A Notable Lecture.

The Lecture in the Baptist Church on Friday evening last by Professor McCrumm of McMaster University, Toronto, was unique in its excellence and interest.

Prussia, said Frederick, must be the dominant state in Germany. Germany said Bismark must be the dominant power in Europe.

He showed in lucid manner, how their policy of "Peaceful Penetration" was aided by intrigue and espionage in S. America, South and East Africa.

Britain and other nations had done wrong, but they admitted it and strove to rectify it. Since the time of Frederick German policy has been glaringly immoral.

He made a telling comparison between the orders given to the masses of armies by German leaders and by Kitchener showing even in these German immorality and "Which is cultured, the Kaiser or Kitchener?"

Mr McCrumm has a splendid delivery, fine language and gives a lucidly interesting picture of the situation. The public are indebted to the Ladies' Aid of the Baptist Church for the treat of hearing the brilliant lecturer.

A Great Event

An event of tremendous import in world politics took place when the United States definitely ranged herself on the side of the Allies, and will give men, money and millions in unstinted quantities to help overthrow the murderous crew that at present rule in Germany.

Pressure on the West front by French and British continues and many important places are taken. In the East also, the Turks are retiring before advancing Russians and British.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Nettie Lennox is visiting for a fortnight with Guelph friends.

Mrs. Wm. Crawford has returned to her home in town after spending the winter months with Markdale friends.

Miss Mary McIlraith leaves Thursday to spend over Easter in Toronto.

Mrs. Alex. Rutherford is in Toronto for a few weeks visiting her sister, Mrs. Cushnie who is ill.

Mr and Mrs Arch. Hunter left Tuesday for Ottawa to say farewell to their son, Dr. A. W. Hunter of Vancouver, who is immediately leaving overseas as doctor to the 21st Seaforth Highlanders from his city.

Mr Edson Wolfe of the Royal Bank, Toronto, was home from Saturday Wednesday. He purposes enlisting on his return to the city.

Mrs. Rev. Whaley left Wednesday to visit her mother in Zorra for two weeks.

Mr. Arch. McComb of the cavalry section of the artillery unit in a Hamilton batt., is home for a few days to see his father, Thos McComb who has been quite ill. He expects to be his last leave home.

SIX AEROPLANES TO VISIT GREY.—Col. Rorke has practically completed arrangements for a flight of aeroplanes over Grey Co. touching at different centres, about the 1st of May.

They are coming directly to the first one of any portion of the County and will be of historical interest. There will be 6 machines in the squadron and the people of Grey will have Col. Rorke to thank for this visit of our aerial fighting forces.

Mr Angus Black has moved to his farm on the sixth. Angus and his family were good, obliging neighbors, and is all over a looker. There is sure sense. Our loss is the other's gain.

Farms are changing hands. Mr John Quillinan of Traverston has rented the old Tom Anderson homestead on the 6th and has moved there.

A great deal of sewing and knitting is being done for Red Cross. Ladies of Butean sewing circle met at the home of Mr Geo Binnie on Wednesday for the second time and it was a real busy meeting.

Mr Tom Timmins wintered a fine herd of cattle on the feed purchased last fall at the Meagher, said but will give him a fine picture of his time expiring with the lease of the late John Meagher and now Mrs. Dr. Oliver of Markdale is the proud owner of the best 100 acres in Glenelg.

The Saugeen river is at present at the high water mark, the snow disappearing very rapidly, but with the ice gone the great danger is practical over. The Rocky Saugeen was a little more furious, the current taking had fully 12 feet of the Traverston dam clean out, compelling Mr Ross, the mill man to close down.

BORN

IRWIN—To Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Irwin, Durham, on April 3rd, a daughter.

Last Call Comes to N. W. Campbell, B. A.

For 30 Years Inspector of Schools
—One of S. Grey's Honored, and probably its best known Citizen

With sorrow and an unwilling pen we find it our sad task to record the death of the above well-known gentleman, one of the best known men in South Grey. He died at his home in Durham, about 10.30 a. m. on Sunday morning, 1st April, 1917 aged 60 years.

For some months past he had not been in robust health and on examination by a specialist about two months ago the cause was found to be hardening of the arteries. Deceased was quite aware of the seriousness of the trouble but bravely and cheerily held his path of duty, declaring he would like to die in harness and he did.

Last week he made visitations at Dundalk and Markdale schools getting home Friday evening by late train, a little tired but seeing no ill effects. Saturday forenoon he met a committee of the Teachers' Association and was bright as usual, entering with zest into their work. Afternoon and evening also he was as free as usual. Sunday morning he remarked that he hadn't an ache or a pain, but later did have a reminder. He had morning worship with his family, and went up-stairs to get ready for church. He had just got to his room when he collapsed, falling heavily on the floor, the fall being heard by his son Ian, who rushed up to find him breathing but unconscious. He had entered on the last long sleep. Who could wish him a better death? To rise from his knees after approaching the public worship in God's house, and to be denied him, to be ushered into the unending Life with God himself!

