PRICEVILLE VILLAGE

Mr and Mrs J. W. Jones spent the week end at the former's old home on the South Line.

Mrs N. McKinnon is visiting in Toronto for a week or so.
Stop! Look! Listen! There is to be a box social in Watson's Hall on Friday evening, March 16th. Bring your box and help to swell the funds. Good program prepared.

Miss Nicholls spent Saturday at her home near Dundalk.
Mrs Brander accompanied by Mr. and Mrs Fisher of Burlington returned to that place on Saturday last.

Two loads from here went to the box social at Top Cliff on Friday of last week.
Miss Annie V. McMillan has gone west for a couple of months.

PRICEVILLE AND LIMITS

Circumstances prevented us from giving anything in the shape of news in last week's Review. However, the good Cor. from Priceville gave all the happenings in the town and this week we will try and give some of what should have appeared last week.

The winter is passing by; time is on the march and March is on time and is always a reminder to us that we're a year older as we marched into this world on a cold, March night some time in the last century.

It is strange but a fact that the aged in general do not care to tell how old they are and it is not a mannerly question to ask an aged person "how old are you now?" but ask the young lad who is anxious to get up to manhood and, sometimes he will give his age more than he is, so as to be manly by casting his vote at an election, for a young lad cannot be allowed to vote until he's twenty one years of age.

We heard a good woman making the remark not long ago that if women are allowed the vote that they should have the privilege of running one of themselves as a member of Parliament, and as members of our different municipalities. How is it then? A man and his wife can vote at the same election and perhaps the wife would oppose her husband on different questions.

Top Cliffe Box Social

All the highways and byways led to Top Cliffe, Friday night, March 9th. The elements bore testimony that the cause was a charitable one for the moon shone in its brilliancy and highways were first class for either man or beast to travel, showing that the good people of Top Cliffe and vicinity were specially favoured, for if it had been this Saturday night the 10th, the elements are of a different nature. Miss Black the teacher, who was the promoter of the social, was in her best element for she felt specially favoured by having such a grand success. The crowd began to assemble shortly after seven o'clock in No. 10 School, Glenelg, till the seats and standing room was filled to the utmost. After all getting seated and those quietly standing, the audience was called to order. Reeve Arch McCuaig was voted to the Chair, a position ably filled in a double capacity—first by occupying the whole chair and having none of it vacant and secondly, by ably performing the duties of a chairman with such a large audience at his command.

The program, which was a large one, was ably opened by the school children, singing "We'll never let the old flag fall," while the teacher herself, acted as organist. We cannot promise to give the whole program but we'll give a synopsis of it. Bagpipe selections were given by such pipers as Dan McDonald, P. F. McArthur and young Angus McCormick, 16 yrs. of age only, and Fred Runeman and Chas McDonald, piccolo and violin and Mat McKeown on the organ. Vocal selections at intervals by W. Ramage, address by Rev. Mr Matheron, a recitation by Finlay Clark of Drumore, a good dialogue by the teacher and some of her pupils, some fine step-dancing by "Red Sandy" McDonald as supple as 20 years ago, and a good one on the Highlander by Mr John A. Black of Chesley, the teacher's father.

Mr Black felt quite at home for there he met a number of his boyhood chums which brought recollections of the past to his memory.
Miss Willa McCuaig gave a beautiful rendering of the Grey battalion song. Mr Neil McKinnon, South line aided as one of the violinists and as we were late getting there, excuse us if we have missed any.

Quite a number of the vicinity acted liberally by donating large sums previous to the social. The evening was getting far advanced and an about a hundred boxes were to be disposed of, Auctioneer McPhail was anxiously waiting to do his part of disposing them so the selling began. Bids were liberal and after all being sold and special donations counted the amount figured up to $326 which will be sent to Red Cross headquarters in due time.

The meeting closed somewhere near one o'clock, singing the National Anthem led by Mr Ramage after which all retraced their footsteps, through the fields or in sleighs, highly pleased that they gave liberally in supporting a good cause. A vote of thanks was given those who took part in the program and to those who contributed liberally otherwise.

