To day, Wednesday—last Wednesday of June—an atmosphere of matrimonial bliss surrounds two well-known young ladies, Misses Maud Hamilton of the lake and Edith McKenzie of Durham, who are giving heart and hand respectively to Mr. Murray Ritchie and Mr. Van Wie, a Toronto gentleman. Congratulations to both.

William Coffield, son-in-law of Mr. John McAuliffe, had an experience on Monday he would not like to have repeated. While dusting round the switch board at the Cement works his arm came in contact with the wires and a charge of 22000 volts left its mark by a severe burn. The fact that he was standing on a chair and not nearer the earth probably saved his life. It will throw him off duty for a few weeks, but we hope will leave no permanent injury.

LOOK OUT FOR IMPOSTORS.—We heard a story this week hard to believe, and we cannot vouch for its truth but it is possible. Two strangers with an official air about them, entered a farmer's home and accepted an invitation to have a meal. There was meat on the table, plenty sugar and the usually generous piles of bread. When the meal was over judge of the surprise of the hosts to be informed that they were violating the law, that it was a meatless day, they were too lavish with bread, &c. and the fine was $200! It looks fishy, but scamps might work a game like this on innocent women.

Hutton Hill picnic which was held in the grove next to the school on Tuesday last was a decided success. A baseball match between lads from sections of Hutton Hill and Ebenezer, resulted in a runaway game in favor of former. After an excellent supper most of the crowd went to Lawrence's field where another baseball match was held between Hutton Hill and Knox. It was more interesting and keenly contested than the former one. The score was 8 to 6 in favor of Knox. Races were held for the boys and girls. The booth and swings were kept busy most of the time.

"SCOTTY" MUNRO WOUNDED.—Although never appearing in the casualty list, Pte. "Scotty" Munro, one of the Durham boys who enlisted in the old 147th batt., was wounded in the left hand early in May. So he informs his mother here in a recent letter, and that he is now out of danger from it. Infection from the wound spread up his arm, it appears, and an operation for an abscess on the shoulder was required. It is now healing, and he is recuperating in Queen Mary hospital Stratford, England, where he states he is receiving the best of care.

Rev. Mr. Matheson, Priceville, conducted very acceptable services in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday last. In the morning he took his text from 2 Sam. chap. 23, selecting the "Last Words of David" as a topic. He gave examples of just words of notable people, noting that in many cases these words were typical of the life they had led. He impressed this thought, that our lives, religiously, should be so ordered that our last words and actions, would to our friends, be grateful and consistent reminders of a life well spent. In the evening his text was "His path is on the Sea" from Psalm 77, and he had many exalted thoughts on three great natural features; the sky, the mountains, and the sea, dealing especially with the limitations and the mysticism of the sea as seen in the bible, and drew some apt illustrations from Byron and other poets.

Promotion Examination Form 1, Durham High School. In order to pass pupils were required to take 40 per cent on each subject and 75 per cent on the total for "Honors," and 60 per cent on the total for "Pass," (a) with Languages, (b) without Languages. Pass—Walter Boyce, Roy Thompson, Merron McArthur, Melvin Moyer, John Mather, Sarah McCallum, Oscar Bell, Willie Vessie, Belle Lauder, Harry Kress, Annie Smith, Peter McQuarrie, Alex Knox (recommended) (b) Mary Turnbull. Recommended Julia Burns and Ottlie Limin.

Laid to Rest, His Warfare O'er

Impressive services marked the funeral of the late Cadet Foster Saunders on Thursday last. No fewer than eight of his companions, fellow aviators, came over from Camp Borden, in uniform to give military honors to the deceased. Shoulder high they carried him into and out of the Presbyterian church, and from hence to graveside, and the services were of no perfunctory character. Privately they bore testimony to the sorrow they felt at his loss, he had won their hearts by qualities referred to last week.

From the pulpit, on invitation of Mr. Whaley, Captain — gave an address lauding the character of deceased and explaining the manner of the accident which might he said have happened to anyone and was due to no bad judgment. Not 25 per cent of the candidates, he said made good but Foster was above the average, was a good student, knew machines thoroughly, was helpful to others and had an absolutely clean record.

Rev. Mr. Whaley's topic was "minister-spirits," and even in such deaths there was something to inspire us. He pointed out that every aviator was a volunteer, they should remember they were not alone and his figurative reference to heavenly cohorts was well carried out.

The church was crowded to the door. The choir had beautiful and impressive music and the whole service was beautifully in keeping with the occasion. Rev. Mr. Dymond was on the platform and assisted in the services.

The offering of flowers was extraordinary requiring a special car to convey them.

