D. THOMPSON WOUNDED.—The official telegram reached Mrs Thompson upper town, last Saturday that her son Pte. David K., had been wounded on Aug. 27, and admitted to hospital with shrapnel wound in hand. Though painful the wound is fortunately not serious, and should be healed in a few weeks. David enlisted in and left here with the 147th battalion, and has also a brother in its ranks.

On Monday, Sept. 24th, the Anniversary Tea will be in the interest of the Red Cross. Hon. Dr. Jamieson, M. P. P. speaker of Provincial house will preside. An interesting program of songs and speeches will be rendered after the tea. Note Sept 24th.

A very pleasant and interesting meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs J. W. Blyth, Varney, last Thursday with quite a large number in attendance. Mrs C. Ramage gave an address on "What Women's Institutes are Doing" and also touched on "Conservation of Food" which is the Government's urging. Miss Annie McGirr gave a short report on the County Convention in Owen Sound but intends to give a fuller address next meeting. Miss Winnie Blyth and Miss Margaret Mende gave a pleasing duet and the former also gave an instrumental. A fine tea was served to members by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at Mrs C. Ramage's.

Is SERIOUSLY WOUNDED.—Mrs N. W. Campbell received another cablegram Tuesday, which leaves little doubt but that it is her son Will who was severely wounded. It stated injuries to be left fibula and right ankle broken, gun shot wounds, and several cuts and bruises. The presumption is that he has already been on active service in scouting or bombing work, and that his plane has been shot down. We trust the injuries will heal so as not to deprive him of what he will return home to Canada on discharge from hospital.

AREOPLANES.—Last Friday, a large number of people in Durham saw their first aeroplane. No fewer than six of them came into view about the same time going west. The noise of their engines was quite distinct, though some of them were high enough to be described by those who saw them: "like a big hawk or crane." On Monday last a truck conveying a crippled machine passed through Durham way again going to Camp Borden, and it has been learned that the six aviators were American flyers in training at Camp Borden, who had lost their way. Near Wingham they decided to land choosing a big field for the purpose. Four of them came down alright, one flew off a tree and the engine of the other went dead suddenly. None of the adventurous youths were hurt, but they ran long chances. The world moves fast these days: not so long since the automobile was a wonder and drew anathemas as a "devil wagon" now the world, largely as a legacy of the war, is to have wings and in time will be to members by the hostess. The next meeting will have and should have a different fate.

Judge Sutherland has requested Mr. A. A. Cutton to be one member of the local tribunal to consider exemptions under the Military Service Act. He has not as yet been appointed. Who will be his colleague if he accepts is unknown as yet.

A COUNTY CONVENTION.—Of the Sunday School Association of Grey County is to be held in Durham, on Wednesday, Sept. 26th inst., an occasion that should be of great interest to all engaged in Sunday School work. Mr. John Taylor, of Hanover is County Secretary and to him should be sent questions for debate and advice where difficulties exist.

Mrs. Edge was Miss Bella Binnie, third daughter of the late Thos Binnie, and wife of Glenelg, natives of and usually resident in Scotland, but who were residents of Northumberland, England, when and where the subject of this sketch was born. Her brothers, George of Glenelg, Thos. in B. C., and Rev. James Binnie of Parry Sound are well known and sisters are Mrs. W. L. Dixon and Mrs. John Weir of Egremont; Mrs Thos McGirr, Durham; Mrs. John Bell, Glenelg. She was married to Mr. Edge about 34 years ago and the union was one of the happiest. A family of seven daughters and one son were born to her, the son dying in infancy. The daughters are: Mrs. W. J. Ritchie and Mrs. Wm. J. Firth, of Edge Hill, Mrs. Thos. Firth, of Lindsay, Magge at home, Mary, attending University in Toronto, Alix, teaching at Colpoys' Bay, Edith teacher in Allan's School, Egremont.

Mrs. Edge was a devoted member of the Presbyterian Church and active in good works. In the community she lived in her worth was appreciated and many a day will pass ere her memory fades. But in the home she loved her loss is irreplaceable. To husband and children she was devotedly attached and the love was returned in like measure. To the mourners in that home there will be sincerest sympathy from a wide circle of friends.

Mrs. D. Edge Suddenly Called

More deaths of recent years have caused more wide-spread sorrow and regret than that of Mrs. Daniel Edge, wife of the Treasurer of Glenelg township. She passed away on Monday evening in Toronto General Hospital in the 59th year of her age. For some months back she has not been feeling well and went to Toronto for special examination about two weeks ago, and was told an operation would be necessary. However she came home then, the holidays were just closing, and her girls were preparing to leave for their schools. She went back last week, her husband accompanying and underwent the operation, which was the removal of some bowel obstruction. She rallied from the operation nicely, doctors were sure a permanent cure would be effected and family hopes ran high. Her daughter Mary came home from the West, Friday last and things looked so well that Mr. Edge came home and all through Sunday and Monday forenoon, hopeful news was received. On Monday afternoon a heart weakness set in and collapse came between 5 and 6 p. m.

