I. O. D. E. Carnival Was Big Success

Attracted by the splendid prizes offered, valued at $100 masqueraders were numerous,—over 100 of them and many costumes were striking and original. The judges, Mrs Rev. Cole, Rev. F. G. Hardy and Principal Morton had no sinecure. Mr Ed. McClockin was in his accustomed place as Director of events.

A burlesque hockey game between the fat men and fat women? resulted in a 2-2 tie. Then followed races and judging with winners as follows:

Both sextettes played the game to the limit, there were few penalties imposed by referee Herb Henning of Hanover who gave general satisfaction, and the spirit of animosity which more often than not has prevailed in the past at a Durham-Hanover meet, was entirely absent. In fact the ice the players fraternized like long lost brothers and the Durhams speak exactly the same language as the Hanoverians. They were the guests of the referee at an oyster supper after, and had other favors offered.

Now that the teams have developed the proper sporting spirit—keen clean contenders on the ice, with all enmity banished at other times, we hope to see it generally adhered to in summer sports as well, and thus an interest and support in sports will be raised which will revive all the old-time enthusiasm and prominence.

was the sentence promulgated at Exhibition Camp on Wednesday of last week.

For the promulgation of the sentence Weber was placed in the centre of a hollow square formed by soldiers of the Garrison Regiment, to which he had been ordered to report. He was under close guard, the men being fully armed with rifles and bayonets. The sentence was confirmed by the Governor-General, was read by the adjutant of the Regiment, following which Weber was taken away under guard to the detention barracks on the grounds, and later will leave for Kingston Penitentiary.

The sentence comes as the climax of a sensational trial before a General Court-martial, which took place at the Armories Mr R. Davidson, who appeared for the Minister of Justice, produced evidence to show that in addition to the act of desertion, Weber had made unpatriotic statements. He is allowed to have threatened that he would shoot the first person attempting to put him into the army.

Both the accused and his father, who was present at the trial, denied that they had made any statements attributed to them by the witnesses for the prosecution.

Chesley Game Here Monday
Arrangements were completed to-day, Thursday, to play the postponed Chesley—Durham hockey match here next Monday night, Feb 17th. Chesley are district leaders—don't miss this game.

Wonin Overtime on Hanover Ice
In one of the most thrilling and exciting hockey matches one could wish for, Durham after twenty minutes overtime took the deciding goal from Hanover last Friday night, and this broke into the "wonin" column for the first this season. The score was 5-4 at the finish. The tenness of the game is revealed when neither team could pile up a comfortable lead at the start, as in the Durham game; when rather it was a ding-dong battle all the way, with little to choose from between the teams, and throughout the score was either tied or only a one-goal lead for Durham. At first period Durham led 2-1; at second, 3-2; at close a tie 3-3; first overtime a tie 4-4; in second overtime Eric Elvidge entered the hall of fame by scoring Durham's winning goal, 5-4.

Though Durham is not in the running through the loss to Hanover here, when Hanover's grand showing coupled with some lucky goals and poor condition of the locals earned them the game, still the local interest evinced was almost as great, for about sixty Durhamites accompanied the team to Hanover, and did their part from the rooster's benches.

The local line-up was somewhat changed from the Durham game, Johnston Alford occupying the nets, Bob Saunders playing centre, and Eric Elvidge left wing and the change strengthened the team, as those replaced were not in their old-time condition for a gruelling contest. It was felt that the same line-up as played at Chesley, the others being Jim McLachlan, who was the back-bone of the team at point, Zimmer at cover and Morlock at right wing, both of whom showed a dashy game.

Both sextettes played the game to the limit, there were few penalties imposed by referee Herb Henning of Hanover who gave general satisfaction, and the spirit of animosity which more often than not has prevailed in the past at a Durham-Hanover meet, was entirely absent. In fact the ice the players fraternized like long lost brothers and the Durhams speak exactly the same language as the Hanoverians. They were the guests of the referee at an oyster supper after, and had other favors offered.

Now that the teams have developed the proper sporting spirit—keen clean contenders on the ice, with all enmity banished at other times, we hope to see it generally adhered to in summer sports as well, and thus an interest and support in sports will be raised which will revive all the old-time enthusiasm and prominence.

Women's Institute
The February meeting of the Institute was held at Mrs J. C. Nichol's Thursday last. Owing to being called to Brantford for a soldier's banquet, Rev. Mr Cole could not give his address but Miss Weir filled the hiatus timely with her paper on "Ideas, not Material Things are of the Greatest Importance in Life," and that Education was a concern of great moment.

A plea was made for greater interest by parents in the work of the schools and in seeing that children were made to realize their importance. The mind of the child at an early age should be directed towards high ideals and a suggestion was made to have reading circles and to read along lines of state matters, so that women could be prepared when the time came to vote intelligently.

Acting on this suggestion the Institute asked Mrs. McGirr to prepare a paper along these lines for next meeting.

Reports of the Provincial Convention were read. A song by Miss Winnie Blyth and instrumental by Mrs Cole and Miss Florabel Nichol were pleasing numbers. Plans for the annual At Home in March were discussed, so was a dainty lunch and the meeting closed joyfully as usual.

Are the Girls to Blame?
(Wiarion Canadian Echo)
Instead of complaining over the actions of their more successful sisters who have captured and are capturing by the thousands, the hearts of Canadians, let the girls of this and other Canadian towns consider where they stand.

It isn't to be wondered at that young men are fighting shy of marriage in this country, for the girls have made them afraid of the expense involved. Nowadays a girl is not content to start life where her parents started, or even where they leave off. She wants to start life on a scale that is simply ruinous to any young man, except those earning enormous salaries, and there aren't many of these hereabouts.

Girls nowadays are demanding to be