A number of the friends and neighbors gathered at the residence of Mr and Mrs Roger McEachern on Monday evening, the 5th of March and each was presented with a rocking chair before taking their departure to their new home in Priceville. Mr and Mrs McEachern were both raised on the South line, Glenelg, and their many friends and old neighbors regret their removal from their midst. The evening was spent in a becoming manner after which all left for their several homes at somewhat early hours in the morning. Mr McEachern thanked the donors for the magnificent present given himself and Mrs McEachern. All left wishing them much happiness in their new home in Priceville. The following address was read by Neil Shortreed.

To Mr and Mrs Roderick McE chern, Dear Friends:
We have met at your residence this night a number of your neighbors in a two fold manner, first to congratulate you for your long experience of a happy life together on the South line, Glenelg—where both of you were raised from childhood, and secondly it is with feeling of regret that we are informed that you are to take your departure from our midst in a short while, and as an appreciation of your long career with us, we ask you to accept these chairs, which will remind you while sitting at ease, of your many friends on the South line, Glenelg. And now it concludes we all join in wishing you both a long life in your new home in Priceville. And as the shades of evening shall be overshadowing you in your declining years, May it be yours to bear the well done good and faithful servant.
Signed in behalf of the neighbors,
Archie McDonald,
Norman McIntyre.

Lightning was seen Saturday night last and accompanied by thunder.
Miss Cameron of Boothville, who was operated on for appendicitis over a month ago is improving.

Mr John McQuarrie, who has a broken limb the beginning of the winter is still keeping poorly.
Mrs A. McQueen is better and is slowly getting on.

Allen McLean who had a severe attack of sickness is able to go slowly about now after a long spell of ailment.
Pte Hector McDonald of the Canadian Buffs is still with his Company in St John's and may be there for a while yet before going overseas.

Another grand box social will be held in Priceville on Friday evening, the 16th inst., when it is expected a good turnout will patronize the good purpose there as well as other places on similar occasions. Good accommodation in Priceville for horses in the Pres. sheds.

Mr and Mrs Jones of Owen Sound spent a couple days at Mrs Jones' old home at her father's, Mr Hugh McKinnon's, South line, Glenelg.

Rev Mr Matheson and Donald McDonald are going to Orangeville to attend Presbytery on Tuesday.

SCOTCHTOWN

The farmers in Scotchtown are waiting patiently for sugar making-time. Miss Laura McMillan who has for the past three years been training for a nurse in Toronto, arrived home last week.
Mr P J Haley's sale on March 7th was largely attended.

Miss Elzie Beaton of Durham spent the week end at her home here.
Miss Lizzie McMillan Sundayed with her friend Miss Ada McMillan.
Mr George Black of Pomona visited friends in our burg last week.
Donald McMillan took advantage of the good weather on Tuesday last and had a wood-heap. A large pile of wood was sawed.

Mr and Mrs P J Haley Sundayed with Glenelg Centre friends.

BEAVER CREEK

Here we are again Mr Editor. Last week fine, it's Monday blizzard. Signs point to spring as crows have been seen.

Mr. Arch. McNab attended jury last week leaving on Monday. One had hardly time to turn round till he was home on Wednesday. No cases.
A number of box sales are and lately that at S. S. N. 1, Banrsson got a pair night hence not as regularly attended as might have been, but those who came enjoyed themselves.
Mr G. Banie was chairman and program good. Every body enjoyed the Baptist choir. Messrs Joe Gray, Jas Brown, Leonard and Matt. McKeown gave excellent violin music and Mr J Graham gave an excellent speech. The highest box went for $30 (29 lbs flour). Proceeds amounted to $105.

Well Mr Editor here is this week's budget. Sorry to say last week's news missed the mail and am afraid news will be turning stale or perhaps mouldy.

Mr P. J. Haley's sale of farm, stock and implements went well, cows ranging from $60 to $100. One cow with calf was sold for $104. Mr Haley had some first class young cattle and brought a neat sum. Mr McPhail is a first class auctioneer and if the price is there he'll get it.
