McDougall, who recently returned from overseas, was called forward and presented with a club bag from Red Cross workers and gold medal from the township.

The address was read by Mrs J. McKechnie and Mr A. C. McDonald and Miss F. McDonald presented the gifts. Harry responded in short but very suitable reply, thanking one and all very kindly for having remembered him while overseas and since coming home. After a short program of speeches, recitations, duets and solos a dainty lunch was served. All departed to their homes feeling better after having spent the evening with another of our brave young boys who has nobly done his part in keeping the old flag from falling.

Mr Stanley Past, mail courier on route No. 2, was the unlucky fellow on Wednesday last, when the rear of his buggy became disconnected unexpectedly at the forestale and as a result was to follow: the stern end left for a high attitude, returning to the earth in a forward direction, throwing Stanley well clear of the highway. The postie practically unhurt hurried "whoa" at his horse and it stopped a few paces down the road. Although the driver escaped with a shaking up, we are convinced he would be trying to figure out in his dream that night, what might have happened, "had he hitched his hairy steed in the harness that day."
