Ritchie into the one vacated by Noble's. Mr. J. W. McKechnie is moving today, Wednesday to town to the house occupied by Mrs. Hopkins and owned by the C. P. R.

At a well attended meeting of the war auxiliary representatives of the Centre Huron held in Clinton last week, it was unanimously decided by resolution to ask the Dominion Government to adopt some form of conscription in raising the necessary battalions. Arrangements were completed for the return of the soldiers to assist the farmers to put in their Spring crop. A special list being made by the county war auxiliary to bring the list up to full strength, and this week a special canvass on the "catch up" plan is to be tried. The battalion at present shows over six hundred on the parade roll.

AN INTERESTING TEST.—Rev. Thos. Wilson, pastor of Knox Church, tried an interesting experiment recently with the idea no doubt of testing the receptivity of the members of his congregation of a Sunday morning and the clearness of his style of exposition as well as encouraging the habit of alert attention to what the pulpit has to say. Before announcing his text he stated that he would give a series of prizes for the best outline of his sermon. Pencil and paper were allowed except in the cases of three judges. It was Bible Society Day and Mr Wilson gave a talk on the origin, object and outlook of the British and Foreign Bible Society. His remarks were apparently well digested by the congregation, especially the younger members as a number of really excellent papers were handed in. Two prizes were given in each of three classes, grouped according to age.

NATIONAL ANTHEM.—To be rendered in quicker time. By special desire of the King the National Anthem is in future to be played more briskly by military bands. An order of the Army Council has been issued instructing military bandmasters that the tempo of the National Anthem is to be increased from crochet 90 to crochet 84. This means that the time value of the crochet will be an 8th part of a minute instead of a 9th. The order which cancels the regulation fixing the slower time was made, it is understood, because his Majesty and other members of the Royal Family have objected to a dirge like rendering. The National Anthem has been played before the King, who was pleased with the alteration and expressed his desire that it should be the permanent time.

The Lucknow Sentinel, with many other weeklies, has decided to advance its subscription rate to $1.50 per annum, beginning on July 1st, 1916. The editor says: "With everything that goes to the making of a newspaper, and almost every necessity of life practically double in cost what they were when the one dollar per year rate was established, it was impossible that the country newspaper should remain at the old figure. Men will not continue in a business which does not give average returns, and with the country weekly it has become a matter of go up in price or go out of business. To those who think this unreasonable we would say that it is no more unreasonable than that eggs which used to sell at from 9 to 14 per dozen should now be from 20 to 40 per dozen, or that hogs, which used to sell at 3 1/2 to 6c per pound should now be 8 to 10c per pound, etc. It is needless to multiply examples.

The Roll Call.

ARCH. LITTLE

Saturday last came the sad news to relatives here that Mr Arch. Little had died at Swift Current from heart failure. No details have come of his last illness, but he is being interred in the West. He left this neighborhood ten or twelve years ago settling in the neighborhood of Weyburn, but latterly has been in Swift Current.

He was about 70 years of age and leaves as chief mourners, wife and one daughter Jewel, now Mrs Manwaring. Five sisters survive him: Mrs. W. Clark, Bramford, Mrs Peter Simons, Hamilton, Mrs Alex McEwan, Mt. Forest, Mrs Thos. and Mrs Samuel McComb of Durham. Two brothers also survive: Adam of Disley, Sask., and Robert of Thornbury.

ROBT. PATON

The death took place at noon Wednesday of this Protton pioneer at the age of 89 years, 6 mos., who recently has resided with his daughter, Mrs. Robt Isaac, Durham. A short service will be held at his residence here at 3 p. m. Thursday and the remains taken to his son's, Mr Wm Paton, Artemesia, where the funeral will be held on Friday at 3 p. m. A fuller notice will appear next week.

WM. WATSON

One of the old residents of Glenelg in the person of Mr. Wm. Watson, McWilliams, died early Sunday morning at the age of 79 years, paralysis being the cause. Decided for the last few years has resided with his oldest son, Wm Robert on the home place. His wife predeceased him over three years ago and eight sons and a daughter survive to mourn his loss. These are: Thos in Nanton, Alta; Samuel, Joseph, Albert and Alfred in Sask.; Donald in Egrement; Geo Andrew and Wm Robt town line, Glenelg and Mrs. Jno. Andrews, about two miles from Holstein.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon to Durham cemetery, Rev Mr. Bowes, his pastor, conducting the services, assisted by Rev. Mr. Moyer, Durham.

FOR SALE.—New Clover and Timothy Seed.

Mr. A. Begg & Son.

While loading logs last Thursday a skid broke and one fell on Mr. Wm. Weir's leg, breaking it below the knee. He is recuperating finely though he will necessarily be laid off work for a couple of months.

NO DOMINION PROHIBITION.—After three hours of debate the Government forces in the House of Commons voted down by 66 to 46, a resolution introduced by J. H. Stevens, M. P., Van couver, for straight Dominion wide prohibition and adopted instead the amendment of R. B. Bennett of Calgary. That amendment moved on behalf of the Government, repeated the underlying principles of the Doherty bill and left the whole liquor question with the Provincial Legislatures. The vote, while in the main dividing along party lines, was marked by a considerable breaking away from party lines. Six Conservatives voted against the Government and four Liberals voted for it. R. J. Ball, M. P. for South Grey voted for the amendment.

