DOWN TOPICS

Bread climbed up to 8c per single loaf in Durham.
SOME NEWS—An advertisement reads: "For Sale—A good hen now laying eggs, also new potatoes, fence posts and ruset apples."

POTATOES.—A car load of potatoes expected in a few days. Leave your order at the store.
Mrs A. Beggs & Son.

The local drug stores will close at 6.30 p. m., commencing next Monday evening, Oct. 16, but will re-open them on the arrival of the G. T. R. train for the evening papers.

October horse fair will be held in Durham on Thursday, 19th instant. Buyers were numerous last month—16 of them, and buying was brisk. Bring the horses in early and thus make sure of a sale next Thursday.

"MISSING"—Mr. and Mrs. H. Patterson, of east Glenelg, have had grief thrust upon them and much anxiety, by the receipt of an official telegram informing them that their son Goldwin has been missing since Sept. 17th. We hope the torturing uncertainty may soon be ended by the receipt of hopeful news.

FOR SALE.—In south end of R. Matthews' residence, upper town; cook stove coal or wood, sideboard with large mirror, 2 rocking chairs, extension table, centre table, sewing machine, iron bed springs and mattress, dresser with mirror, washstand, Call and see these articles. All must be sold at reasonable terms for cash. Good bargains.
MRS. CASWELL

The Lockwood Sentinel says:—Olivet Church congregation has just completed the most successful anniversary services in its history. The people were very glad to hear again Rev. S. M. Whaley, who eleven years ago was their pastor. The church was crowded to capacity Sunday morning and evening. Mr. Whaley delivering very able sermons on both occasions.

ALMOST THE $100.—The box social in the Township hall, Glenelg, on Thanksgiving night was a big success. It was under the auspices of St. John's R. C. young people and with a full house, $92.50 was realized. Under auctioneer McPhail's hammer, lively bidding took place for the boxes, the highest bringing $4.50. Before and after the sale, the night was passed in tripping the light fantastic and a merry gathering dispersed about 3.30 a. m.

Just three weeks after leaving Camp Borden for overseas, Lieut. Ferguson, recently of the 17th batt., has been wounded. His injuries are not serious. Lieut. Ferguson was a popular Thornbury officer, who trained with the 17th, and was sent ahead a few weeks ago along with Lieut. Tom Allan of Egremont in a special draft of officers, to reinforce battalions now in active service. Lieut. Allan is also on the firing line, attached to the 19th Battalion in France.

COMMUNION SERVICES.—Preparatory services will be held in the Presbyterian Church on Friday evening, 10 October, the service being conducted by Rev. Mr. Mills of Doroach. On Sunday there should be a rousing rally not only for the sacred service itself, but in addition, for the well-known Mission Socy. of the church Rev. R. P. McKay, of Toronto, who will conduct the services. He comes in fulfillment of a promise made to Rev. Mr. Whaley and the distinguished divine should be welcomed by a large attendance.

The Women's Institute met at Mrs. (Rev.) Whaley's Thursday last with a good attendance, notwithstanding the many who stayed away owing to the departure of the soldiers. Good and instructive papers were read by Miss Bella McGirr on "What we have to be thankful for" and Mrs. McCann on "Apples and ways of using them." A communication from the Women's Suffrage Association of Ontario was read and all signed a paper to be presented to the government, asking for the vote. Miss Winnie Blyth was elected Secy., as Miss Margaret McGirr, the former efficient Secretary is in Toronto.

SAVING GASOLINE.—Mr. Forest Representative: Clifford Drew, the enterprising, south end Mt. Forest barber, has invented an appliance for motor cars whereby the mileage on a gallon of gasoline is about doubled. He has applied for patents in the meantime in the United States and in having it manufactured in Mr. Forest. "Cliff" drives a Ford and had noticed that in damp weather the engine ran more freely and used less gas than on dry days. About a month ago he conceived the bright idea of making every day a damp day as far as the engine was concerned. Steam from the radiator was admitted to the gasoline entering the motor and the vaporizing process gave amazing results. Where he had gone running 22 and 23 miles on a gallon of gasoline he was able to get 40 miles. On the 1st of September he motored to Toronto via Guelph and Hamilton and made the trip (102 miles) on two and one half gallons of gasoline. Calder McGillivray measured the gasoline.

The Late John Weir.

One of the oldest settlers on the 3rd con. of Glenelg, E. G. R., passed from the scene on Sunday last: John Weir fell with the falling of the leaf and fell at the ripe age of 81. For several years past age and infirmities were telling upon him and death came at last, not as the king of terrors but as the gentle messenger of peace and rest.

Deceased was a native of Roxburghshire, Scotland, and came to Canada with his parents and family in 1852, and after some years in the neighborhood of Hamilton, moved to Glenelg where he married, his wife being a Miss Weir from the same old country neighborhood and she survives him. To them were born three sons and three daughters, five surviving: Adam in O. Sound, John in Egremont, Wm. on the home farm, Mrs. Jas. Atkinson, Toronto, Mrs. Jos. Atkinson, Glenelg. The daughter deceased was Mrs. W. J. Davis who died in 1902. His only surviving brother Adam lives in town.

John Weir was a man of more than ordinary intelligence. In the days of his physical and mental strength, one could not talk with him five minutes without discovering a superior intellect, a well stored mind, and altogether one whose judgement it was felt could be relied on. He was a Liberal in politics, Presbyterian in religion and a faithful attendant on ordinances in the days of his strength. He was one of the trustees of Durham Presbyterian church.

