

Present and Past Pastors of Amos Church.

Jubilee Celebration at Dromore.

Mr Crozier in giving out the closing hymn said this had been one of the bright spots in his life and would be remembered on into the future.

SUNDAY EVENING. Rev. Mr Kendall was again the preacher, basing his remarks on the Beatitudes, Matthew 5: 12, &c.

MONDAY AFTERNOON. Rev. Mr Smith was chairman of this important afternoon and the plan was for each minister (Rev. D. L. Campbell having now arrived) to take a brief talk of a religious nature...

Mr Campbell followed, claiming one-sixth of the Jubilee period on which he looked back with pleasure. He came closer to them than even former Crozier for his grandmother lived and died in Egremont, he being one of a family of 13, nine brothers and three sisters still living.

Mr Kendall followed and in his ten minutes spoke for the future of the young men amongst them. He had words of warning against taking the first wrong step. Those who go through the stern experiences of life with faith and courage never know defeat.

This completed the first meeting of the afternoon and without intermission, Rev. Mr Smith retired from the chair and asked Mr Geo. Lothian to take his place and Mr Crozier was called to complete his talk.

He related how energetic the people were in those days. While at the Assembly once, they set to work, put an 'L' on the church and had it completed before he got home.

Mr Chas. McInnes followed and told how he knew Rev Campbell's ancestry from his birth in Scotland till his arrival in Egremont in 1854 and gave a wealth of historical facts of bush life, social life, church life in centre and sound Egremont that we find it impossible to reproduce at this time and will return to it later.

ASSASSINATION

Mr. Geo. Lothian said Mr. Matheson boasted of being 60 years but none of them could boast of a precursor with a record of 40 years continuous service.

The secret had been religiously kept, Mr Ramage having not the faintest idea of expectation of any such proceeding. With feeling he thanked them for the kindly gift and the motive that prompted it. He had rejoiced in the work and was thankful that Providence had given him a voice that had stood the test so long.

NOTES

A feature of the Sabbath services that gave intense pleasure was the singing of Messrs. McFadden, Glines and Misteale, the male quartette and the accompanying of Miss Irwin, all from Durham.

Monday evening Mrs Stonehouse and Mrs McFadden contributed two duets, Miss M Hunter accompanying, also a trio with these two ladies and Miss Alice Ramage, and a duet by Mrs. McFadden and Miss Hunter. Miss Ramage accompanying were all features of the evening and acceptably received.

The choir swollen for the occasion with many former members, did good service. Messrs Jas Snell and Jno M Findlay moved a vote of thanks, heartily responded to, to all who assisted. The pastor expressed appreciation also to Durham and other churches who had given up services for their jubilee.

At the close of the afternoon meeting a sumptuous supper was served and a delightful social hour spent. Visitors from a distance can't say too much in praise of the hospitality offered by and enjoyed in many homes.

A souvenir booklet giving a history of the congregation, with pictures of Church, Manse, Ministers, Session, Choir, Managers, &c., has been issued and may be had at either of Dromore stores for 35c. The supply is limited—secure one for yourself and that far-away friend.

Holstein Show Successful

The Directors of Egremont Ag. Society were wreathed in smiles last night when the show closed as it was certain that they were on easy street as to finances. Gate tickets ran out at 4 o'clock and make-shits were used, with cash and donations, the proceeds will amount to $290.00.

Some features in the hall showed a shrinkage from former years, notably flowers, fruit and fine arts, vegetables were excellent, ladies work pronounced "very good," in quality, though in quantity behind other years.

Mr. Forest pipe band was in attendance the weather was superb and nothing was lacking to make it a success. We find it impossible to give the prize list this week, in full.

The Presbyterian Church furnished a meat supper and made well over $120.00. The World's Fair for 1918 is over.

Keeping the Nest Egg

Times are good financially. Everybody is making more money and enjoying more prosperity undoubtedly than in those dark days when wheat sold for 60c, eggs for 10c, pork for 5c, beef for 4c and labor went begging for a dollar a day or less.

The Nominating Speech of the Future

"I rise to nominate for parliament a woman who, by the very character of her daily service, her standard of integrity and her abhorrence of all that is evil, deserves well at your hands when you march to the ballot box to exercise your sovereign right."

A woman who considers for others is truly sublime, a woman who never yet asked a man to open a fruit jar (applause); a woman who concedes a latch key to be the rightful possession of the husband (cries of Hear! Hear!); a woman who scorns bread pudding as beneath the commonest family (loud shouts); a woman who has never disturbed the peace and quiet of the family by mentioning the furnace; a woman—a modern woman, to be sure, but not offensively modern—who buttons her own gowns (cries of "Name her! Name her!"); a woman whose tendency toward trading stamps and coupons assures a careful safeguarding of the public funds, who would—(nominated by acclamation.)

ONE ON THE FARMER.—A Scottish farmer one day called to a farm-hand: "Here, Tam, gang roon' and gie the coos a cabbage each, but min' ye gie the biggest tae the coo that gie the maist milk."

cause worth dying for. You are fighting for the coo that gie the maist milk. The boy departed to do his bidding and on his return the farmer asked if he had done what he was told. "Ay, maister," done what he was told. "I gie'd em a cabbage each and hung the biggest one on the pump-handle."

Address and Presentation

On Tuesday evening, Sept. 17th, the many friends and neighbors (numbering about 200) of Mr Thos. Weir gathered at his home and presented him with an address and a well filled purse before his departure for military training.

Rev. Mr McCartney, the popular Methodist pastor was voted to the chair, and after a few well chosen remarks called on Mr Gordon Geddes to read the address which appears below. Thos. Weir replied very feelingly thanking his friends for the generous gift.

A program consisted of short speeches from several present. Mr Thos. Binnie was also present in his usual good humor and sang several songs. Miss Gertie Lawrence delighted the audience with her sweet voice, also a chorus from No. 9, Glenelg was also well rendered. Messrs Neil McKinnon and Thos. McDougall gave several fine violin selections. Mr John McBeth's Phonograph was very entertaining.

After lunch was served the evening was spent in music and social chat and with the singing of Auld Lang Syne and National Anthem a very pleasant evening came to an end.

Following is the address: Yarnoe, Sept. 17th, 1918. To Mr Thos. Weir: Dear Friend,— We your friends and neighbors of this district in which you have spent your boyhood days and which you are about to leave, being called to a new sphere of usefulness, feel that we cannot let you depart without speaking this united word of affectionate farewell.

Supple at Sixty

Age and ripe experience mean happiness and usefulness when mental and bodily powers are preserved by keeping rich blood in the veins. Nature's new nourishment in Scott's Emulsion creates rich blood, warms the body and alleviates rheumatic tendencies. Its oil-foed imparts strength to both body and brain. It is Nourishment—not Stimulant.
