Tragic and fatal occurrences seem to be unusually common this season. No fewer than five at least known to this part. The Holiday death by a roller in Normanby, Diesel killed on the Railway, Henry Turker, stopping a runaway team, Ralph Harrison's life crushed out and five fire victims near Markdale as related this week. Death stalks elsewhere than on the battlefield.

Death makes changes. Mrs Bean has decided to give up the business conducted by her husband and herself for 27 years, and will likely retire to live with her mother in Fordwich. She had a valuation made this week and has understood disposed of her stock to local merchants. The town and neighborhood will regret to lose Mrs Bean, who in addition to business ability and integrity has endeared herself to all by her kindly genial manner and unflinching courtesy. She will be missed especially in Methodist circles, and the community with united voice will wish for her and daughter, a happy and prosperous future.

Mr Daniel Knechtel bought five acres of land from Mr Harry Badertscher, situated north of the Hanover Portland Cement Co's. power house and south of the Saugen River, and is spending considerable money fitting it up for a park. The place is a pretty natural rounda, and when it is cleaned up, the trees trimmed, the stumps pulled out and plowing and leveling done, it will be a real beauty spot. Mr Knechtel has put up a building for the use of picnic parties and will have an auto road built. Work of improvement is still in progress and will be for some time. 'Knechtel Park' will ultimately, we understand, be deeded to the town and in the meantime the citizens of Hanover will have the opportunity of using it, holding picnic there, etc. A park has been needed in Hanover for a long while and we are pleased we have a man of Mr Knechtel's public spiritedness and progressiveness to make such a scheme practicable.—Post.

A brilliant new star has appeared in the heavens in the constellation Aquila. It is of the first magnitude; there are only 7 brighter in the firmament and it may be easily seen in the south east about 11 p. m. It is many centuries since an unknown star of such brilliance has appeared and one supposition is that it has resulted from two worlds colliding in space.

It was quite a disappointment to many that the eclipse of the sun last Saturday night was not the spectacle expected. It was eclipsed all right, but not by the moon, but by the clouds which intervened about the time the eclipse was to commence and did not clear off all evening. In Toronto one or two photos were taken at the start, before the clouds completely obscured sun and moon.

TO KEEP WINDSHIELDS CLEAN.—When driving an automobile in stormy weather considerable annoyance is caused by moisture collecting upon the windshield. The Studebaker Service gives the following mixture applied to the windshield with a piece of soft gauze or soft cloth, strokes downward, as effective: "To once ounce of water and glycerine add one drachm salt."

A RURAL MODERATOR.—The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church met in London last week and chose its Moderator from a rural congregation, Rev. Dr. Colin Fletcher, of Thames Road, Exeter. This has been done before but very rarely, and it is a well deserved compliment to the great mass of ministers, worthy men, who do faithfully a great duty but are not in the lime-light. The present incumbent has a fine record, and worthily fills the position.

A very interesting Women's Institute meeting was held in the Library Monday when Miss Collins of Ancaster, who is the Government Institute speaker for this district, addressed the goodly number of ladies present on "Women's place in the Ranks" bringing to us the good cheer and work of the Women of our Country in the war. We should cultivate a spirit of optimism and not circulate stories derogatory to Red Cross work. It was an address abounding in good advice for women in these days of food conservation. Misses Agnes McGirr and Mary McIlraith read good papers from the Food Conservation Office and Miss Winnie Blyth gave a fine solo. After some discussion over the Question Drawer, a profitable meeting was closed by God Save the King.

A Tragic Occurrence

Ralph Harrison Instantly Killed

One of the most sudden and distressing fatal accidents that has occurred for some time took place on Friday last about the noon hour on the John Lawrence farm, 21 Con., Egremont. The farm was being worked this year by his grandson Ralph Harrison, he was just sitting down to dinner when Mr Moses Glaser drove in. Ralph went out to assist in un hitching the team, and by some mischance one of the tugs was left unfastened and unnoticed. Ralph removed the bridle from one of the horses which stepped forward a little and finding the unusual side pull got alarmed and dashed off making for a gateway. The horse attempted to jump, but the tongue of the waggon, now down, ran under the bars, and in the melee upset the horse sideways and caught or drove Mr Harrison against a gatepost, killing him instantly, his neck being broken.

Who can picture the agony of his young wife, (a daughter of Mr W. R. Watson of the town line) to see her husband and father of her child brought in and life extinguished? It was a trying moment. Death on the battlefield may be as tragic, but there it is always known to be possible, but to occur in the safety and seclusion of home life, while offering hospitality to a stranger, is one of the mysterious things in life and painful as mysterious.

Deceased was 23 years of age, son of Mr and Mrs Thos Harrison, and giving promise of a useful career. To the wife so sorely bereaved, to his parents, grandparents and brothers, deepest sympathy is extended in the untimely loss.

The funeral took place on Sunday to Durham cemetery and was one of the most largely attended ever seen in the neighborhood. Deceased was an Orange-man and his brethren in very large numbers turned out to pay him the usual honors and he was buried with the usual rites.