Interment took place on Tuesday to Trinity cemetery near by, Rev. Mr. Whaley, the pastor, conducting the mortuary services. The funeral was one of the largest ever seen in the district and many floral offerings testified of love and respect. The pall bearers were his three sons, Adam, Wm., John, three sons-in-law, Jas. and Jos. Atkinson, W. J. Davis.

A 23rd Anniversary

This is the measure of the corporate life of the Methodist church at Orchard at present under the capable care of Mr. Wm. Falkingham of town, and Sunday and Monday last it was fittingly observed; on the sacred day by earnest discourses by Rev. Mr. Stewart of Drev circuit and on Monday evening by a gathering of a social character, which was also eminently successful.

The church on Monday evening was crowded to the doors after the function of a fowl supper of an excellent character in the hall near by, was through. Dr. Jamieson, M. P. P., was in the chair and ably filled the position, by appropriate remarks. Rev. Mr. Ibbott, Holstein, gave an interesting patriotic address and equally so was that of Rev. Mr. Moyer of Durham. The local choir was at its best, winning commendation from the chairman and others and after dispersion it was generally voted that it was the best of all the anniversaries yet held. Proceeds of admission amounted to $52.00.

INDIANS SEE MILD WINTER.—Indians assert that the coming winter will be one of the mildest in recent years. They base their assertion on the following signs: The oaks have no acorns the squirrels are seldom seen, muskrats have not started to build, fur-bearing animals have thin coats, bark on poplar trees is loose. There are some other signs they go by for their assertions that the winter will be mild and short. They are seldom wrong.

A Thanksgiving Sermon.

Rev. Mr. Whaley preached a striking Thanksgiving sermon on Sunday morning finding reasons for thankfulness in directions not usually looked for. He gave due prominence to the temporal and material prosperity of our Dominion whose business in spite of war was increasing. Apart from this there was reason for thankfulness over recent victories at elections in Br. Columbia and Manitoba showing that the hearts of the people were sound. Leaders and governments were not primarily to blame for corruption but a class of voters who can never perform national duty without the hand being out.

The progress of the temperance movement gave cause for thankfulness but it was a slap in the face to God to consider it as merely a war measure. A return to license would make conditions worse than ever—a case of Ephraim joined to be idols. It was the duty of citizens to keep the law, help to enforce it and be sympathetic with those who have the habit.

It was cause of thankfulness that in this world war our people have not been found wanting, when nearly 400,000 have taken up arms without conscription. There was one blight or stain upon this record that in Quebec there are those whose aims and actions paralyze even the efforts of the government. He made an earnest appeal to all to enlist under the Recruiting Sergeant, Jesus Christ for how can we assure the boys that we believe in their fidelity if we have not enlisted ourselves under the banner of the Cross.

A Hearty Send-Off

Thursday afternoon last, the boys on leave from Camp Borden, had to catch the C. P. R. train to enable them to reach their battalion for the final move east to tide water. There was a tense feeling in many homes where boys were leaving, perhaps never to return, and this feeling pervaded the town. Small wonder then that an hour before train time, men, women, boys and girls, were found wending their way to the station where an impromptu open air meeting was organized.

Mayor Hunter presided and called upon Mr. Wm. Calder and Rev. J. Mills of Doroach and Wylie, Moyer and Whaley of Durham. All had encouraging words for the boys who were leaving, lauded their patriotism and had comforting words for the friends at home.

Mr. Whaley was in the midst of some eloquent utterances when the whistle sounded and from that on till all went aboard there were affecting scenes and many eyes suffused with tears, as they took a long tender good bye of loved ones soon to be far from home and home land.

The crowd at the station was admitted to be the largest ever seen here, numbering perhaps a thousand or more. That the boys are not forgetting home is certain for quite a number of cards have been received written on train or from "Somewhere in Quebec," etc. They are in good spirits, and, voicing the common feeling, we wish them all a safe transit to their new quarters where ever that may be, an opportunity to be useful, a share in final victory and a sweet and safe return.

Lets All Help

The British Red Cross Appeal which appears on page 8 of this issue should be met by a liberal response. The need is greater than ever. The successes of the Allies during the last three months, has produced an easy feeling that may have prompted a let-up in the giving. This must not be: these very successes, as the long casualty lists show are multiplying the work of the Red Cross agencies, and as the British Red Cross is a well organized and effective institution, looking after Canadians as well as Britishers, its funds should not be allowed to fail.

In 1915, the appeal realized $1,514,000 in proportion to the needs the 1916 appeal on 19th October (next Thursday), should be two million dollars at least.

Pomona budget arrived too late for publication. South-east Grey Liberals will meet in Durham on Monday, October 16th, to nominate candidates. F. F. Pardee, M. P. for Lambton, and Wellington Hay, M. P. P. for North Perth, will be the speakers.

It has been learned that Major E. L. Knight, whose sad death we reported last week, was in command of one of the British "Tank" armoured cars, that have done such effective work on the Somme front, when killed in action. Quite a number of these tanks, it is said, are officered and manned by Canadians. Major Knight had been in charge of one for some time and was referred to in a recent despatch "as a man of particular daring, and just the type that would be sent in charge of such operations as the tanks called for."
