dollar bill often stands between us" and he made an earnest appeal to young men and maidens to take the larger view and be attracted to the work of the ministry or to deaconess work. There were troubles in the way, but it was a man's job.

It was missing the point that a man should give himself in his last moments—when the game is up. This was not religion: salvation was giving a life in its days of strength, not merely at the time of dissolution.

THE AFTER MEETING

He announced at both services that he would talk on war experiences in an after meeting. This he did, giving a clear idea of the strenuous nature of even a chaplain's life. War service, he said, broadened sympathies, and made him determine that in the future he would be more than ever an enthusiast in Christian work.

"That glorious 1st Contingent!" War had not yet revealed its serious aspect, and they went forward singing. When its real character dawned on them, even engines of death did not deter.

He paid tribute to "the old grey mother across the sea" whose marine chasers made safe the path through the danger zone. He dwelt much on the spirit of the troops, even in the dark days of 1918 no one contemplated defeat. "One glorious gate was never forced, the gate of Ypres," and his auditors applauded in their heart if not with their hands.

He had learned in the war to respect the ordinary man: "human nature was a great and glorious thing" and it was wonderful the sacrifices men would make for each other through the kinship of suffering and sacrifice.

Disastrous Fire at Dromore

Colin McMillan loses Home and Business Buildings

Last Friday between 6 and 7 p. m. fire broke out in a building at the rear of the home of Mr. Colin McMillan, Dromore, and in spite of steps to stay its course, the fine brick residence was destroyed and also harness shop, Furniture store room and hearse near by. The loss is a heavy one as an insurance of $3000

Mr. McMillan's personality and business bulks largely in the life of Dromore. He has the sympathy of a wide circle of friends in his loss, who all hope that the calamity will prove him still possessed with the energy to rise from the ashes of the past to still greater things. Mr. McMillan is for the present occupying the store and residence formerly occupied by Mr. J. M. Findlay.

Gold Medals for Egremont's 100 Soldier Boys

Presented by Township Council at Big Picnic in Holstein.

A memorable day in township history will be Tuesday, July 8, when Egremont's soldier sons who have fought for king and country, and since returned, and those who fell in the noble cause, were recognized and honored by the Township as a whole.

A crowd of 1200 thronged the beautiful park in Holstein. They were there from Boothville to Mt. Forest, from McClinton's Corners to Conn, and all intervening places, besides many from outside the township limits.

Hanover's excellent band enlivened the day with a generous selection of musical numbers, including several patriotic airs.

The program for the afternoon was in charge of Reeve Lothian, who in opening gave a fine address. He reviewed the proceedings leading up to this picnic, congratulated the boys on what they had accomplished, and in following the pride those at home took in following their record at the front.

Barrister Clark of Mt. Forest, recounted the glorious achievements of our boys, and stated Canada had now all the resources to make us great as a nation.

Dr. Jamieson, M. P. P. spoke of the loyalty of Canada in sending 33,000 men at the first call—more than asked for. The loss of many should inspire us to make Canada a better and brighter land, and now that strife is over all nations should make friends and pull together.

The function of the day was the soldiers presentation. Clerk David Allan read the address from the Township while Reeve Lothian presented gold medals on behalf of the citizens of Egremont. He called out the recipient's name, while Dep. Reeve McDougall, Councillors Allan McEachern and Swanson distributed the medals to the boys, who were a fine stalwart looking group of soldiers, in their uniforms, seated in a body at the side of the platform.

Egremont lost fifteen of her sons on the battlefield and in memory and recognition of these heroes, the medals were given to parents or friends of the deceased, while the crowd, at the Reeve's request, arose and stood for a minute at rest to their valor. Those who have fallen are:

will not begin to cover the loss on the valuable property. Other buildings near by were in much danger and their safety had to be strenuously fought for. The origin of the fire is not clear, but a supposition is that it sprang from children playing with matches.

WOOL

We are in the market as usual to handle all the wool that comes our way, and expect to pay as high a price as the market will allow. Last year we handled more than we ever did previously, and this year will be larger, as in this district alone we know the flocks have greatly increased in numbers.

Now customers, we have a very large stock in every line, and it's a stock in every respect of Number 1 quality. If not as we say or if you are dissatisfied with any of it, let us know. We are here to make it right. We could not give you a list of all these different things, but here below are a few of the things that generally sell during the wool season.
