THE PEOPLE'S MILLS

DORNOCH

Old Sol is flooding the earth with the first real heat waves of the season and the haymakers are sweating 'neath his torrid rays. What a contrast our seasons present! The winter brings its intense cold as naturally as a rose sheds its perfume and verily the rigid conditions of a few months ago would "freeze the word upon the lip," but now this abnormal temperature recalls to our mind Gen. Sherman's definition of war. Could someone devise a plan to imprison this surplus heat and utilize it during the heatless days of grim old winter, he would be a real benefactor to humanity.

The hay crop is being garnered and although the meadows are not yielding the great quantities they did during the bumper years of '16 and '17, yet the crop is a fair average and the quality excellent.

Miss Mianie McGillivray is paying her annual summer visit to her parents here, having arrived from the Queen city on Monday.

Mr and Mrs John Hunt, formerly of Dornoch but now of North Dakota, called on friends and relatives in the village and community the fore part of the week. Mr Hunt leaves for his home on Friday but Mrs Hunt will enjoy an extra month's vacation around the scenes of her girlhood days.

Messrs James and Bryce Dargavel attended the funeral of their aunt Mrs Thos. Dargavel whose remains were interred in the Warton cemetery on Monday. Merchant J. H. and Mrs Parke were present at the obsequies of an esteemed friend in the same town on the same day.

Miss Black Latona's instructress during the past year, accompanied by her girl friend from Chesley, spent a few pleasant days' visit at the home of Mr and Mrs Duncan McGillivray.

Master Ross and Miss Miriam Parke returned to their village home after a two week's outing among friends in Hamilton.

R. J. and Mrs Corlett entertained their friends, the Firth and Greenwood families, who motored from Zion on Sunday last.

After a well-earned fortnight's furlough with his parents here Mr John Morley leaves this week to join his training ship at Halifax. What wonder that a bluejacket receives the glad hand of every side? Their presence invariably recalls the mighty deeds of heroism performed by Br. seadogs in the glorious past—valorous deeds that kept Britain inviolate and made her empire possible, and that now in this titanic struggle of a world in arms is an incentive to the wardens of the deep to uphold the glorious traditions of bygone days.

R. H. Ledingham and Jas. Sullivan have each purchased Ford cars. Country life is no longer backward and a dull monotonous grind but is keeping pace with the changing conditions.

J. M. Robertson reported for service at Military Headquarters, Niagara-on-the-Lake, last week. Bert Coffey and Louis Grahmann have been given extended leave of absence.

Mr Peter Tiffany purchased a fine-blooded driver from his brother-in-law recently. Pete can now make the daily trips to and from his farm south of his abode with ease and rapidity.

The ratepayers of the Dornoch Separate School have on hand most of the material requisite to the building of their new school in the immediate future. The building will be constructed not only with an eye to all essential features and requirements as the design will be such as to inculcate an institution of learning but the design will also be a credit to our little town. Much success to our sister section in this commendable move for the betterment of education in our midst.

ABERDEEN

Congratulations to Misses Laura Clark and Mary McQuarrie on passing their Entrance to High School exams.

Master Hugh McLean spent last week with his grandmother, Mrs McArthur of Glenelg.

While drawing poles out of the mill dam here last Friday, Mr Diran's team got excited and jumped into the dam. Getting entangled in the harness they were unable to free themselves and were drowned. Although it is a big loss, Mr Diran took it with his usual philosophical manner.

Mr Walter Clark had the misfortune to sprain his ankle last week jumping off a load of hay and will be laid off for a few days.

We miss the Post Office here since it closed on the 15th as we have to go to Durham with our parcels.

GREAT POTATO WASTE

Can Be Prevented by Thorough Spraying.

Women's Meetings in Full Swing—The Summer Institute Meetings Are of Benefit to Every Woman Who Attends—Topics to Be Discussed and Work Planned.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)
POTATOES are sprayed to prevent such fungus disease as Early Blight and Late Blight and Rot. These diseases are caused by plants known as fungi. Those fungi which derive their nourishment from living plants injure them in so doing in various ways and thus give rise to what are known as fungus diseases.

In combating the great majority of fungus diseases methods of prevention only are practicable. Spraying potatoes is not done to cure but to prevent disease. In other words the object of spraying is to cover the surface of the leaves and stems with a substance, poisonous to the spores of fungi, in which they cannot grow, and penetrate the plant. Spraying, therefore, in order to be effective, must be timely and thorough. The spray mixture must be on the plants before the spores reach them and the surface of the leaves and stems must be covered so completely that there is not the smallest space on which a spore can germinate.

Efficient spraying of potatoes depends: 1. Upon the use of the proper fungicide. Bordeaux mixture has so far proved to be the only satisfactory spray mixture for potato diseases. 2. Upon timely and repeated spraying. Spraying should be commenced when the plants are from six to eight inches high and repeated at intervals of from a week to ten days throughout the growing season. From three to seven applications will be required, the number depending upon the weather, the wetter the weather the more frequent the spraying. 3. Upon the liberal use of Bordeaux mixture. From 50 to 150 gallons of Bordeaux mixture should be used per acre at each application. 4. Upon the correct spraying, which means the covering of every portion of the plant with the Bordeaux mixture in the form of a fine mist. This can be done only when the solution is applied with good pressure so as to insure covering both surfaces of the plant. The best results from spraying are obtained when potato sprayers are used which are fitted with T-joint attachments, so as to insure covering both surfaces of the leaves at each spraying. 5. Upon spraying before rather than after prolonged rainy periods. Infection of the plants takes place during or soon after rain. Therefore it is of the utmost importance to have the spray mixture on the plants when the rain comes.—Prof. J. E. Howett, Ontario Agricultural College.

