TOPICS

A patriotic ball is being held in the Town Hall on Friday evening.

If you require any picture framing done get it now for half price at F. Lenahan's.

An interesting letter from J. C. Nichol, at Shorncliffe Camp, England, is held for lack of space until next week.

LOST.—A pocket watch somewhere along George St. to Post Office. Liberal reward on returning to Mrs Wm. Black.

A change in time tables on both C. P. R. and Grand Trunk went into effect Sunday but there is no change in arrivals or departures of any Durham trains.

Rev. John Little, St. Helens, will occupy the Presbyterian pulpit here on Sunday next. Rev. Mr. Whaley taking his place on an anniversary occasion. Mr. Little is always welcome in Durham.

A memorial service for the late Pte. Halliday will be held in Knox Church Normanby, next Sunday afternoon, Oct. 7th. Pte. Halliday enlisted in the West, trained partially at Camp Borden, and has been at the front eight or nine months. He was killed by a sniper in the battle of Lens.

VARNEY ANNIVERSARY.—On Sunday, 21 October, the annual anniversary sermons will be preached by Rev. W. N. Lovegrove, Holstein, at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Monday following. 22nd inst., dinner will be served in the Orange Hall from 6 to 8. After which a mass program of addresses and music will be given. Mr. W. L. win in the chair. Admission 25 c.

Capt. Dr. Gun of Orpington Hospital staff, England, Mrs. Gun and daughter Betty of Hamilton, arrived in town Saturday, spending a couple days with his mother and sister here. He returned on Tuesday morning to Hamilton and will be back for a few days only, his six weeks furlough passing rapidly. His waking hours here were occupied seeing and meeting friends, some even desirous of consulting him professionally.

FATAL ACCIDENT NEAR MT. FOREST.—Archie McMillan, a well-known business man, 61 years of age, was killed on Monday in an auto accident. He was on his way to Guelph with wife and daughter and at the approach of a bridge over a small bridge, he failed to make a turn in time and in trying to right himself, sent his car to the other side where it turned turtle pinning him underneath with his head in 12 inches of water. When released he was dead. Owen Sound papers all speak highly of deceased as a citizen.

LIEUT. McELROY WOUNDED.—The official telegram reached Mr. Thos Allan on Tuesday that his son-in-law Lieut. McElroy of Port Arthur was severely wounded in the thigh. Lieut. McElroy was a captain before going overseas, was promoted to major, and reverted to lieutenant's rank to get to France. Mrs. McElroy is with her parents here, but this week was visiting Holstein relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Allan went down that evening to deliver the unwelcome message. We trust favorable reports of his recovery will soon be forthcoming.

MORE FIRES.—Last Saturday night's violent lightning storm was again an agent of destruction. Mrs. Murdock's home on the old Russel farm, about 1 1/2 miles south of town, was struck and burned to the ground. It was one of the first houses in Grey County, built over 60 years ago, but fortunately, we learn, there is good insurance. The barn of Mr. John Fogarty, east of Waudby, was also completely destroyed. Mr. Fogarty saving only his horses, while crops and implements went in flames. Two barns in Sullivan township were burnt the same evening.

NOW NAVAL LIQUORICANT.—Word was received last week by relatives here of the promotion of Cecil Gordon Gun. He is now a lieutenant in the British Navy, a piece of news gratifying to relatives and friends as it is an honor that has come to few Canadians. It is well merited on Cecil's part, he has seen three years of active service in the great war. Cecil has always been an admirer of Uncle Sam, and for several years before the war he was in the American service on the great lakes, having taken out his papers for Captaincy on one of the boats. But his love for the Union Jack burnt strong within him, and in October 1914 he went to Welland and tried to enlist in the first Canadian contingent, but they were stricter on those days and he was turned down as not being tall enough. Nothing daunted however, he went to New York, sailed for England and was soon in training for the navy at the naval barracks, Chatham. From that time till now he has been at his front on the North Sea on board H. M. S. "Osprey" one of a fleet of destroyers. He is now taking his officers training at Davenport, England. Congratulations to this Durham boy who has been lost, found, drowned and turned up again, and right side up too.

