At McGillivray's garden party Tuesday evening, Lorne Allan had the dashboard of his buggy broken and the seat somewhat smashed by a horse which had jumped upon it, it being left with the other rigs in the yard while the crowd was hearing the program.

CANADA APPRECIATES.—A friend in Rochester, Mrs. F. McDonald, (nee Grace Hall of Guelph) sends us evidence of war activity among the ladies of Rochester, not surpassed in Canada. It is a list of articles, pillows and pads, towels and trousers, shirts and soap, and socks and suits and sheets, 20 kinds in all and of these 22nd January no fewer than 4726 articles have been sent. The Lord reward them for kindness of heart.

WOMEN LEARNING.—The Government Speaker, Miss Duncan, of Toronto, addressed the ladies of the Women's Institute in the Library here on Tuesday. Her topic, which was well handled and presented, was "Conditions as we find them and how to improve them where faulty," taking instances from the marketing of eggs, butter and milk, handling of bread, &c. She outlined improvements that might be effected in schools and their grounds, church welcomes to strangers, training girls along household lines, keeping household accounts, &c. The address was much enjoyed by the large number of ladies present.

FRUIT PROSPECTS.—An official circular says: In the Georgian Bay district apple trees are in good condition. The fruit has set well and the weather is favourable. There is some danger of the trees being overloaded and the fruit consequently small. This danger may be offset by a heavy 'drop' in the near future. Very little spraying is being done. In Western Ontario considerable scab is showing and there is a prospect of much damage from this source. The crop will be good where spraying has been thorough. Between Toronto and Hamilton there will not be more than a fifty per cent crop. Baldwin gives best promise; spies and greenings light. Scab is prevalent. Some well drained orchards promise a fair crop.

June Nuptials.

KERR—CALDWELL. A very pretty event of widespread interest was the wedding on Wednesday, 28th June, of Mr Norman J. Kerr, of Varney, to Miss Myrtle M. Caldwell, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr and Mrs Wm. Caldwell, 3rd con., Normanby. From far and near the guests assembled until over two hundred witnessed the solemn ceremony, which was performed by the bride's uncle, Rev. Henry Caldwell of Waterford, the bridal party taking their place beneath a beautiful arch of evergreens, flowers and white wedding bells at the front of the house.

The bride was given away at 5 p. m. by her father to the start of the wedding music, played by Miss Janet, sister of the groom. She was assisted by her cousin, Miss Mabel Farrier of Hillman, Mich., and Mr Jno. C. Kerr, the groom's brother-in-law. Normanby. Little Lydia Caldwell, Waterford, was a charming flower girl. During the signing of the roll Miss Janet Kerr sang "Some day when you are mine." Following the ceremony, the young couple were showered with good wishes, the kodak artists got busy and an excellent and most sumptuous wedding repast was served on the lawn, a handsome four-story wedding cake gracing the bride's table.

The bride, one of Normanby's most attractive maidens, was becomingly attired in charmeuse satin andorgette crepe, trimmed with rosebuds and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses. Her travelling suit was of Belgian blue, with white hat. The bridesmaid wore a blue dress of silk crepe de chine, a bewitching array of useful and beautiful gifts was the token of the popularity of the young couple, the presents taking the form of gold pieces, furniture, china, silverware, etc. To the bride the groom presented a fine wrist watch, to the bridesmaid a gold brooch set with topaz and pearls, to the groomsmen, a tie pin, to the organist, a gold necklace set with pearls, and to the flower girl, a gold pendant.

Among the guests present from a distance were Mr Chas. Caldwell, a cousin, from New York City, and Mrs. S. Caldwell, Alliston; Mr and Mrs Scott, Alma; Mr Ed. Farrier and daughter.

