 A despatch from Winnipeg says:—While watching the large blackboards with their hundreds of ever-changing figures, and listening to the bedlam of the many traders endeavoring to sell on the Grain Exchange, H.R.H. the Prince of Wales purchased 50,000 bushels of October oats at 83½ cents. Immediately the deal was closed, the market fell off ¼ cent to 83¢, October delivery eventually closing at 82½, making a drop of ¼ cent after the Prince had made his speculation, which proved a temporary loss to himself of $375. The broker who sold to His Royal Highness promised him a profit of at least $2,000 on his return from the West.

 A despatch from Saskatoon says:—For the first time in the history of Saskatchewan, the Heir to the Throne visited here on Thursday and was accorded a welcome which has never before been witnessed in the district, fully 50,000 people, farmers from the districts for miles around, journeying in to pay honor to their future King.
 After being publicly received by Mayor F. R. McMillan, his Royal Highness decorated a number of returned soldiers with medals for gallantry. A visit was then paid to the University, where an address was delivered by Sir Frederick Haultain.
 Again passing through cheering crowds, his Royal Highness was driven out to the Exhibition grounds, where he witnessed a stampede, something which the Prince had never seen before. A tremendous cheer from fully 20,000 people greeted the Royal party, who witnessed the performance from an especially erected Royal box. Riding bucking broncos, steer throwing, wild horse riding, lassoing wild horses, all kept the Prince greatly interested. When the performance was over and his Royal Highness was about to leave, he asked permission to ride one of the bucking broncos, and, amid the wildest cheers, the Prince rode down the track, surrounded by a photograph taken on the horse, surrounded by his bodyguard.

 A despatch from Toronto says:—Farmers, live stock men and those connected with allied industries are to have a club in Toronto. It is to be located in the centre of the city, and is to be known as the Yeoman's Club. It is to be conducted along the lines which have made a success of the Farmers' Club, in London, England, which is the centre that farmers and breeders in England, as well as from all parts of the world, when in the old country, gravitate to.
 Plans are at present under way to form the company, which will be capitalized at $50,000. There is to be $10,000 of paid-up stock, and upwards of $4,000 worth of stock has already been sold. Shares are to be $25 each, and no member will be permitted to purchase more than five shares.

GERMAN EMIGRATION TO CANADA

Society Formed in Germany to Help Teutons Settle in Dominion.
 A despatch from London says:—Germany, having had little success against the Canadians on the western front, is going in for peaceful penetration of the Dominion itself after the war. A society for the encouragement of Teutonic emigration to Canada has been formed in Berlin, and its secretary has naively written to the Canadian immigration authorities in London to ask when operations may begin. Until the peace treaty was ratified by the Canadian Parliament, German immigration was forbidden as was all other Continental immigration, in fact.
 That a large influx of German emigration to Canada may be looked for is to be inferred from a statement made by Sir George McL. Brown, of the Canadian Pacific Railway. As a result of a visit to the Continent, he predicts that Canada may have as large an influx of selected German immigrants as she desires if she wants them. The same is also true of France, and more still, of Belgium, Holland and Scandinavia also offer many prospective settlers. Such immigration would no doubt be encouraged, but a delicate question that Canada will have to consider will be that of the recruitment of her citizenship from Southern Europe, which also, says Sir George Brown, promises to be very large.
