MEET SHOW UNION JACK TOP.—An American tourist in London, Ont., was observed by Assistant Provost Marshall Barrett flying the Stars and Stripes on his car without the Canadian ensign. According to an old statute, the American flag may not be flown in the Dominion without the Canadian flag. The official called the tourist's attention to the fact and he immediately offered profuse apologies and dashed into a nearby store to purchase a Canadian flag, which he immediately placed beside that of his own country on the car. The tourist, explained that he was ignorant of the law and that he was a strong ally sympathizer, but that he had not the Canadian flag in Canada should accompany that of the United States.

Get Ready for the Fair

Fair lists are out for S. Grey Fall Fair. Every one should secure a copy at once and prepare a list of entries they intend to make and pass to Secy. Binnie in reasonable time beforehand. If later, something is discovered to have been omitted, a new entry can be made. If weather or other conditions prevent you making good all you entered for no harm is done. The point is make ready now.

Reckless Driving

Policemen with stop-watches got busy on Owen Sound streets the other day and a number of persons were up for undue speeding on public highways. Magistrate Cressor imposed heavy fines in nearly every case declaring reckless driving would have to stop. Markdale we are told has placards out forbidding a higher rate than ten miles an hour within village limits. Some past the Review office at a speed of 25 to 30 miles an hour, and collisions and near collisions seem to call on our Council for restraining action of some kind.

Colonel Denison, the veteran police magistrate of Toronto, is a man who says what he means and means what he says. There may be those who think the Colonel was only joking when he declared in the city police court the other day that automobile speeding would never be stopped until some of the drivers were hanged. It is certain that some severe sort of punishment will have to be resorted to if the reckless speeding of autos is not stopped. A nominal fine does not appear to have the desired effect. A term in jail without the option of a fine would do more to check the practice than anything else. The great majority of automobile accidents that take place are due to fast and careless driving, and the only way to put an end to the practice is to make so severe the punishment that offenders will be compelled to observe the law.

The Roll Call.

ROBERT COCHRANE
Robert Cochrane is no longer with us. After about four weeks' illness on Friday morning he passed away at 83. Always a healthy man, when illness did grip him, it gripped him hard and he succumbed.

Deceased was born at Eggleston, Scotland, and came out with his parents in boyhood, residing for a while near Hamilton, before coming to the "bush." When about 18 years of age he penetrated into Bruce Co. and did pioneer work there for a few years, returning then to the farm near Varny where his parents died at an advanced age. Nineteen years ago he moved to Durham.

He has lived retired from business for these years, but was far from retiring in disposition. He spent his time between his own home in upper town and at his daughter's, Mrs. S. F. Morlock's, but he was often around town, and his genial presence was missed from our streets, where so lately he was always in evidence. He was a member of the town council and meetings. His interest in town affairs was always great, and though at times citizens differed from him on public questions, no one doubted his sincerity.

While at Paisley he married a daughter of the late Alex. Hunter of Durham who predeceased him by 18 years. Of this union there survive one son Alex., for many years in the west and three daughters, Mrs. Robt. Gray, Ft. William, Mrs. S. F. Morlock, Durham and Miss Kate in business here. He is the least of his generation, his brothers Alex., (first mayor of Durham) and Adam, were very prominent in early Durham life, the latter later being long in business in St. Thomas. Another brother Roderick lived at Brampton.

It would be impossible to write of Robert Cochrane without a reference to his love of certain sports: bowling, curling, quoits, and those who have played with him, will testify to his fairness and skill. A game of checkers in a quiet hour he would never refuse and he was a good player too. He was full of reminiscence love of town and neighborhood, and, given a historian, he could reproduce the past with some thrilling or amusing story.

Presbyterian in religion, he was a regular attendant of the house of God. In politics he adhered to the Liberal side. Interment took place on Sunday afternoon to Durham cemetery, a very large concourse of citizens being in attendance. His pastor, Rev. Mr. Whaley, was at Tavistock on his holy days but hearing of the death and that the other resident ministers were all absent, very kindly volunteered to come. He conducted impressive services, speaking of deceased's character and deportment as a regular attendant at Divine worship, never once he thought absent at morning service since he became pastor.

The members of council were all present. The pall bearers were Mayor Hunter, J. P. Telford, Gilbert McKee, Wm. Calder, Dr. Hutton, S. McCracken.

Many beautiful floral offerings surrounded the coffin, one beautiful wreath being from the bowlers' and curlers' club.