Two Houses for Rent on George St. Apply - Mrs. J. W. Crawford

Pricerville's big Fair takes place on Friday of this week, and if fine weather prevails, a large number from Durham will swell the crowd.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.—At Ebenezer Church, Vickers, on Sunday, 14 Oct. 1917. Two services will be held at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Name of preacher announced next week. On Tuesday, 16th inst., a dinner will be served from 6 to 8 p. m., after which literary entertainment will be held. Mr. R. T. Edwards, chairman. Admission 25 c.

The Baptist Garden Party, "last of the season" at McEwen's, near Rob Roy came off successfully on Monday night. Mr. Binnie was in the chair and addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Moyer, Whaley, Graham and Allan Bell, the latter giving a solo also. Duets by Misses Wylie and Middlebro, and Misses Wylie and Redford were features of the evening as was the recitation of Miss Annie Graham. About $45 was raised for patriotic work.

The National Food Service Pledge cards arrived for distribution in Durham to the Secy. of the Women's Institute. Not wishing to undertake it alone, the W. I. asked for the co-operation of the ladies of the Red Cross Society and of the Presbyterian Ladies Aid, and a joint meeting to arrange for their distribution was held in the Pres. Church on Tuesday afternoon. The ladies are quite willing to sign the cards, and several volunteered to assist in their circulation, but a great majority of the members of the three Societies intend to write a stipulation on their pledge cards that they wish and expect the Government to take a much more important step in conserving food supplies by abolishing the manufacture of intoxicating liquor, and thus save millions of pounds of valuable grain for the use of our armies and citizens.

His evening discourse was from closing verses of Chap. 9, 1 Corinthians, when Paul makes contrast between the Roman games and the game of life. Rome in Paul's day had gone pleasure mad, but ultimately it led to her decay. If we would plan, and organize, and endeavor for the game of life as is done for some kinds of modern sport, what might not be accomplished? Considering the merits of the prizes in view we should put forth 10,000 times more enthusiasm into the game of life.

The prize of life was one "that faded not away" yet too many are like Bunyan's man with the muck rake, concerned only with things that perish.

Life is a game of skill, not chance, the prize goes to the most deserving. There were no short cuts to character or to fortune: the only way to win is by effort and excellence. He deplored the gambling spirit that enters into much of the modern game of life, and was worse in this principle entered into the game of life.

Again, differing from all other games, Life was a game in which all might win. We must enter the contest. The doctrine of election was no good unless we were a candidate. The shortcomings of our press and his closed with an earnest appeal for more godliness, which is profitable not only in the life which now is but in having the promise of that which is to come while "bodily exercise profiteth little."

Bishop Receptions

The past week has been notable for the warmth of receptions given to Major Wm. A. Bishop, V. C., M. C., D. C. O with bar on the famous aviator, who in over 50 encounters has brought down no fewer than 47 enemy planes in France and Belgium. Montreal honored him as he passed through, Toronto went one better last Thursday, but Owen Sound his birthplace where his parents reside, did signal honor to him on Friday by the greatest demonstration of welcome in its history. The Mayor, and highest officials in town and county, received him formally and loyally and the people took him completely to their heart. A car-load from Durham comprised Hon. Dr. Jamieson, M. P. P., (who rode in the carriage with the hero); R. H. McWilliams, Jas. Lloyd, A. W. H. Lauder and Chemist Gardiner. This week the young man, -he is but 23- was called to New York and stirred even that city. His fiancée, Miss Burden, has been as prominent as his mother at all the receptions. They are to be married soon and the human touch of the lovers has added to the interest taken in the young hero, who is as modest as he is brave.