The Importance of Women's Institute Meetings.

A series of meetings which, to the women of rural Ontario, have always proved worth while, and increasing in popularity year by year, in the Women's Institute meetings. These are important because they are so far-reaching in their nature. They afford the town and country woman an opportunity to discuss the problems of the day, to share their experiences, to be of all-round service to humanity. Since the war began Red Cross and other patriotic work has, of course, received first consideration. The alleviation of suffering seems peculiarly women's work. The need is greater to-day than ever.

The great demand by the Allies for certain foods such as beef, pork, wheat and sugar has caused the housewife to change her methods of pre-war days. She must now learn to substitute and to eliminate various forms of waste. Perishable foods must be more widely used, not only in summer, but also in winter. These must be conserved through proper storage, canning or drying. Such subjects as these may be discussed at the meetings. An expert demonstrator may be secured from the Department to give information or a practical demonstration to assist the housewife. The members may club together and do their canning at one centre with one fire if they so choose, and in addition to the work accomplished may have a social time together.

The children in the rural districts must not be forgotten. They must be prepared for the great responsibilities which are too soon to fall upon them. Their education must not be neglected. They must not be handicapped by physical imperfections. Subjects of importance to the child must be discussed and means adopted to improve conditions. The Medical Inspection of rural schools and the clinics held through the Women's Institute are doing much to improve conditions.

The girls also need attention. We are apt to forget the girls in our anxiety for the boys. Their lives and their prospects for the future are being affected by this war. Hence opportunities for study, for amusement, for developing their talents to the full, must be afforded them. Many of these opportunities may be secured through the Institute.

Surely with subjects of such vital importance as the above-mentioned, all meetings should be worth while. We would call the attention of all to the importance of the summer meeting, held throughout June, when the delegate from the Department is in attendance. She has the latest information on all subjects of importance to the Institute, and is a specialist on her own particular subjects.—G. A. Putnam, Superintendent Women's Institutes.

MARY STUNG BY FALL—A strange swarm of bees which struck Walkerton on Thursday last and clustered on the top branch of a large maple tree in front of Mrs James Watt's home on Victoria street caused much suffering to some local youths who were present when Paul Jones attempted a spectacular capture stunt.

A lad in the tree who was holding a basket while Paul shook the limb, swayed slightly in the excitement, and missed the bunch of stings with the basket, allowing them to speed by and drop in a mass onto the urchins below, who announced the arrival of the bees in an uproarious chorus of startled yelps in a vain effort to stir with their flappers in a vain effort to stay the onslaught and stop, as it were, hostilities at the start. The humming guard, however, broke through their hoard and opened a spirited offensive on the exposed parts of their anatomy, even tripping down their necks and carrying on a secret warfare by stabbing them in the backs. Recalling that "pain is our portion here," the boys started to beat it elsewhere, but it took some hard sprinting before they shook the last bee out of their clothes. When seen later the lads appeared "puffed-up" by their experience and, to use a society term, look like perfect "swells."—Walkerton Times.

Connection Between Sunday School and Home Department

(A paper given by Miss Bella McGirr at the Durham-Glenelg S. S. Association last week.)

Perhaps by making a comparison of the two we may be enabled to see the connecting links.

In the Sunday School, just one hour each week is given to reading, praise, prayer and study, and yet for that short time men and women, boys and girls all over our Dominion keep that hour in view, prepare for it beforehand, and if possible at all, never fail to be present at that session.

However, we might notice that there are two classes of people in attendance at the Sunday School, those who come prepared to take part in discussion or memorization and therefore enjoy every minute of that hour. Then there are those who come because others do so, and the majority in this class usually come unprepared. We all know that these are the boys and girls, who unless they are awakened to a sense of their responsibility in life very soon drop out of the Sunday School.

Why these two classes of pupils and what is the reason for there being such distinction? One reason is, that in the homes of those who stay with the Sunday School, the Bible is a well-known book, not only by precept but by example, while in the homes of the children who are indifferent, the Bible is rarely ever opened. The parents in such homes usually attend church occasionally and try to keep the children in the Sunday School but the noticeable fact is this, that the children do not see the example of daily Bible Reading, nor of regular church attendance and youthful days are gone with these habits unformed.

The Home Department is that portion of the School which for various reasons remains at home and yet pursues the study of the lessons. The aim of this department is to extend the work of the Sunday School as far as possible so as to reach and help every individual. In almost every community there are generally some invalids, mothers with infant children, fathers whose work makes it impossible to be present at the time of the Sunday School lesson and to all of these the Sunday School ought to be glad to go with whatever help it has in its power to give, only half an hour a week or five minutes per day in the study of the lesson is the membership pledge, and yet some people say they really have not the time, while others tell us they can study the lessons without joining the department in which is very true, but the point is this: if there are no children in your home, do the children of other homes know you are interested in the lessons allotted to them? There is nothing that helps a child more than the fact that they are doing precisely the same as the grown-ups, and when they are aware that the adults have the habit of studying the lessons, they are much more easily influenced to prepare the lessons for themselves. One little girl was heard to remark that the Home Department visitor was mamma's teacher, thus we see the interest of the child because mother was a pupil too. And it is helpful for the child that mother is a member of the Home Department why not the father also?

The membership in the Home Department for the past year in Glenelg and Durham is as follows:

Durham Presbyterian.....	66
Zion Methodist.....	25
Edge Hill Un. on School.....	17
Benezer Met. dist.....	11
Durham Methodist.....	6
