

PRICEVILLE AND VICINITY

PRICEVILLE AND LIMITS

We were asked to mention a little about the Presbyterian church sheds as there is about $150.00 still remaining unprovided for. Now if those who paid already and others who may be using the sheds would give a little towards wiping off this small amount, it would be thankfully received by those who are held responsible for the payment of same. The sheds are free to all denominations and classes of people to use them without charge but nevertheless a little in time of need would be very acceptable from any person who feels at liberty to give.

Last Sunday Rev. Mr Shannon of Toronto preached in the Presbyterian Church here and delivered a good sermon. Mr Shannon is a middling young man.

We received a letter from Rev Mr Matheson, now of Moao Mills stating he was getting along well in his new charge. The congregation had all in readiness; manse made comfortable for their accommodation on arrival.

We called to see Mr Dugald McCormick this forenoon, Monday, Feb. 10, and found him wonderfully holding on well. He don't suffer only weakness. He is now bedfast since last June. His faithful wife still attends to him day and night and holds good to the promise made at the marriage altar that she would prove faithful to the end of their career.

We received a copy of the Oak River Post, Manitoba and on the Honor Roll for soldiers there are 290. Of this number 27 were killed in action, 52 wounded, 5 prisoners and the rest either gassed or honorably discharged. We notice on the names of the wounded N. A. Black who has many friends in this part of the County of Grey and two Brereton boys who acquitted themselves nobly have also many friends in this part.

Our boy, Pte H. H. McDonald is expected on this Tuesday noon train, Feb 11th, 1919, to the old home of his childhood after three years serving in the 98 Canadian Bufts and at the front in France and wounded.

The funeral took place of the late Arch McLean who died in Montana from the effects of a fall down a cellar, mistaking the cellar door for his room door. He lived for three days but never regained consciousness. Mr McLean was an old resident of the South Line, Artemesia, where he came about 65 years ago with his father's family. Of late years he made his home with his daughters in Montana after selling his farm on the South Line. His wife died some 12 years ago, being one of the well-known Burnett's, sister of Councillor Burnet, Artemesia. In religion, Mr McLean was a consistent member of the Baptist Church and was gifted with the talent of prayer whenever called upon to act.

The funeral was largely attended after the remains arrived on the noon train. The casket was taken to the Presbyterian church and the funeral obsequies were conducted by the pastor of the Baptist church, Flesherton, Rev. Mr Quinn assisted by Rev. Mr McCarten, Priceville. Mr Quinn spoke feelingly of the uncertainty of life and the necessity of being prepared to meet death for it often comes unawares. Mr McLean's intention was to come to visit friends at Priceville in the early part of the spring but death interfered and the visit made in a manner which caused sorrow to the many friends in and around Priceville.

The remains were laid to rest beside his wife and daughter who predeceased him many years ago in the old cemetery. The pallbearers were six nephews, mostly McLeans. Mr Colin McMillan of Dromore was Undertaker. The casket was covered with beautiful flowers, showing the respect the departed was held by his many friends and others who knew him. Mr McLean in age would be about 75 years but did not look that old. Mr Wright, the Principal of Dundalk High School is a son-in-law of the deceased.

We were pleased to see Bob McKinnen in town. Bob is a mail clerk on the railway and is getting along well. He returned again on Monday evening, Feb. 10.

Last week's budget

We extend congratulations to Mr and Mrs Chas. McDonald in the receipt of their new home in becoming man and wife. Mrs McDonald (nee Annie Whitmore) is a lady that was known far and near by her faithful attendance as a professional nurse where duty called her to attend to her numerous patients, and now that she has only one to attend to who got over the flu safely, we hope her services will not be needed in that capacity any more. Wishing both long life and prosperity is the desire of all who formed their acquaintance.

This Monday night looks like a change of some kind [is the Indian said.] may be rain, may be snow, maybe I don't know, but by all appearances it looks like rain. Sleighting could not be better. Just enough snow to make it comfortable driving. Southeast wind, it is generally said, that those effected with asthma will feel the east wind coming before its arrival.

We see that Neil Shortreed is in the Standard Back, Durham. Neil has a quick action about him and will be a good member of the staff of clerks in the Bank.

The funeral of the late Mrs Clark, who died at Winnipeg, took place to Dromore cemetery on Monday, 3rd Feb., 1919. Mrs Clark was the widow of the late Neil Clark, near Dromore. Friends from Top Cliff attended the funeral.