Teachers Will Convene

The Annual Meeting of S. Grey Teachers' Association meets in Hanover on Thursday and Friday of next week, 11th and 12th inst. This meeting will have an aspect of sadness to the older teachers as they reflect that Mr. Campbell, the guide and counsellor of over twenty-five years is no longer with them.

But there will be an aspect of pleasure also in meeting with Mr. Wright, the new Inspector and we have no doubt the pleasure will be mutual. A new era begins in South Grey and we hope, nay, we are sure, the progressiveness of the past will be continued in the future.

We are not sure if this was Hanover's "turn" or not, but anyway it is a compliment to the Inspector to hold his first meeting at his home town. We hope they will have the best of weather and profitable sessions.

Eighty-Four Examinations Before Medical Board

Up to Monday night eighty-four applicants had been examined under the Militia-Service Act by the medical board at the headquarters in Owen Sound. Over fifty per cent passed as A 2, the highest qualification that it is possible to give by the board. The men are coming from all sections of the county for examination and the number will increase as the date approaches for the proclamation which it is expected will be fixed before the middle of the present month. One of the medical men in referring to the rigidity of the examination makes the very salutary remark that no applicant should come before the board without first taking a complete bath - Owen Sound Times.

The Presbyterian Anniversary

Sunday and Monday last were days of enthusiasm in Durham Presbyterian circles. It was Anniversary time. A kind of pause in the year's operations, with a backward look and a measuring of progress before "going forward" again.

Rev. Dr. Martin, Stratford, has left behind him, devout and warm memories for his three messages and he would be welcomed again. On Sunday morning he spoke from Matt. 12: 12. "How much better is a man better than a sheep?" A very elementary question. It was not surprising that in the dark ages human life was held lightly, but it was disconcerting to find a revival of barbarism in our own time. Man's inhumanity to man has slain its thousands but man's inhumanity to himself was much worse. The so-called superman of the Germans was a monstrosity: the Church, and society, and the state formed the scaffolding on which a man is built. Too often the estimate of a man is made by asking "What is he worth?" ignoring the higher features of his being.

Man was superior because (1) of his intellectuality. There was an utter lack of proportion in the world's estimate of men, too strong a tendency to measure him physically and materially. (2) Because of his moral sense, and this needed development, for it was of great importance to keep the moral standpoint high. (3) Because of his spiritual nature. Some by base means would try to deaden this sense but it was the top-story of life. Don't undervalue yourself. A man is better than a sheep.

His evening discourse was from closing verses of Chap. 9, 1 Corinthians, when Paul makes contrast between the Roman games and the game of life. Rome in Paul's day had gone pleasure mad, but ultimately it led to her decay. If we would plan, and organize, and endeavor for the game of life as is done for some kinds of modern sport, what might not be accomplished? Considering the merits of the prizes in view we should put forth 10,000 times more enthusiasm into the game of life.

The prize of life was one "that faded not away" yet too many are like Bunyan's man with the muck rake, concerned only with things that perish.

Again, differing from all other games, Life was a game in which all might win. We must enter the contest. The doctrine of election was no good unless we were a candidate. The shortcomings of our press and his closed with an earnest appeal for more godliness, which is profitable not only in the life which now is but in having the promise of that which is to come while "bodily exercise profiteth little."

MONDAY EVENING

Without the attractiveness and sociability of a congregational tea there was yet a large attendance at the literary meeting on Monday evening. In addition to the lecture by Mr. Martin, advancing views taken of the presence in town of Capt. Dr. Gun, home from England on furlough. In the same way in the musical part the program was enriched by three solos from Mrs. Moore McFadden, at present in town and her rendering of "Rule Britannia" brought her an encore to which she responded with "Annie Laurie" with charming sweetness and expression. The choir also had special music and choruses and won deserved applause.

