CANADIAN INDIANS
GAIN IN NUMBERS

MANY SOLDIERS DECORATED FOR VALOR IN WAR.

Native Races Are Making Notable Progress in Prosperity, Productiveness and Education.

That the Indian population of Canada is slowly but steadily increasing, that the income of the Indians and the value of their real and personal property has increased, and that over 3,500 Indians, or about 35 per cent, of the Indian male population of military age, enlisted for active service, are interesting facts appearing in the annual report of the Department of Indian Affairs for the year ended March 31, 1918, just published.

According to the report, the total number of Indians and Eskimos in Canada is 109,294. Of this total, 165, 000 are Indians and 3,296 are Eskimos.
The total value of the real and personal property possessed by the people of the native race in 1918 was $65,235, 122, against $62,885,915 in the preceding year and $56,435,998 in 1916.
The total income of the Indians from all sources in 1918 was $3,418,307.10, against $7,399,456 in 1917. This is an increase of $1,117,821.10 over the income of the Indians in the preceding year. The tables given in the report show that there has been an increase of upwards of two and one-half millions of dollars in the income of the Indians during the past four years.

The report emphasizes the loyal and patriotic spirit shown by the Indians during the war and their gallantry on the field of battle. As shown by the report, many of the Indian soldiers have been decorated for bravery. The sum of $24,593.31 had been contributed by the Indians to the Patriotic, Red Cross, and other war funds up to the date of the publication of the report.

Creditable Part in War.
Referring to the part taken by the Indians in the war, the report says:
"Special mention must be made of the Chippewas of Nawash, Cape Croker, Kama, Saganog, Georgina and Snake Island, the Mississaugas of the Fort William band, and the Mow-wats of the Thames in Ontario, the Mimicas of Prince Edward Island, the Cote band, in the Felle Agency, Saskatchewan, and the Head of the Lake band, in the Okanagan Agency, British Columbia, as these bands have sent to the front practically all their able-bodied male members of military age.

In addition the Indians are making good progress. There are 329 schools of all classes in operation under the supervision of the Department—264 day schools, 63 boarding and 17 industrial schools. The total enrollment for 1918 was 12,413—6,211 boys and 6,202 girls—an increase of 235 pupils over the preceding fiscal year.

The expenditure on Indian education from parliamentary appropriations during the year amounted to $134,122.33.

In addition to these appropriations the various bands of Indians contributed the sum of $29,540.70 toward the payment of teachers' salaries and the maintenance of school buildings.

There was a large increase in grain production and farm stock on the reserves. In 1917 the number of acres of land under crop on the Indian reserves throughout Canada was 76,321 acres. In 1918 there were 82,421 acres under crop, an increase of 11,733 acres.

FORTY-ONE ROPES OF PEARLS

British Women Give Their Jewels
To the Red Cross

Women in all parts of the British Empire have given so many pearls for the Red Cross that a recent sale of part of them in London Times, "was the humble objective" of those who originated the plan a year ago. Great demands, it was feared, had already been made, but the owners of pearls "and other jewels; no human neck could have borne the weight of the gifts they poured in on the jewellers appointed custodians of the gifts." The movement, we read, was sanctioned in high places:

"The Queen gave a lovely gem from the Royal store and pearls of great beauty came also from Queen Alexandra, Princess Victoria (who became president of the committee), and other royal ladies. These were the early days of last March. In April nearly seven hundred pearls were received; before May was out there were over two thousand; and there were nearly three thousand when the exhibition of single gems was held in June.
To-day the pearls which are to be sold number close on four thousand.

"Instead of one necklace the women of Great Britain, of the Dominions, and of friendly nations have given forty-one ropes of pearls, many of them of finest orient, and all of them worth possessing. The gifts were, as wonderfully given. Pearls came, as readers of the Times cannot forget, in memory of men who had given their lives in the great war, of regiments that had helped to make history."

The navy is a defensive weapon and not an offensive one. And that is why we do not mean to give it up. We have kept these islands free from invasion for centuries, and we mean to take no risks in the future.—Mr.
Lloyd George.

NO NAVAL BASES IN PACIFIC

Question of the Marshall Islands is Agitating Australia

The action of Japan in insisting on the retention of the Marshall Islands in the Pacific, instead of submitting them to the mandatory system to which Great Britain and other countries are willing to lend adherence in respect of the disposition of former German colonies, is causing Australia some alarm. The Minister for Labor and Industry in the New South Wales Cabinet, now in London, points out that resolutions adopted by the Federal Parliament of Australia with respect to the future control of German colonies in the Pacific are inspired more by the fear of future wars than from a desire for adherence to the democratic feeling of Australia is opposed. The unanimous feeling is that former German possessions must in future be used as colonies and not as naval bases, with very little colonization, as was Germany's practice.

