Do British Girls Make the Better Wives

Subject.

Ripon, England, April 13 tion of Canadian soldiers marrying Brit-ish girls. I am sending you a clipping on same I do not put myself on record to whether I think it right or wrong. But here is a sample of Canadian opinions on this same article. There are 30 soldiers (all University students and therefore have a degree of common sense) in my hut, and all have read the article enclosed people attended the party at Mr Alex and have more or less to comment on the Campbell's of Crawford on Monday subject. By actual vote, sixteen said it was right in every detail, declaring from what they knew of English and Colonial girls. the former would make better wives, and that the great majority of Mr. and Mrs. Bert. Kennefick and Canadian girls wanted autos, pleasure, and a good time. Eleven of the thirty family and Mr and Mrs Jas. Kenniconsidered that the contrast was a little fick of Holland Centre spent Sunday too much in favor of the British lass. at Mr Jas. Vasey's. and English women who have without any trouble at all made themselves good positions. Why? Well, the average Colonial girl is very fond of a good time, she won't do this and she won't do that ; her hands are very nice and soft, and she has a fair share of jewellery on her fin-

Why, you have the proof in Britain now. Look at the number of marriages taking place. Do you think all the men are fools? I do not think so.

What is the reason which is making i the British girl so attractive to Colonial Vasey's and expect to be ready to eyes? Her love of home, and her ability to make a home. The men see it at once and are not slow to take the advantage

The Colonial girl is not nearly so fond of her home as the Scottish or English girl; the average home training in the Colonies is nothing to compare with the average home life of the Scottish or Eng-

I have met lots of Australians who have married in England or Scotland, and they have told me that it was not looks at all they were thinking of when they married; it was simply and solely because the Scottish girl has the ability to buckle to and make a home either in city

My advice to the girls in Britain is, if they really want to marry Australians or Canadians or New Zealanders, they have Chas. C. Ramage Discusses the absolutely nothing to fear, and if they are going to cities or country towns there is not a bit of difference between their cities and country towns and ours.

As long as a girl is healthy and has common sense she can much more than hold her own in the Colonies. She has only to go there and see for herself, and she can snap her fingers at the wiseacres who shake their heads and talk nonsense
