Golden Wedding of Mr and Mrs James Matthews
The above worthy couple received one of the pleasant surprises of their lives when on Wednesday of last week 13th September, their family, three sons and three daughters with their wives and husbands and eighteen grandchildren, assembled at their home in Durham to celebrate with them their golden wedding day. Two other guests present were Mrs. Wm. Lee, only sister of Mr. Matthews, and Mrs. Geo. Hepburn, eldest sister of Mrs. Matthews, who were also present at the wedding fifty years ago. Much regret was felt at the absence of Mr. Merchant who is on business in the west and also at the absence of Rev. Mr. Hawkins who was away to London on business.

The wedding of fifty years ago took place at the home of the bride in Egremont near Barber's Corners, the officiating clergyman being the late Rev. Wm. B. Evans, Rector of Trinity Ch. At 12 o'clock noon, Mr. and Mrs. Matthews were called upon to stand forth when an address was well read by little Miss Tena Merchant of Yeovil and a presentation of gold coins made by little Miss Jessie Hooper and Amanda Matthews, all three being grandchildren of the couple.

On behalf of himself and his wife, Mr. Matthews made a very fitting reply and after receiving the congratulations of the entire party, all sat down to a splendid wedding dinner, the table being graced with a three-story wedding cake appropriately decorated.

After dinner Mr. Kelsey took a photo of the group. A few pleasant hours were then spent in the parental home when all took their departure for their own homes, much pleased with the day's unique event.

Following is the address; Dear Father and Mother,— We, your children and grandchildren, have assembled here today to celebrate with you your golden wedding day. We consider this to be a great privilege which God in His goodness has bestowed upon us and upon you in that we are permitted to be present here today and to commemorate with you the fiftieth anniversary of your wedding day. We would also remember in your body, the gentle sister, the loving brother, but we do feel that they are present in spirit and that Heaven is not a place afar off but very near to us.

Fifty years we know has held for you its days of sunshine and days of sorrow; you have drunk of the bitter and of the sweets of life. God hath intermingled the evil and the good to develop in you true manhood and womanhood.

In token of our deep regard and strong affection for you we ask of you to accept this gold, not for its actual value but as a testimony of our good will toward you. We pray God that there are yet many years of health and usefulness laid up for you and that the evening of life may be pleasant and peaceful and when it pleaseth God to take you, may you find the evening and morning to be the first day.

Ye editor adds his felicitations, and hopes to repeat them at the diamond wedding in 1923.

Priceville Couple Married Fifty Years.

All the members of their family were present to take part in the reunion: they are Oscar, Eli, George, Mrs. Searlett, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Eckhart, a pleasing feature of the occasion was the presence of four generations Mr. and Mrs. Warner from the township of Luther were present, Mr. Warner is a brother of Mrs. Ostrander and was present at the original wedding in 1866. In the absence of Rev. F. W. Bowes of the Methodist Church who is away on his holidays, Rev. J. A. Matheson of the Presbyterian Church took his place. After a most sumptuous supper a social time was spent during which congratulations and addresses were given.

Hymeneal
REAY—McDONALD
A quiet wedding was celebrated on Thursday, 14th of September, 1916, the contracting parties being Mr. Harry Reid of Bentinck, to Miss Teenie McDonald of Durham. The wedding took place at the Presbyterian Manse, Rev. Mr. Whaley officiating in the presence of a few friends of the principals. The young couple will make their home on the groom's farm in Bentinck, where the best wishes of many friends will follow them. The Review will be excused for offering special felicitations to the bride, who for a number of yrs. was a valued member of the staff, winning the esteem of her employers for diligence, ability and faithfulness to duty, coupled with an agreeable disposition.

Died in Salt Lake
A clipping from a Montpelier paper, sent us by Robt. McDonald, known to many in Glenelg, tells of the death of his daughter, Mr. McDonald is 94 years of age and the loss of the daughter he has lived with so long will be a serious blow to him. The veteran still remembers old friends here, though the number remembering him must be getting small. He will now live with his daughter, Mrs. Hartman:— Miss Catherine McDonald, sister of Mrs. J. T. Hartman of this city, died at her home in Salt Lake, Friday morning, Aug. 18. Death was due to heart trouble, with which she has been afflicted for two years or more. Miss McDonald was a native of Ontario, Canada, but had resided in the United States for quite a number of years, having been a resident of Salt Lake for 12 years.

The remains were brought to Montpelier last Saturday, and the funeral services, conducted by Rev. C. F. Wheeler, were held at the home of Mrs. Hartman, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Deceased is survived by her father, who is 94 years of age, two sisters, Mrs. J. T. Hartman, of this city and Mrs. M. O. Morey of Chicago, and a brother, Mr. A. McDonald, who resides near Salt Lake.

Obituary
MRS. ALEX DUNCAN
Regrets were felt last week when word was received in Durham that Mrs. Alex Duncan, of Galt, had died in Toronto hospital, following an operation for appendicitis. Besides her husband she leaves two sons and three daughters as chief mourners. During their stay in Durham, the Duncans made many friends.

Enjoying Home Comforts
Somewhere in Belgium
The following brief letter received by Mrs. R. Marshall this week from her son, makes vivid experiences at the front:
Dear Mother,—
Well, we had some spread tonight for supper! I got that swell big box with the cherries in it and I sure enjoyed them. One of the other fellows in my room got a box of cigarettes and cigars, so we ate first then sat and smoked cigars. I gave our O. C. a dish of cherries for his supper and he thought them swell.
I am raised to the rank of Sergeant now Mother, so you can address my letters Serg. C. A. Marshall. I have enjoyed myself during my six days out of the trenches. We do nothing but sleep, eat, smoke and write letters.
You should see the rats in the trenches! Big as cats, and tame, and as thick as bees. We do not mind them now at all! It has been raining now two days steady and the boys in the trenches are up to their knees in mud. I g't letters from Will, Marion and Janet which I must answer soon.
Caldwell.

Of course it is not wise to stand on a crossing and get knocked down, but nevertheless it is your privilege to walk on that crossing and the car must stop if necessary to let you pass.—Ex.