The Marshall Islands are a small group of coral islets, with a limited native population, presenting few inducements to settlement even by such a frugal and industrious people as the Japanese. On the other hand, they would afford safe shelter to the largest fleet in the world, and their position might, under certain circumstances, render them a menace to Australia. If Japan is not prepared to accept a mandate with respect to the tenure of these islands it is clear that there must be rigid restrictions as to their utilization as a naval base or coaling station for the Japanese fleet or the fleet of any other country. Only by such means will Australia, and with Australia the world, feel satisfied that they constitute no menace in the future to peace or the freedom of the seas.

TESTED GAS MASKS
AT RISK OF DEATH

BRITISH ENGINEERS ENSURED SAFETY OF ARMY.

Every Gas Was Tested and An Antidote Found Six Months Ahead gunners; and six months later the small box respirator was distributed to all troops. Of these respirators, 20, 000,000 were made. Italy asked for them, and all her troops were supplied within two months. The result was that in the big attack in June, when the Austrians crossed the Piave and fired hundreds of thousands of gas shells, the Italians had only two men killed by gas.

THE TERRIBLE "ASHCAN"

From the captain of a U-boat, a limp, bedraggled figure that had been fished out of the sea with a lifebuoy, came to me the following description of what it is like to be depth charged, says "Jackstaff" in the London Daily Mail.

"Well, how did you like it?" he asked ironically. By "it" the questioner meant the series of exploding "ashcans" which had thrown sky-ward big lumps of the sea mixed with fragments of submarines.

Dazed, and evidently uncertain of his own anatomical condition, the U-boat captain felt his legs, then his arms, meanwhile staring around with comically bewildered mien. Then as realization of what had happened came gradually to him he answered the question in slow, methodic speech.

Being depth charged, he said, was "awful." The strain of it so damaged the morale of a submarine's crew that if they got away they were of no further use. By the shock of the explosion lights were put out; frequently leaks were started in the hull, and the boat was thrown right on her side.

Creeping along in this condition, with charges bursting all around, although they might not be very near, was appalling. If lights were got going they would be extinguished again by the later detonations. All a crew could do was to run their boat out of the danger area as quickly as possible, wondering fearfully the while whether the next "burst" would crush her up like a smashed eggshell.

If they escaped they were very fortunate. It was a terrible ordeal.
"Now, please, will you give me some meat?" he ended.

This odd anti-climax to a tale of terror astonished the auditors. But the U-boat captain meant the request quite seriously. It appeared that in the port he sailed from (which was neither Kiel, Wilhelmshaven nor Zeebrugge) meat had for a long time been unobtainable. Now he had hopes of a good square meal, and that his body was whole, he next thought of his stomach. Which was very Hunlike, if not very heroic.

ranged for the establishment of mills

CLEANSER YOUR HAIR
MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL,
THICK, GLOSSY, WAVY

Try this! All dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair cleanser" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair.
Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will spend a few cents for a small bottle of Danderine at your favorite drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

The Sea is His
The sea is His, He made it, Black gulf and sunlit shoal, From barriered bight to where the long Leagues of Atlantic roll; Small strait and ceaseless ocean He bade each one to be.
The sea is His; He made it—
And Britain kept it free.

By pain and stress and striving Beyond the nations' ken,
By vigils stern while others slept,
By lives of many men;
Through nights of storm, through dawnings Backer than midnight be—
This sea that God created, Britain has kept it free.

Count me the splendid captains Who sailed with courage high To chart the perilous ways unknown—Tell me where these men lie!
To light a path for ships to come They moored at Dead Man's Quay,
The sea is God's; He made it free,
And these men kept it free.

O little land of England O mother of hearts so brave, Men say this trust shall pass from thee
Who guardest Nelson's grave!
Aye, but these braggarts yet shall hear Who'd hold the world in fee,
The sea is God's—and Britain, Britain shall keep it free.

With the Fingers!
Says Corns Lift Out
Without Any Pain

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This new drug is an ether compound, and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heeled footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

My Standard
To live as gently as I can;
To be, no matter where, a man;
To take what comes of good or ill And cling to faith and honor still;
To do my best, and let that stand;
The record of my brain and hand;
And then, should failure come to me, Still work and hope for victory.

To have no secret place wherein I stoop unseen to shame or sin;
To be the same when I'm alone As when my every deed is known;
To live unshaken, unafraid;
Of any step that I have made;
To be without pretense or sham Exactly what men think I am.

year will be just about as profitable.
The export trade is developing. What the dealers want is more maple sugar, more maple syrup, and better quality.

Too Wise
Some one just for a joke, asked the new clerk in the drug store for some sweet potato seeds. The clerk hunted all through the seeds, but could find no sweet potato seeds and finally appended to the boss.

The latter explained that he was being kidded and cautioned him about not letting smart Alex put anything over on him.
A few days later a lady entered the store and asked for some bird seed.
"Aw, go on," grinned the clerk,
"you can't kid me. Birds is hatched