Haggart Cochrane, son of Adam, arrived in town Friday but too late to see his uncle alive. He was quite recently in Germany and had a thrilling time getting home.

NATHANIEL WHITMORE
On Monday last, 21st August, the above well-known gentleman passed away at his home in Glenelg after suffering some time with kidney trouble. He was in his 77th year.

We are promised a full account of deceased for next week's issue, but may say that he was a member of a large and well-known family of seven or eight brothers, only two of whom remain, John of North Egremont and George of Durham.

Interment takes place to-day to Trinity Church cemetery.

Great Attraction for So. Grey Fall Fair.

The Secretary of the South Grey Fall Fair, Mr. Geo. Binnie has been advised that the Dominion Experimental Farm will make a large exhibit at the Fair in Durham on September 28th and 29th, of the products of all the Agricultural Stations all over Canada, but collected probably largely from the north and west.

There will be a Demonstrator in charge who will answer all enquiries about the different exhibits.

This should be an extremely interesting exhibit to the farmers of South Grey and indeed to everybody who is interested in the welfare of the country.

A similar exhibit was shown at Dundalk Fall Exhibition in 1915 and proved of great educational value. This will give a new boost of interest to our excellent Fall Fair.

A Day at Camp Borden

Tuesday last was a County Grey Day at the big camp, the occasion being the presentation to the 147th Grey Battalion of a fine set of colors, the gift of the County. The actual presentation was made by Mrs. Cordingley, wife of the Warden, who made a speech, referring to the pride which the county had taken in raising the battalion and hoped the colors would be returned with honors to the Town Hall. Mayor Little, of Owen Sound, C. S. Cameron, M. P. N. Grey and Dr. Mearns, Hanover, also made brief addresses. Each man in the unit is to receive two pairs of socks, gift of various ladies' county organizations.

The Globe says fifty motor parties came from Co. Grey, four at least of these went from Durham, two from the Garage, one from Noble's livery and Herb. Hunt. Amongst those going we have heard of are Rees and Mrs. Catton, Messrs McElraith, Lloyd, J. W. McKechnie, F. Lewis, Mrs. E. H. Richardson, Mrs. Robt. Lindsay, Mrs. Livingston, Misses Clara Greenwood, Mae McGowan, Vivian and Zell Crawford, Susie Dargavel (Warton), Annie McGirr, Maude Kress, Winnie Blyth, Audrey Livingston.

The visitors were well entertained to both dinner and supper to excellent viands. A special windstorm gave them a sample of the discomforts of sand permeating even to the butter and the ice cream. The visitors seem to have enjoyed every minute of their stay, our own boys of course being delighted to do honor to their friends from home and neighborhood.

All were duly impressed with the magnitude of the camp and the difficulties that are being gradually overcome. The "boys" are elated at present, as they have got information somewhere that they are slated to move soon overseas.

Sir Sam Hughes was represented by Mr. F. B. McCurdy, Parliamentary Under-Secretary, who is assuming the duties of Min. of Militia. He came unexpectedly and made a nice little speech as follows:

"I consider myself proud to happen into Borden when this was taking place," he said, in a brief address. "I will not keep you standing in the sun for any length of time, but I would not allow the battalion to go overseas without expressing my good wishes to the officers and men," he said.

"There is not a better battalion in Camp," interrupted Major-General Logie.

"In the ordinary course of events you will be warned for overseas in the near future. Good-bye, good luck, God bless you," he briefly concluded.

The Mr. Forest Business College gives superior training, the same as given in the Central Business College, Stratford, and the Elliott Business College, Toronto. The principal, L. A. Fleming, was for four years Vice-Principal of the Stratford School, so that all students this year will be assured careful and competent instruction in the different branches.

In a recent examination, out of 1000 "separations," i. e. allocating so many post offices to their respective postal lines, he had 999 correct which was a record and brought him promotion. Mr. Roberts, while quite deaf, can make himself understood verbally.

First Aid to the Kidneys

Unless you are a physician or a druggist, you have no idea how much kidney trouble there is. Elderly people suffer the most, because they have neglected themselves most.

The time to treat kidney trouble is when it is first suspected, thus preventing it, usually from growing more serious. The best "first aid to the kidneys" is which contains Buchu, Sam Palmetto, Corn Silk, Couch Grass, Uva Ursi and Potassium Acetate.

Penstar

Buchu & Palmetto Compound

Any one who knows will tell you that science has no yet revealed any better combination of kidney remedies for acute kidney troubles.

A fifty cent bottle will show you its value, but the dollar size is more economical. Sold in Durham by
