Keeping Time

By Chas. H. Smith.

I have questioned many farmers as to the kind of time they keep. One will say: "I keep sun time—it's about twenty-three minutes faster than standard time except that our clock gains some." Another says: "Well, I try to keep sun time. I set my clock thirty minutes faster than the depot clock. My clock loses a little though."

The entire business world runs on standard time—except farmers. The trains, boats, interurbans all run on standard time. The rest of the business world goes to work and closes up shop on standard time, whether it is Eastern, Central, Mountain or Pacific standard time.

Because farmers persist in keeping their own special brand of time they are constantly figuring out the difference between their watches and the watches that govern the rest of the business world. "Let's see," one man says, studying his watch; "it's now seven-thirty minutes past nine. The train leaves at twenty-two minutes past ten. I have a little more than an hour and my watch is little better than half an hour fast. That gives me a little more than an hour and a half. Whereas if he had correct standard time—and it's easier to have standard time than any other kind of time—he would glance at his watch and say: "Nine-seventeen—have exactly an hour and five minutes to catch my train."

In the first place, there is really no secret about driving a nail. The only thing to do, is to be sure you hit it on the head every time. And if you do, the nail is driven!

Nail-driving is one of the finest illustrations of the philosophy of success. Center your eye, your heart and your brain on the thing you desire to achieve, and if you concentrate enough and master faith sufficient, you cannot help but succeed. Hit the nail on the head.

The origin of moons is one of the mysteries of astronomy. If, as some star-gazers assert, our lunar orb was thrown off from the earth when the latter was a molten, fiery mass—the Pacific ocean being the hole left by its exit—a proprietary interest in it.

At least two or three of Jupiter's moons are still hot, as proved by the fact that they give out some light of their own. It is very interesting to watch, through a telescope, the shadows thrown upon that giant planet by its moons, observation of the eclipses of which furnished the first data for estimating the velocity of light.

Uranus has four little moons, which, oddly enough, rise in the north and set in the south. Neptune possesses only one, rather diminutive, which traverses the sky from southwest to northeast.

The automobile horn was adopted in this country in 1900 to substitute whistles, bells, gongs, etc. By adding 50 per cent. coal oil to the waste oil drained out of the engine, a very efficient mixture is obtained for the use on mixtures, which will keep them in the finest condition.

A coin of the reign of George II, dated 1739, was found by a cottager while spitting up an old tree trunk near Northam Beches, says a London despatch. The coin was wedged tightly in the wood. Experts who saw the coin expressed the opinion that it must have been dropped into a cavity in the tree and the bark gradually grew over it.

WEAK MOTHERS REGAIN HEALTH

Through the New Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

No mother should allow nervous weakness to get the upper hand of her. If she does worry will mar her work in the home and torment her in body and mind. Day after day spent amid the same surroundings is enough to cause fretfulness and depression. But there are other causes, as every mother knows, that tend to make her nerves run down. A change would benefit her jaded system, and rest might improve her blood so as to give the nerves a better tone. But rest and change are often impossible, and it is then that all worn out women should take a short treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which make new blood, rich with the elements on which the nerves thrive. In this way these pills restore regular health, increased energy, new ambition and steady nerve. There is a lesson for other women in the case of Mrs. Harry P. Snider, Wilton, Ont., who says: "Five years ago my twin babies were born, and I was left very weak and very miserable, hardly fit to do anything. The doctor gave me medicine, but it did not help me. Then I tried another doctor, but with no better results. One day I went home to my mother, telling her how miserable I felt, and that the doctor's medicine had not done me any good. Mother asked me why I did not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as I was glad to try anything that might help me, I got three boxes when I went back home. By the time these were used there was no doubt they were helping me, and I got three more boxes. But I did not need them all, for by the time the fifth box was used, I was entirely cured, and never felt better in my life. Now when I hear people talk about feeling weak or miserable I always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and tell what they did for me, and similar cases I shall continue to recommend them. At the first sign that the blood is out of order take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and note the speedy improvement they make in the appetite, health and spirits. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

15,000 miles from Mars, whereas the diameter of the planet being 4,000 miles—Gulliver's estimate would place it at a distance of 12,000 miles. For the outer moon he gives 20,000 miles as the distance, which is really 15,000 miles. The time of revolution for the inner moon is actually seven and a half hours and for the outer one thirty hours.