Five Burned to Death in Home near Markdale

One of the most distressing fatalities ever in the County, happened about seven miles north-east of Markdale early Saturday morning, in which five persons lost their lives by fire. About 1 a. m. neighbors noticed the home of Mr Richard Lyons, in flames: many of them were soon on the scene, and tried to arouse the inmates, but to no avail. When first seen the back part of the frame dwelling was in flames and the front full of smoke, and with such a headway, despite the efforts of the neighbors, the house was completely destroyed.

In the ruins search revealed the charred and burnt bodies of the five inmates, Mr and Mrs Lyons and their only son, seven years old; Miss Effie Neely of Markdale, a high school girl, who was getting her certificate by working on the farm; and Aldes McLaughlin, Owen Sound. The little lad was living with his aunt Mrs Lyons, while his mother was being treated in a sanitarium in Hamilton for nervous breakdown. Mr Lyons is the next older brother of Mr Wes, Lyons of Milverton, formerly of Durham, and the latter came up Saturday to his late brother's place.

The cause of the fire is a mystery, and will probably never be known. Mrs Moore, a neighbor, who was leaving the home about 11 in the evening, remarked she thought she smelt pine burning, but no sign of fire was evident. The family retired between 11 and 12, and while in their first sound sleep, it is thought the fire gained such headway that they were almost suffocated by smoke before awakening. When aroused it is presumed the Lyons' had secured the children and found escape cut off by the flames; they had probably attempted to get down stairs, when the burning or weakened stairs gave way, as the four bodies were found together at the front of where the stairs had been. That of Miss Neely was found in another part of the house, who probably was seeking a different route of escape.

The funeral of Mr and Mrs Lyons and the two boys was held Monday afternoon to Harkaway cemetery, Mr and Mrs David Allen of town and Mr and Mrs Geo Hopkins of Glenelg, being in attendance, Miss Neely's funeral took place on Tuesday from her home in Markdale. An inquest will be held on Saturday next, to further investigate the sad tragedy.

June Weddings

WHITMORE—McKECHNIE

A quiet marriage was solemnized at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. E. S. Moyer at 2 p. m. Wednesday, when Miss Sadie, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs Dugald McKechnie of town was united in hymen's bonds to Mr Ben Whitmore, Glenelg. Miss Leila Gilchrist of Toronto cousin of the bride, acted as bridesmaid while her brother Mr Neil McKechnie supported the groom. The young couple motored to Mt Forest, thence took the afternoon train to spend their honeymoon in Galt and Toronto, returning Monday evening next. The Review joins their numerous friends in wishing them many happy days of wedded life.

SINCLAIR—McCORMICK

"Until death do you part." Once more have the impressive words been asserted to the contracting parties being Mr Neil Sinclair of Sault Ste Marie and Miss Kate McCormick of Durham. The function took place at the home of the bride, on Wednesday, 12th June, 1918, in the presence of a large circle of friends and relatives.

Promptly at 5 p. m. the groom took his stand under a bower of spirea and myrtle and while the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus played by Miss Alice Ramage, were pealing forth, the bride entered on the arm of her eldest brother Alex, and took her place by the side of her lover. Rev. Mr. Whaley, the bride's pastor, assisted by Rev. Mr. McEwen of the Baptist Church, performed the ceremony and the happy couple, after having listened to the usual charges and assented to the solemn vows were declared man and wife. Miss Margaret Hunter rendered "Love's Coronation" effectively while the register was being signed. The congratulations that followed were of the heartiest nature.

Following this a magnificent wedding repast was served, in which culinary skill was well shown up. A four storey wedding cake, the work of Mrs Reid of Toronto, a friend of the bride, was admired by all. At the close of the supper a toast was given by Rev. Mr. Whaley and responded to by Mr. C. Ramage and Rev. Mr. McEwen. On behalf of the groom Mr Whaley replied.

The remainder of the evening was spent in music and social intercourse and the hours grew large and small again before the happy gathering dispersed.

The bride was becomingly costumed in a sand shade gabardine suit and corn color crepe waist with beading. Her hat was in keeping with the suit and she carried a bouquet of Richmond roses. She also wore the groom's gift, that of a pearl period necklace. To the organist he presented a gold crescent pin.

The gifts were unusually handsome and varied. Silver, cut glass, linen and china, ran a close race for superiority, all going to show the esteem and good will the friends of bride and groom hold for them. An outstanding gift was a cabinet of Community silver from the Police Dept of the Steel Corporation at the Soo of which he is head. The bride's brother Mr Hugh McCormick of Pittsburg wired his regrets for his absence but showed his good will by his gift of a $500 check to the bride.

Relatives and friends from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Reid and son Roy, Toronto; Mr Alex McCormack and Mrs Geo Anderson from Sault Ste Marie; Mr and Mrs J. McCorkindale, Mrs (Capt) McNab and daughter Islay, Messrs Jas. Riddell, Hugh McCallum, Jno Halliday, all of Owen Sound; Mr Ronald Gilchrist, Mr and Mrs Dan Sinclair, Miss Annie Buchanan, Mr Ronald and Miss Cassie Sinclair all of Chatsworth; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Atkinson, Desboro.
