MULOCK

The children of S. S. No. 6, Bentinck had planned a surprise for their teacher Mr C. Rudolph on Friday, June 27, before school was dismissed. Mr Rudolph was asked to take his place on the platform when three of the pupils went forward and presented him with a real ebony set of military brushes and Japanese ink well. The presentation was made by Blanche Boyce and Mildred Brown and the address read by Betta Boyce. Following is the address:

Mr R. Rudolph:

Dear Mr Rudolph,
We, the pupils of the school section No. 6, Bentinck, wish to take this opportunity of expressing to you the high esteem and personal regards in which you are held among us as a teacher.

During the last year which you have presided over us you have at all times shown your interest in us by the faithful and earnest way in which the work has been presented which at times we have been neglectful and careless of lessons entrusted to us we feel that we cannot let you depart without giving you some evidence of our respect. We ask you Mr Rudolph to accept this handsome set of military brushes and Japanese ink well, as a token of our esteem. May you have a pleasant holiday and again return to instruct and teach us for the coming year.

Signed on behalf of the school:
Fred Ashton, Laverne McCallum,
John McDonald, Elton Adlam.
Dated June 27th, 1919.

Though taken entirely by surprise and deeply moved by such kindness from his pupils Mr Rudolph gave a suitable reply.

Good-bye to Master Fred, Misses Ruth and Elsie Ashton.

At the close of the school here June 27 marked a pleasing event when Master Dougald Hastie presented Master Fred, Misses Ruth and Elsie Ashton with a purse of money and the following address was read by Gerald Brunst.

Dear Schoolmates:

As you are about to sever from among us we, your teacher and school-mates, wish to show our esteem and love for you by asking you to accept this purse of money as a small token of remembrance. May happiness attend you wherever you go.

Signed on behalf of the school,
Geo. Twamley,
Dougald Hastie,
John McDonald.
