Advance in Food Prices.

That meat is 140 per cent. more costly in England to-day than at the commencement of the war is the statement made by Montague Gluckstein of London. "From June, 1914, to June, 1915," Mr. Gluckstein states, the general rise in food prices was per cent. By the end of April, 1916, the rise was 55 per cent. and by the end of April this year 97 per cent. That is the general average, but meat has advanced 140 per cent. since June, 1914, butter 80 per cent., and milk 100 per cent. milk 100 per cent."