Peace. This morning with the whistles ringing shrill. Bells peeling loud with glee, From out the darkness stole a whisper sweet.

Peace, peace to thee! The nations from their Calvary have passed, And lo! on earth the morning-breaks at last.

Peace! Peace! How often have I heard thy voice In solitude's release; The peace of woods, of fields, of hill, of vale; Yet more than these; For there amid the darkness, seems to me,

That we have caught the purport of thy plea. The right to strive, though fail, to rise again, And thus, with courage strong, To hold for them a purer heritage In days to come;

Friend of the weak, balm of the weary; Ah! this is worthy of a conqueror's part. To know above the fields "where poppies blow,"

The spirits glad and free; That they have won 'e'en sweeter dwelling place; Than this could be; That they have found the rainbow in the skies, And gained the light reflected in our eyes.

To find a strengthened faith in powers of good— Humanity's deep song; To know that thus e'er reigns eternal love Above the wrong. And, though the darkness cloud earth's faintest things, We still may find the healing of Thy wings.

To find within the morning all we've lost, The suffering soul's surcease; To find at dawn of day an ampler life; Yea, this is peace.

RED HOT JULY DAYS HARD ON THE BABY

July—the month of oppressive heat; red hot days and sweeter nights, is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be constantly on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they come on suddenly to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the hot summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaint, or if the trouble does come suddenly will banish it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Miracle. Love met a worldling on the way, And softly crept into his breast; Straight self and greed refused to stay, Where love had dared to build a nest.

Into a grim and cheerless home Love forced his way through barriers tall, And wretchedness and chill and gloom— The golden sunshine flooded all. —Jean Blewett.

Some War Facts and Figures. These are some of the amazing facts in Sir Douglas Haig's final despatch:— General Headquarters received 9,000 telegrams in one day, and 3,400 letters by despatch-riders. One army headquarters had 10,000 telegrams in a day, and the daily telegrams on the lines of communication were 23,000. There were 1,500 miles of telegraphs and telephones, and 3,688 miles of railways, on which 1,800 trains ran weekly.

In six weeks 5,000,000 rations were supplied by our armies in France, to 800,000 civilians in the relieved areas. The total daily ration strength of our armies was 2,700,000. An addition of one ounce to each man's ration represented an extra 75 tons. Over 400,000 horses and mules and 46,700 motor vehicles were used, and 4,500 miles of road made or maintained.

In 1914 there was one machine gun to 500 infantrymen in the British army, at the armistice there was one machine gun to 20 infantrymen. Over 700,000 tons of ammunition were fired by our artillery on the western front from last August to the armistice. The number of individual landings at the ports managed by the British armies in France exceeded 10,000,000 up to the armistice, while in the last eleven months of the war the armistice weekly tonnage landed at these ports was 175,000 tons.

HOME BANK'S RECORD YEAR

The report submitted at the Annual Meeting of the Home Bank of Canada indicated that the Bank had enjoyed the most successful year in its history.

The progress made by the Home Bank during the past few years was referred to particularly by General Manager Mason, who pointed out that the liquid assets now amounted to over 50 per cent of the total liabilities to the public, or actual cash assets were the strongest in the history of the Bank, representing approximately 22 per cent of total liabilities to the public. Large gains were also made in deposits, the increase for the past twelve months having amounted to over five million dollars. Notwithstanding the fact that 5,508 of the depositors had subscribed over $4,500,000 to the last Dominion Victory Loan.

The increase in deposits during the war period had amounted to over ten million dollars, an increase of over 100 per cent, and this increase had been maintained by the increased patronage extended the bank by the public in both savings and general commercial lines. None of these figures include deposits of the Dominion Government.

The general statement of assets and liabilities everywhere reflects the progress made by the Home Bank, the total assets of the bank now standing at $25,000,000, equivalent to 19.83 per cent of the paid up capital and reserve fund. After the payment of all dividends and various appropriations, including $100,000 to the Reserve Account, the amount carried forward was $15,834,848, as compared with $10,371 for the previous year.

