Acknowledged the Socks

Before going West on a holiday trip in June 1917, Miss Florabel Nichol secured yarn from Red Cross from Miss L. McKenzie and thought it best to improve her time by knitting. On reaching her destination Westhope, N. Dakota, she had almost completed the stockings, 2 pair and soon had them ready to return to Durham and enclosed in each a note asking the recipient to acknowledge if not too much trouble to him. The socks were sent from Durham it appears to the 2nd contingent of Mounted Rifles and the receiver wrote back on Nov. 26 thus in grateful terms.

Dear friend:
 You will be surprised to receive a line from one you never saw, but I am writing to thank you for the socks, as I was the lucky receiver. I am now wearing them. They saved my feet yesterday. We marched all day, and I feel just as fresh this morning as I did yesterday morning. I came from B. Columbia. Am out on a rest now after hard fighting as you will see in the papers. My address is
 Pte. Leonard Gregory,
 2nd C. M. R., B. Co.,
 No 931025, B. E. F.,
 France.

P. S. If you care to drop a line to a B. C. boy in France. Am sending you a Xmas card in remembrance of the socks and "God bless the girls who are so thoughtful of the soldiers."

Somewhere in France, Nov 21, 1917.
 Dear Flora:

I am writing to thank you for the socks as I happened to be the lucky one. They came in too at a very handy time, just when I required them. I happen to come from Toronto, I have been in F. 18 months and certainly have had some exciting time and will be glad when it is all over but will have to stay until then. We are having lovely weather just now. Hope you will excuse this short letter I will now close by thanking you once again for the socks. I remain

Yours sincerely,
 Frank Tubbs.

Both letters one from each receiver arrived in Durham on same mail and one apparently knows nothing of the other but in same contingent and same Co. B. I wrote a long letter to each since they asked her to write.

Election Advertising.

Our friend of the Chronicle seems to have been worried over what he is pleased to call our "inconsistency" in accepting Union government advertising, and in times past refusing liquor advertising. Where the inconsistency? We don't believe in furthering the liquor interest, we do believe in Union government, and had the election gone against the present Union government there would have been another in its place, as sure as the sun rises.

At such a time, with a divided state of public opinion, our purpose was to represent both views: we did so without considering their influence on the respective candidates, at least that was not our chief concern. The Review is a newspaper, not an organ, we were not employed by either Wright or Ball, Laurier or Borden and while our sympathies went with one pair, and our editorial remarks showed it, our readers, in the present anxious state of public opinion were free as they ever were to form their own conclusions either from editorial or from Union Govt. matter.

It was, and is, no time to be dogmatic or bitterly partisan. Union Government is a fact, and if Review advertising helped to bring it about, all right. They are doing well, and cheering, not criticising, is the proper attitude.

THE SAD STORY OF THE STRUGGLE FOR LIFE

is frequently revealed in these war times even in this well-to-do Province. Hard enough to be poor—still worse to be sick and poor.

The lot of the consumptive is a specially trying one. Only recently a family was discovered living in two small rooms over a store. At one time they had occupied a comfortable home but the father took sick and had to give up work. With the savings all gone, they were forced to sell the furniture to buy food. When the man was found to be a consumptive, this was the opportunity of the Muskoka Free Hospital to bring relief so that not only would the stricken husband have a winning chance for life, but more desirable still, the wife and children should be removed from danger of contracting the disease. Under skillful guidance the home was cleaned up and the family temporarily provided for. It is now reported that the patient is doing well, with every chance of recovery.

This is the great work carried on by the Muskoka Free Hospital which is now appealing for help.

Contributions may be sent to W. J. Gage, Chairman, 84 Spadina Avenue, Toronto, or Geo. A. Reid, Secretary-Treasurer, 223 College St., Toronto.