PRICEVILLE VILLAGE

The remains of the late Arch B. McLean arrived in Priceville on Monday from Great Falls, Montana, and was taken to the Presbyterian Church where the funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mr McCarten and Mr Quinn of Flesherton. Deceased was well-known in this community, having lived for many years on the farm now owned by Joseph Ferris, South line but for the past five years he had resided with his daughter in Montana. He leaves as chief mourners seven daughters, all of them being married, and one sister, Mrs Dave Henderson. His daughters, Katharine of Montana and Mrs Wright of Dundalk attended the funeral, also Mr Wright, Mrs Mortimer of Shelburne and other relatives. He was buried in the old cemetery beside his wife who died a number of years ago.

On Monday evening, Feb. 3rd, over a hundred and twenty-five of the citizens of Priceville and vicinity gathered at the home of Mr Wm. Alderson to do honor to his son Pte Willie Alderson, who returned from France some time ago. Rev. Mr McCarten was chairman and performed his part as usual in a splendid way, while those taking part in the program could not be beaten. Peter McArthur and Thos. McDougall gave several violin selections which were very much appreciated; Mrs Hermie McLean and Miss Christina McKinnon gave a solo; also Misses Nellie and Esther McLean, Delia McPhee, Katie McDonald and Jean Buchanan; Sadie McKinnon gave a mouth organ selection and Esther McLean recited, all making a splendid success. Short speeches were made by A. D. McLeod, Robt. Parslow, Thos. Nichol and Wm. Alderson, after which Mr McLeod read the address and Miss Kate McTaggart presented Willie with a purse containing twenty-five dollars.

Willie made a short reply, thanking all for their kindness towards him. A splendid lunch was served and God Save the King was sung at the close of the evening. The young folks enjoyed themselves by dancing for a few hours after which all departed to their homes, everyone feeling better we are sure for spending an evening with another of our brave young boys who left everything and answered his Country's call and has now returned to home and loved ones feeling and knowing that he has nobly done his part in keeping the old flag from falling. Willie leaves shortly for the West where his brother and two sisters are and the good wishes of the community with him in his journey through life and Priceville will always be pleased to welcome him back.

Pte. Willie Alderson, - We are gathered here to-night on this very happy occasion to welcome you home from across the ocean where you have been playing a noble part in the best, as well as the worst, war the world has ever known. You know a great deal more than we do of the awful horrors of that war, but we do know sufficient to convince us that never in the history of mankind has there been such an unwarlike war of studied treachery and educated hate.

That God that awful war is over, the glorious victory is won, and you were one among our boys who gave your service and offered your life, if required, to pay the price. The Allied nations have had to pay a terrible price in the sacrifice of noble young lives for the safety of the world but we trust that time shall prove it to have been the best war in the history of the world because of the complete suppression of that great danger that threatened the safety of the world on land and sea and that the necessary co-operation of the Allied nations for war will also lead the nations to realize a great advantage of fuller co-operation in peace until one day we shall see the fulfillment of the poet's dream in 'The Parliament of man the federation of the world'

For your service on our behalf in that great war, we owe you a debt we can never pay; had Germany won the war, then we might have been willing to pay to save our country, our homes, and our loved ones from such destruction and bloodshed as Belgium and other countries suffered. God has spared us from that but we can never forget what we owe our brave army and trusty navy. As a slight token of recognition of your noble service, we would ask you to accept this gift from your friends of Priceville and vicinity. Signed,

Mrs D. McLaughlan, Mrs Jos. Harrison, Miss Sadie McDonald, Mr A. D. McLeod, Mr Wm. Mather.

The "Thrift Magazine" Makes Its Appearance.

The first number of the Thrift Magazine published under the direction of the National War Savings Committee, has made its appearance. It is edited by Mr W. J. Dunlop, B. A., director of the schools section of the W. S. S. organization, who is also editor of The School. The special purpose of this publication is to further the War Savings and Thrift Stamps movement among the schools of the Dominion. Ten numbers are to be published by June, the intention being to bring them out at fortnightly intervals. The Thrift Magazine is supplied free to every teacher in Canada and may be had on application to the office of publication, 371 Bloor St. West, Toronto. Pupils, school inspectors, public libraries and persons generally interested in thrift education, may also receive the Magazine by applying to this address.