On receiving the crushing telegram Mr. Edge determined to go at once to the side of his daughter in her sad position, engaging a car for a night ride to Toronto, and shoulder all responsibility. The remains accompanied by the mourners reached Durham Tuesday night and were taken to the home which she adorned, and now clouded in gloom.

Durham's Big Day

Harvest is over, the big city shows are over and it is now our own show that claims attention. The days are Thursday and Friday of next week, 20th and 21st Sept. Let everyone note them and make plans accordingly.
The Directors are striving to make a good show, but unless the public spirit of the community is at their back, they cannot do so. Farmers, gardeners, householders should secure a Prize List, and determine they will make entries in as many classes as possible.
We don't like to hear the sneer, "same old thing." It is not so, there is something new every time. Anyway it is good to relax, and to see your neighbor relaxing, and to have it borne in on you that life is not, as one of Dickens' characters described it "one demmition grind."
Durham and the four townships adjacent should get into the habit of looking upon it as "our show." Take a pride in its success, try for its prizes, and in any event determine to be there.
Mt. Forest Pipe Band, one of the best in Ontario, will be there. Besides the horses in action and ever enjoyable School Drills, there is to be a series of Foot Races for young and old and all that with the exhibition features, and the privilege of meeting friends you never meet elsewhere, is surely worth a few hours of your time and 25c.
Then the Concert at night, with the Harmonic Male Quartette of London as the chief attraction will be first class. Secure your tickets early as all know accommodation is never sufficient on Show night. Get a reserved seat and sit in comfort.

Memorial Services

Sunday morning last the Presbyterian Church was filled to capacity, even chairs in aisles, the occasion being a memorial service for Ptes. Jas. Coultis and Jas. Warrington, who have met death in the war since Rev. Mr Whaley went for his holidays. Two other deaths in the interval were also recognized, Mrs Chas Moffat and David Brown.
The pulpit was appropriately draped with the British flag, and other emblems of mourning were visible. The Honor Roll of 60 names, has now 6 stars opposite the names of the six whom war has claimed. The choir had specially appropriate music and a fine solo was contributed by Mrs Moore McFadden, who has marked musical ability and would be welcomed again, Sunday or week day.
Rev Mr Whaley took his text from Hebrews 11: 4 "He being dead, yet speaketh."
The chapter he said was God's muster roll of departed heroes, picked men of the ages, whose lips long silent in death can yet preach a message. Noble lives can not be entombed or put out of sight. Those whom we mourned have fallen in the great sacrifice of life for the greater thing of establishing right and justice.
He had a reminder too that the heroes were not all abroad: the mothers, the wives, the parents, are making sacrifices also, and all our privileges come through sacrifice of some sort by some one at some time.
The great sacrifice of Jesus had given inspiration for all sacrifice. The heroes of the chapter all had faith, died in faith. The only deathless language was the language of faith: there was no true sympathy where there is no faith.
He made apt use of Lincoln's Gettysburg speech "It is for us the living, to be dedicated to the unfinished work which they who died here so nobly advanced. That from these honored dead we take increased devotion to the cause for which they have given the last full measure of devotion, and highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain."

Death of Mr. Geo. Frappe

The operation we mentioned last week as having been performed on the above gentleman, was not effectual in saving his life for he died on Saturday last, aged 56 years, and was interred on Monday amid many evidences of respect and affection. He was a member of the C. O. F. and his brethren honoured his memory by a Society funeral. He was a member of the Methodist church and his pastor Rev. Mr. Moyer conducted mortuary services also.
Mr. Frappe was born in Birmingham, England, and came to Durham in July 1905. He married in England, 25 years ago, a Mrs. Benton and she with her children by her first marriage will sincerely mourn. His step-children were young when he married, and between them has always been love and affection and the bearing of parent and child. They are Wm. Benton in England, Mrs. Anthony Holmes and Mrs Piquet of Durham, J. E. Benton, a traveller in the States, Alfred in Durham, Ernest in Illinois, Arthur in Michigan, and G. H. in Hamilton.
He was, while in Durham employed in Cement Works chiefly, and was a trustworthy employe and a good citizen.

Mr Jos Firth has purchased R. R. No. 3, Durham, mail route from Mr John Morice and is now in charge.
The Red Cross held a pleasant afternoon at the beautiful home of Mr. Joseph Browns last Friday to which their friends were invited for sewing and knitting and gave them a dainty tea about six o'clock. After tea a short program was given with the following numbers on it: two instrumental by Mrs. Jemima and Florence Lawrence, a recitation by Miss Edie McKenzie, Mr. Allan Bell gave a solo, and Rev. Mr. Dymond gave a much appreciated address. Mr. Irwin as chairman did his duties well.