Mr Campbell was a force for good in the community. He touched life at many points, and many days will pass before the activities with which he was connected will have a normal appearance. He was born in the township of Bentinck, near Aberdeen, of western Highland stock, got his primary education in the public schools and his aptitude in his studies marked his success in this sphere was an earnest of greater things to come. Rising steadily in his profession, he became before long an exceptional good English scholar at the Convention in early days he became marked for his insight into all branches of "English" and his ability to unravel the abstrusities of English Grammar brought him the sobriquet of "Infinite Campbell."

Striking higher he qualified for High School work and was equally successful there, teaching in Whitby High School for some years and taught in Ottawa Normal School. While still in Ottawa he was appointed Inspector of S. Grey schools and for some years he was the youngest Inspector in the Province. But "N. W." did not stop there, he tackled the languages and other work for his degree, securing the coveted "B. A." some years ago. The student he never left him: he was a student all his life, well-read up in current thought and his ability was recognized by the Education Board in many ways during the past 15 or 20 years. He has left his mark on the schools in S. Grey and will be kindly remembered by almost two generations of pupils.

Shortly after becoming Inspector he married the late Miss McDonald who deeply mourns to lose a man who was a happy one and blessed with three children. Will, the eldest son, being enroute to England to enter aviation service, and whose first letter from home will contain the tragic story of a loved father's death. Miss Isabel and Ian are at home. Archibald, a brother of deceased is in Toronto, and a sister, Mrs Henderson, lives in Port Elgin.

While the loss will be most keenly felt in the home which he loved, the loss to the community is not small. He was constantly in demand as a speaker and he had developed great platform ability. Occasionally he filled the pulpit of local churches, and temperance and every moral crusade found in him a friend. He was Chairman of Durham Public Library Board, was an elder in Durham Presbyterian Church since 1906, and for years has conducted a Bible class with great ability and acceptance and congregation that can not readily be replaced.

To many his death will be felt to be a personal loss. He has worthily lived, he has nobly died, and his memory will long be cherished. The Review joins with a very wide circle in extending sympathy to the bereaved family. The writer has known him for 34 years, and it was one of his (the writer's) pleasure, to discuss with him all sorts of questions and often to sit at his feet and listen. He was one of the most approachable of men, willing to give from his well stored mind or lend from his well selected library. Associated with him in school work, library work, social work, church work, we had ample opportunities to feel and be influenced by the impact of his character and lovingly we lay this tribute on his tomb.

The funeral on Tuesday was, as was expected, a remarkable demonstration of affection and respect. From Markdale, Dundalk, Hanover, Holstein, O. Sound, Mt Forest and from the areas included came friends and teachers to pay the last tribute. His pastor, Rev Mr Whaley had charge of the services. Rev. Mr. Campbell spoke briefly in eulogistic terms. Rev. Mr. Morris, the organist, gave the closing prayer and Lieut. Yule sang

Another Soldier Honored.

On Saturday evening last the home of Mr and Mrs R. Barbour, 2nd Con. of Egremont, was enlivened by the presence of a large number of neighbors and friends, met to do honor to their son James, who was on his last visit home before going overseas. A short program was rendered by local talent consisting of solos, instrumental music, &c, all of which was enjoyed. Mr Wm Allan as chairman, added much to the pleasure of the evening. At an appropriate time, the following address was presented: it explains itself, recipient gave due acknowledgment, and as there was a fine social hour, we were very much pleased to have spent before the hearty good byes were said.

Varney, 31 March, 1917
To Mr Jas Barbour,
Dear Friend,—We, your friend take the opportunity of sending an evening with you, before you go overseas with your Battalion, to engage in the great conflict which threatens the empire. You have no doubt had to make sacrifice to answer the country's call.

We very much appreciate your courage and willingness to respond to such a time of need, and engage with a ruthless and unscrupulous enemy, who wish to destroy the freedom of thought and action, as well as justice and honor of which we are so justly proud.

We would now ask you to accept this writ watch from us, also this shirt and pair of socks from St. Pauls Ladies Aid, as a slight mark of our appreciation for the service you are about to render for home and friends.

In conclusion we wish you a safe voyage overseas, good health and cheer, and that your efforts with the allied force may be blessed in bringing about a lasting peace and honorable in the sight of God.

Signed in behalf of the neighborhood.
Mr and Mrs Joe Lennox
James Mack.