THE GLEN

A very interesting week has just passed in the Glen, being the occasions of receptions for our two returned soldiers, Sgts John D. Kennedy and John J. McKeown.

On Tuesday night Mr and Mrs Walter Ewing entertained about fifty guests in honor of their brother Sgt. John D. Kennedy.

Wednesday night was the occasion of a reception and presentation at the home of Mr and Mrs Thos. McKeown, when over one hundred friends and old acquaintances met to honor Sgt. J. McKeown, D. C. M.

The first part of the evening was spent in music and dancing. About eleven o'clock a change was announced and the guest of honor, Sgt. McKeown was called forward. An address was read and a purse presented him by Messrs Thos. Binnie and Charles MacFarlane respectively.

The Sgt. very capably replied thanking the donors for their kindness and also thanked the ladies of the four surrounding Red Cross Societies for the boxes sent him while overseas. Several speakers were then called upon and these paid fine tributes to the returned hero, also to Sgt. J. D. Kennedy who was present. All expressed also their deep sympathy with the homes whose loved ones, will always be missed, and that it was our duty to make ourselves worthy of the sacrifices that had been made by the boys.

The program was not further prolonged but gave way to a tasty lunch provided by the ladies followed by Bag Pipe selections, Scotch reel, and step dancing and later all joined in till the wee sma' hours of the mornin'.

The address was as follows: Feb. 5th, 1919. To Sergeant J. J. McKeown, D. C. M.: Dear Jack -

We are here to-night to give you a welcome home after the time you have spent serving King and Country on the battlefields of France. We are glad that our wishes and prayers have been answered and you have returned safely to your friends and comrades.

We have watched with interest your career as a soldier. When Canadian soldiers were making history for Canada, we knew you were doing your bit and our sympathy went to you and yours when we heard of your wound but learned with gladness of your recovery. We further were proud of your advance from Private to Sergeant; and the admiration and attachment of the boys in your charge in English training camps, shows at once your worthiness and distinction as an instructor. As a slight token of our esteem for you, and of appreciation of your services, and with best wishes for future success to you and your family, we would ask you to accept this purse.

Signed on behalf of old acquaintances and friends, George Stewart, Wm Brown, Angus McArthur.

Friday night another hearty gathering met at the home of Mr and Mrs Walter Ewing to bestow upon Sgt. J. D. Kennedy the same feelings of honor and gratitude.

Splendid music set the time for the first part of the evenings proceedings, till Mr John A. Graham was voted to the chair to take charge of a change in the program. With his usual ability, aided by a coterie of responsive impromptu speakers, tributes of honor were ably showered upon Sgt. Kennedy, and upon all who have so gallantly served their country, on the field of battle.

Upon an address being read and a purse presented to Sgt. Kennedy, he thanked the friends for their kindness, said it was a complete surprise to him to be recognized so, on his visit to his home, and on behalf of himself and all the boys, expressed the very great appreciation for the boxes, letters and other remembrances of the different Red Cross Societies.

Mr Graham, on commending the heroic spirit of the soldiers on the field of battle said he hoped to see them take the lead in fighting for the same principles of right and justice in the ever so serious war at home in restoring satisfactory social conditions. After the program was concluded, lunch was partaken of and after that music and dancing was resumed and all enjoyed themselves till morning.

Following is the address: Feb. 7th, 1919. To Sergeant J. D. Kennedy, -

We, your friends and neighbors, have assembled here to-night to do honor to you, Sergeant Kennedy, and to express to you our appreciation of your noble service in the struggle for justice, liberty and righteousness against a ruthless foe. You have helped to bring peace again to our troubled land we cannot respect you too highly. When war broke out you were among the first to answer the call and don the khaki. Though it meant such great sacrifice to leave a wife and children and home ties, you responded to the urgent

Lantic Old Fashioned Brown Sugar

Pure brown sugar gives to baking and desserts the characteristic molasses taste which is a great improvement to many dishes. Brown sugar, as well as white, should be kept in the pantry of every household which appreciates old-time goodies.

Brown sugar is economical. It costs a little less per pound than other pure sugars and it flavors as well as sweetens. Grocers sell as much as you wish.

For fear Grandmother's recipes might be forgotten, we have reprinted a number of the best of them in the booklet illustrated at the top. We will send it to you upon receipt of 2c. stamp.