The meeting was opened with the National Anthem. Rev. Mr. Whaley in the chair. After the choir had rendered a number, came the chairman's speech, which showed her fine voice to advantage. He had much to praise for the women and the sacrifices they were making. The principle of sacrifice was not earth born, it came from above, and no one can make sacrifice without being blessed.

After a fine solo from Mrs. McFadden which showed her fine voice to advantage, the chairman had peculiar pleasure in calling upon Dr. Gun, who needed no introduction to a Durham audience. The doctor, in his Captain's khaki of course, received hearty applause as he took the platform. He would go even further than Mr. Whaley in praise of women's work and say that but for the work and sacrifice of women the war might have been lost.

He then entered upon his topic, Hospital work, methods and experiences, as he saw and learned of it at the Ontario Government Hospital, situated at Orpington, Kent County, England. He gave many figures showing the size of the institution, built by Ontario money. Originally meant to accommodate 1200 patients the capacity has now been doubled and 2400 could be accommodated. There were 50 medical officers, 150 nurses, 400 Ontario girls, and 400 men of the A. M. C., besides others in the Pay-officers and other departments.

His remarks on the treatment of the wounded he made graphic by taking his hearers right to the firing line, giving information as to size, layout and purposes of a "Division," which comprised 10 or 12 battalions, comprising from 15000 to 18000 men. He dealt especially, with the Ambulance corps, which was very efficient, and which must be in close touch with a railway to the rear to be thoroughly effective. With graphic touch he took an imaginary casualty from the trenches, to the rear dressing stations, to the base hospital, to hospital ship, to hospital train at Dover, if going to Orpington or South of England, to Southampton if to North of England, and at every stage of the journey, hurried though it was, the greatest care and skill were given to the sufferers. These have been occasions when the wounded have been transferred from the trenches to hospitals in England in 48 hours. Every few days when a big push is on a convoy arrives and under the best treatment, recoveries are often very rapid.

As the chairman said Dr. Gun's remarks would bring a measure of comfort and confidence to those at home who sent anxious thoughts overseas. The management are particularly grateful to Capt. Gun, for his timely talk on such very short notice.

An anthem by the choir followed, a solo part, taken by Mr. Grant McComb, being pleasing and effective.

Rev. Mr. Whaley had known Dr. Martin since student days and had followed his growing career with pleasure. He had been rejoiced to hear of the delight in yesterday's services. Dr. Martin, after compliments to the hospitality of the manse referred to his unusual topic; some might not know that a Bible figure (Isaiah 24: 20) "For the bed is shorter than that a man can stretch himself on it; and the covering narrower than that he can wrap himself in it."

All knew the proverb "As we make our bed we must lie on it." Told of an aged couple of 17th birth in England, forced to the House of Refuge in old age, penniless. Cause, drink. They made their bed and it proved short. He liked pleasure and didn't like long faces, but the young should remember, life was not a round of pleasure, making it so, the bed would prove too short. A commercial house he knew had applicants plenty who knew the mysteries of hockey, baseball, &c., but none who could translate a foreign letter, something German youth of same class can always do. A frivolous butterfly life has all the discomforts of a short bed and narrow blanket.

Wealth, and attempted short cuts to wealth, some of our social customs, pink teas and other formal functions, were beds too short. He caused laughter by telling what one was said R. S. V. P. on invitations stood for "Rush in, Shake hands, Vittle up, Put."

He had many fine thoughts on the shallow literature of our day. The Bible and other religious writings were treated as a sham, the ideals of our own time, the wrong political aims of Germany was going to prove that the bed was too short for the Kaiser and his brood. "The only bed and covering long enough and broad enough for present and final comfort is the Christian view of life and of God."

Rev. Dymond, Moyer and Wylie in turn, conveyed cordial greetings and congratulations from their churches in appropriate terms. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to all who had assisted to make the Anniversary a success, and God Save the King and benediction by the pastor closed a fine meeting.

The pulpit and platform were tastefully decked with flowers and foliage and the proceeds amounted to about $50.