Government Inspection of Hogs

Farmers the Losers

Sellers of live hogs in Durham are likely familiar with the deduction of one-half of one per cent to cover, it is alleged, costs of Government inspection. In the Ottawa House on 10th March the question was brought up by McCuaig, M. P. for W. Kent and Mr Hazen, acting Minister of Agriculture, said the import was not for government at all. Government inspection was free and any amount so collected went into the pockets of buyers packers.

A Bentinck farmer who had paid this tax wrote direct to Ministers of Agriculture at Ottawa and Toronto, and replies from both agree that the farmer is the loser. The Ottawa letter says: "The money which is thus deducted from the purchase price of the hogs is retained by the purchaser and in no way goes to cover the cost of Government inspectors, their salaries being paid by the Dominion Government. It is misleading to state that one-half of one per cent is deducted for Government inspection; such is not the case."

If it be true, as alleged, that buyers in some neighboring towns and villages are not charging this impost, than an injustice is being done to farmers trading here, which should at once be remedied. Mr McCuaig, M. P., estimates that $180,000 has been collected from farmers in the past season by this toll, a custom, he says, "that has arisen the last year or two."

A farmer who sells 10 hogs averaging 200 lbs at 10 cts a lb, gives value for $200.00 and this he should get without deduction.

Inaugurate our New High School

Durham has now a genuine High School and teachers and scholars take possession of its rooms shortly. Some years ago when Dr. Waugh, then High School Inspector was here, he emphasized the great need of such a building here which gave rise to the remark that when we had one, it would be considered a great educational achievement.

Now, it is here, and we are to let this "achievement" pass quietly by with not even a speech to commemorate the month and year? It should properly be considered a milestone in Durham's educational life and fittingly observed by securing some well known educationist to open as well as speak at the inauguration of this handsome building.

Inoculating the 147th Battalion.

Owen Sound, March 21

Inoculation, which has proved to be such a troublesome proposition in so many training camps, is proceeding merrily in the 147th Grey Overseas Battalion at Owen Sound. The men are treating inoculation and vaccination in a light vein and everyone, officers and men in the realm alike, have been taking the needle with a smile. In fact a visit to the town hall on an evening when inoculation is going on is as good as a concert, and the occasion always gives birth to a number of original jokes on the subject of the Medical Officer and his little hypodermic mechanism—in addition to the usual stereotyped jokes. But then a company of soldiers is always in good spirits, at least the 147th boys are. There is nerve to spare among them. And it is indicative of the spirit which pervades the battalion to find the officers and men of the battalion mingling together for their inoculation, jolly one another with the most cheerful will and camaraderie, making an enjoyable evening of what might otherwise be a long and tedious undertaking fraught with misgiving on the part of any who might unfortunately be somewhat loath to be inoculated. Taking as a typical example Tuesday evening when "B" Company, Captain Mercer, was pumped full of anti-typhoid germs.

On this occasion the Medical Officer, Capt. Howe, assisted by his dispenser and by Lieut. Joyce, inoculated over two hundred men in an hour and a half or a little better. A dab of iodine on the left upper breast and the squirt of a cubic centimetre of the preparation, one-half billion of germs—an absolutely painless operation—and it was all over. In a week or ten days the next application will be given and with a billion beneficent little germs rioting through their healthy, robust bodies, the soldiers of the 147th will be able to laugh at typhoid fever, one of the most fatal scourges among the diseases which strike armies.

It is worthy of note that in this battalion the process of inoculation is carried out much more speedily than in probably any other battalion in the district, everything being thoroughly prepared beforehand. And owing to the fact that the soldiers have been carefully warned what to do after getting the shot of germs, there has been virtually no after trouble. The men are given twenty four hours off drill following their inoculation and this gives them ample time to recover from any effects, though, as a matter of fact, about all that happens after anti-typhoid inoculation is that the person taking it may become drowsy for a short time, an hour or so.

It is hardly necessary to remark that the men who have been inoculated make much of it at the expense of those who are still to have it and ones who have been "needled" exaggerate the effects both immediate and ultimate and great is their joy if they can find a rookie whom they can impress sufficiently with the gravity of the operation. But it is good natured ragging and is enjoyed.

No one in the battalion is exempt from the needle, from Col. McFarland down everyone must taste it, and when one of the officers is being inoculated, advantage is taken of the occasion by many of the men to offer him advice, such as "Hold your breath, it won't hurt half as much then. 'It's all right when he don't run the needle 'straight in.'" "He has a double dose for you—he told me he had." "You are a big fellow, it'll take a billion for you, e. c., etc."

Since Saturday morning last we have enjoyed unusually mild weather for March and the snow is quickly absorbed in the melting pot. Some farmers are already attacking the trees for sap.

"We want some woman in Durham who is a society worker, to act as our representative and to look after our and renew subscriptions. We will make the work easy, pleasant and very profitable. Our terms are very liberal and the proceeds will be very acceptable to you and your favorite patriotic society. Write at once for terms and reserved district." Canadian Home Journal, 451 Richmond St., W., Toronto.