GLENGLEND BAPTIST GARDEN PARTY.—Though scarcely equal in numbers to last year, a large crowd assembled at Mr James McGillivray's, Guelph, at the annual garden party Tuesday night. A toothsome and abundant supper was provided and an A program followed, with Mr Geo. Binnie in the chair. Regret was felt over the pastor's absence, Rev. W. Wylie, who was suddenly called to Hamilton. The leading numbers on the program were an eloquent address by Rev. M. Whaley on "National Heroism," and a splendidly executed patriotic drill by fifteen girls of Durham Baptist church. Mr Geo. Ritchie and sons furnished fine violin music, the Guelph Choir two much-appreciated numbers, Mr Angus McCormick stirring bag-pipe music, Mr Theo. Fallaise a well-rendered solo. The booth did a rushing business, taking in nearly $40, while with the gate, the gross proceeds were about $85.

Ontario Military Hospital, Orpington, Kent, June 29th. Dear Home Folks,—Just a few lines to-night while I have a few minutes time to spare. I am well and hope you are all surviving the series of diseases that are being let down upon us at this time. The Irish emigration has quieted a stir. 'Punch' says "Hell is the place for Society, Heaven is unprepared for climate and scenery, but Ireland has them all beaten for agitators." Any 'Jigger' can rail the Irish temper and stir up a lull in the news concerning the sea fray becomes better and the drooping leathers on our hats rise and look up a little. Still, there is a feeling existing that the English Navy should have come out better than she did on that occasion. But I suppose we must give the devil his due too, for Germany has certainly been and seems to be more than ever an unbeatable foe. When the first news of the great battle dribbled in, 4 days delayed, there was certainly despair broadcast. One of my chums was in London that evening and was at Charing Cross station about to return home when the news spread like lightning that the British had been beaten—16 vessels down to the German 5. He says he never saw any English man-of-war in the field. The English Navy should have given way in many places and some people were weeping and wringing their hands. A few exclaimed that the Empire was becoming a wreck and that Germanism would soon be prevailing all over. The hope of long expected victory and what appeared to be the defeat of the fleet had settled in their breasts and was the breaking point to accept the news that the defeat has been turned into a fine victory but were becoming accustomed to it somewhat when the destruction of the Hampshire with Lord Kitchener on board, again spread a dark shadow over all and seemingly we don't know where we are at. The second disaster (Kitchener's death) though leaving a nasty brown taste in one's mouth, has been the bait to make all grit their teeth once more and everybody is determined that Germany will not be the gayer by the losses they have inflicted on us. No matter who the next war minister may be the motto will continue to be "Business as Usual" here.

destroyed. Orders were given that the books were to be dipped in a solution to obliterate the writing entirely and to be used over again. Such orders will hold in all schools in the British Isles. In our own mess room, bacon is served at breakfast but 3 times a week now as a result of recent orders. This forced conservation of supplies does not indicate hard times here, but really a check on unnecessary expenditure, as the money can be put to serve a better purpose. The first convoy of patients arrived here last night. They were about 200 altogether and most of them had received wounds in the recent fierce fighting in France. The casualties include our own men, Canadians, New Zealanders, New Zealanders and Australians. I have spoken to a few of them and all say that the present German attacks on our lines are without a parallel. The enemy's artillery is simply terrible and never ending. One of the Canadians who was also through 3 years, over a year ago, states that the battles on that occasion were a paradise to his own and that the enemy is inflicting no torment on the allied lines now. The wonder is that the troops can stand it. We have no definite information as to casualties among the Canadians but we know they are enormous. The London papers publish the list of officers among the Colonial casualties—not the men. But we can judge by the great number of officers killed and wounded among our troops that many a brave company of men had been decimated. Report has it that the Princess Pats, reinforced by University companies, have been almost completely wiped out. It is almost certain that two Canadian brigades (8000) are down and out. What truth there is in this, I am uncertain, but I expect that it is not all lies by any means. The list of casualties appearing in the London papers for the Imperial troops and Colonial officers, covers never less than a column and a half of space daily, packed tight in small print. Asquith's statement that the wastage of the army amounts to 15 per cent of its strength in the field per month, is undoubtedly correct.