FIRE THAT IS HARD TO PUT OUT.

Water is not of much use for putting out an oil fire. It may, indeed, be much worse than useless, for burning oil floats on it, and may thus be carried to considerable distances, spreading the fire far and wide. Steam turned upon the flames through pipes is often highly effective. If its volume is sufficient a cloud will be formed that serves as a blanket, filling the tank about the oil and excluding air from it.

Much more satisfactory, however, is the newer method of bringing together two chemical solutions, and spreading over the surface of the burning oil the thick foam resulting from their combination, thereby excluding air and extinguishing the flames. The steam method works very well with gas well fires, a number of portable field boilers being set up and steam thrown from them upon the burning gas, thus forming a protective spray. If the gas stream can be interrupted for only a moment just above the point of discharge the fire will be put out.

For putting out small gasoline fires (especially on the floor) sawdust works surprisingly well. It floats for a while on the surface of the burning liquid, forming a blanket which excludes the air and smotheres the flame. Dry sawdust seems to serve as well as moist.

Frothy mixture solutions of the kind above described, when put up in portable containers of convenient size, are useful in extinguishing small fires about garages. Sometimes electricity generated by the friction of flowing gasoline against the bottom and sides of a can, or even by the flow of gasoline through a rubber hose, produces a spark which, discharged into an automobile tank that is being filled, ignites the fluid with serious or disastrous results. To guard against accidents of this kind is for obvious reasons most difficult.

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN.

Make this beauty lotion cheaply for your face, neck, arms and hands. At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart pint of the most wonderful skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon seeds get in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, whiten and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It is marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.

Another Haig Story.

Earl Dartmouth, the Governor of the Zingari Cricket Club, has related a new story of Sir Douglas Haig. When Sir Douglas was invited to accept the freedom of the club, he was reminded by Earl Dartmouth of its three principles—"keep your promise, keep your temper, and keep your wicket up." The Field Marshal promptly replied: "Your principles are worthy of the nation that entered the war to keep its promise, that kept its temper through ill-fortune and through good, and please God, will keep its wicket up until its promise has been redeemed."

Visitor's Now Problem. Friend of the Family—Where's everybody, Bennet? The Butler—Well, sir, the missus and the young ladies is up in the sky learning to fly and the master's in his submarine in the ornamental lake; it's very seldom you catches them on Terry Firm's these days.

In the Book of Genesis. There had been a heavy downfall of rain, and the district manager of a Scottish railway was quickly on the warpath. He telegraphed along different sections of the line as follows: "Send full particulars on the flood."

Now there was a man on a particular section of the line where no flooding had taken place, and he decided that the message was a joke, so he wired back as follows: "Look in the Book of Genesis."

Taking a Rest. An officer on board a warship was drilling his men. "I want every man to lie on his back, put his legs in the air and move them as if he were riding a bicycle," he explained. "Now commence."

After a short effort one of the men stopped. "Why have you stopped, Murphy?" asked the officer. "If ye please sir," was the answer, "O'm coasting."

A Wreath Immortal.

The nations weave a garland gay To deck the allied dead, Who died that earth might feel no more The tyrant's iron tread; Old England's rose of velvet red, The fleur-de-lis of France, With Cuba's jasper, waxen-pale, The blossom of romance;

The Irish shamrock flagreed With drops of silver dew; Brave Belgium's forget-me-nots So softly, sweetly blue; The sturdy thistle, purple-dark, From Scottish glen and hill; And from the shield of Portugal, The yellow daffodil;

The wattle from Australia's bush, Japan's chrysanthemum, Canada's maple-leaf that decked So gallantly her drum; Italy's laurel, spring first To crown a classic god; And, plumed with glory like the sun, The U. S. goldenrod.

All all are rooted in the dust Of heroes o'er the sea, Who perished in the righteous cause Of God and Liberty. Immortal is the wreath entwined On this Memorial Day; The tribute of a grateful world, It will not pass away.

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of freezeone." This will remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet. A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, aching corn should relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, dries up and can be lifted out with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that, while freezeone is sticky, it dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corns—without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Don't let father die of infection or lockjaw from whitening at his corns, but clip this out and make him try it.