Death of two well-known Dornoch Residents

Dornoch and vicinity lost one of its pioneers and representative men in the person of Philip McIntosh, who died at the ripe age of 87 years, 10 months at his daughter's residence, Mrs. D. McDonald, of Bentinck, on the 20th June. The deceased who was born in Dornoch, Sutherlandshire, Scotland, came to Dornoch in the year 1842 with his parents and therefore spent his whole life in the community, conducting the business of a general merchant and for nearly 40 years being postmaster at Dornoch, in which work his integrity, carefulness and accuracy were ever acknowledged. His wife died a little over a year ago since which time he has been an invalid at the home of his daughter. Four daughters, Mrs. D. McDonald of Bentinck, Mrs. McLaren, the wife of a Baptist clergyman near Guelph, Mrs. Wagner of Victoria, B. C., Mrs. Blaikie of Toronto, and one son George of Orlingwood, survive him. The funeral took place on Sunday to Latona cemetery.

Almost simultaneously with the loss of Mr. P. McIntosh, Dornoch heard with regret that another of her esteemed citizens, Mr. Alexander McIntosh, a nephew, had passed away on the 21st June. Mr. McIntosh, a prosperous, progressive and respected farmer, had been putting up a brave fight against the inroads of a cancerous affection of the face for over a year. Born at Dornoch 47 years ago, he has ever been a resident. Nearly twenty years ago he was wedded to Miss Lizzie, daughter of the late Robt. and Mrs. Dargavel, who with four sons and one daughter, survives him. The eldest son Lorne, has now reached young manhood. The funeral which took place on Monday to Latona cemetery, was one of the most largely attended ever held in the section. Rev. T. W. Mills, his pastor, conducted the services.

Hymeneal VAN WIE—McKENZIE

A very pretty June wedding took place at the home of Miss Laura McKenzie when her only sister, Edith Jackson, was married to Mr. John Austin Van Wie of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Whaley, at high noon on Wednesday, June 26, in the presence of over thirty friends and relatives. Among the out-of-town guests present were the bride's brother, Mr. Archie McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Van Wie, Mrs. Banhalzi and children and Miss Marion McKenzie from Buffalo, Mr. and Mrs. John McKenzie and family from Milton, Mr. Ja. Bou'den of Hanover, Miss Bell of Toronto and Miss Florence McKenzie from Montreal. The presents were numerous and showed the high esteem in which the bride is held by her many friends in Durham and elsewhere. Mr. and Mrs. Van Wie left on the afternoon train for Toronto and other points.

Silver Wedding of Mr and Mrs John McQueen

Friday last, 21st June, was the 25th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. John McQueen of Durham. They were married at the home of the bride in Nottawasaga district by a Rev. Mr. Henry and their home has since been in Egremont and Durham. Their family, all at home for the day, consists of one daughter, Mary and three sons, Alex, Donald and Eddie.

To mark the occasion they gave a dinner on Friday evening last to relatives and a few close neighbors in upper town, and some pleasant hours were spent in chat and vocal and instrumental music. At an appropriate time the health of the happy couple was proposed coupled with congratulations on having reached the quarter century of happy married life to which both replied in appropriate terms.

Relatives present were: brother of the groom, Neil A. of Bowville, wife and son, also two sisters, Mrs. Jas. Marshall, Durham and her daughter and Mrs. M. McCannel, Egremont and son Donald; also Dugald McCannel and daughter Jeanie.

With many hearty good wishes to the principals of the day the company dispersed.

Saugeen Presbytery

Holstein and Fairbairn will continue to pull together.

Presbytery met in Mt. Forest on Tuesday and had some important business. The call to Rev. T. W. Mills of Dornoch and Rocky Saugene was considered and accepted by the Presbytery and he will be inducted into the charge of Drayton on the 4th July next.

For some time so virile is the Holstein Presbyterian body, they have been thinking of assuming the whole cost and services of their minister. This of course would put their present associate congregation of Fairbairn out in the cold. However Fairbairn voted so unanimously against separation (they have been paired for about 50 years) that the union is to continue in the meantime.

Harrison is not happy. There are two Presbyterian congregations there and one recently became vacant. This suggested to some of the members the possibility of having a fusion made of the two bodies, and the other minister, to smooth the path, resigned also. However there are some strong opponents of union and the differences instead of being smoothed away may be accentuated. Presbytery in the meantime was not able to bring about union.

Mr Allan Bell and Miss Walker and the choir also contributed musically to the program. The receipts at gate and booth were $75.

Day of Humiliation

Sunday next has been set apart by the Government as a day of National humiliation before God, and prayer that he would so guide the counsels and the armies of the allies that such a victory might be achieved as would overthrow the enemies of democracy.

This observance can most fittingly be done by a unanimous attendance on Divine worship, coming in a special attitude of reverence and humility and acknowledgment of God as the supreme arbiter of all human events. The clergy of all denominations will have a word in season.

The optimistic war news this week will give opportunity for expressions of Thankfulness as well as Reverence and Humility.
