Wm. Smellie is Dead

There was laid to rest on Tuesday, Oct. 21, 1919, in the old cemetery, Priceville, the mortal remains of Wm. Smellie, of the first Concession, N. D. R. Glenelg. He died the Saturday previous at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jno. McLean, after a week of severe suffering, though for some years back he has been suffering from the infirmities of age, having passed the fourscore by two years and three months. He lies beside his wife who predeceased him many years.

Mr Smellie was born in Scotland, came to this country in early youth and was among the pioneers of Glenelg township, where he married and where his family of 3 sons and 5 daughters were born. One son Willie and one daughter Maggie (Mrs Flowers) died some years ago, the survivors being Duncan on the home farm, Jas-in Port Arthur, Mary, Mrs Jno. McLean, at whose home he died, Tena, Mrs David Nichol, Annie of Hamilton, (who was home for some weeks before the end, and another daughter in the West. Attending the funeral from a distance were Mr Dan Galvin and two sisters, nephew and nieces respectively of deceased, Mr Nell McQueen, S. Egremont, another nephew, and Mr Chas. Yake, Mr Donald Stewart, Aberdeen, a nephew, and possibly others. "Willie" Smellie, as he was affectionately called, was a man of considerable intelligence, an enthusiastic Scot and a deep lover of Scottish life, lore and literature. In his prime he could sing with vim and effect the songs of Burns and was prominent at St. Andrew's or Burns' birth day celebrations. He was strongly Liberal and was a member of the Presbyterian church. His pastor, Rev. C. S. Jones, Priceville conducted appropriate services and many friends paid their last tribute.

Toronto Globe Strongly Recommends Life Insurance

An editorial published recently in the Globe, Toronto, tells of the remarkable growth of insurance in Canada and solicited strongly advises all to carry adequate insurance. The editorial reads:

Official statements and figures show that the amount of life insurance placed in Canada for the first six months of the present year is equal to that for the whole of 1918, which aggregated about three hundred million dollars, and it is estimated that the 1919 total will reach five hundred millions. A variety of reasons are advanced for this amazing practical exhibition of care and thoughtful-ness. The working out of the soldier's insurance plans in many localities is said to have had its influence as an object lesson to many heretofore heedless men. So also has the "flu" epidemic, and the fear that there may be another. What ever it is that is entitled to the chief credit it is certainly an indication that common sense is not so rare a possession among the men and women of Canada as some of the exponents of gloom would have their fellow-beings believe.

Insurance has made its way against many active prejudices, some of which still survive, though no better plan has yet been devised for the wage-earner or salaried man to assure the reasonable care of his family or other dependents against immediate financial pressure in the event of his death or disablement, while at any time his insurance is always a negotiable asset. It is certainly in this day of general education and progress to find that there are people who object to insurance on one of the grounds that is often advanced by people who will not make their wills, namely, that such an act is a tempting of Providence. All the superstitions do not die out with the passing of the day when women who were looked upon as witches were burned at the stake or otherwise cruelly done to death.

Very few people who say that they can save as much as they would pay into insurance premiums ever do so. A policy in force is an incentive to keeping up the regular payments in order to enjoy all of the benefits that accrue under various schemes of insurance, and a premium not paid is a temptation to spend the money on some pleasurable luxury or fancied need. Insurance is a most insurance of any Canadian Company, for the reason that its rates are lower and profits exceed those of its competitors.

If you wish any information concerning insurance, its cost, etc. see or write A. W. H. Lauder, Durham, who has made a special study of the subject. He is agent for the Great West Life Assurance Co. which writes the most insurance of any Canadian Company, for the reason that its rates are lower and profits exceed those of its competitors.

Death of Mrs D. Duggan, Guelph

The funeral of the late Mrs. Daniel Duggan took place this morning from the family residence, 170 Ontario St., to the Roman Catholic cemetery. Requiem High Mass was celebrated at the church of our lady while at the grave the service was conducted by Rev. Father Quirk.

The many and beautiful spiritual floral offerings sent testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held. Included in the floral offerings were wreaths from the family, from employees of Taylor & Forbes, employees of Dominion Linens Co., employees of the Colonial White Ware Co. and from Mr. Hartigan; sprays from Mr. Laidlaw, Mr. and Mrs. Fulton, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Dalbin, Mrs. Jackson, Miss Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Baskerville, Victor and Edward Duggan, Miss Kate McDonald, Mr. Thos. McKeown, etc.

Besides the surviving husband Mrs Duggan is survived by one son Daniel and four daughters Margaret, Nellie, Adeline and Mrs. Murion of Toronto. One sister Mrs G. McDonald of Glenelg and one brother Thos. Keenan also survive. The pallbearers were D. Carmichael, W. Gibson, C. Burbridge, J. Meagher, C. Eulton and J. Kelleher.

Referendum Majority Growing

It is now (Wednesday) beyond all doubt that a large and substantial "No" majority has been rolled up in the Province for every one of the four questions on the ballot. John Barleycorn has been buffed deeply down, never we hope to be resurrected as the symbol of a licentious trade in alcoholic liquors as a beverage.

The Liquor interests have been worsted, hip and thigh, and their friends of the Liberty League have not been able to turn back the hands of the clock of progress.

The politicians will be compelled to carry out to the letter the most advanced promises made, and the size of the majority will be a potent argument to use at Ottawa to secure the complete cessation of the manufacture and importation of liquors as a beverage into any of the eight provinces of the Dominion. Quebec with its wine and beer measure is having much trouble, and it is hoped it will soon join in and make Canada "dry" from ocean to ocean.

Too much credit cannot be given to the Globe and the Star for the splendid support they gave the campaign. To the editor of the Review it was gratifying to see the fine record made by Durham. For the 25 years the paper has been under our control we have fought many temperance battles, and one may hope that last Monday's fine result may for ever put a damper on attempts to restore the trade in intoxicating liquor as a beverage to a position of respectability. No man in his senses would plead for the restoration of slavery; let a similar sentiment grow up in regard to the slavery and debauchery of the intoxicating cup.

Latest Type of Tourist Cars

One of the Features in Canadian National Railways' Daily Service, Toronto-Winnipeg-Vancouver.

The Canadian National daily transcontinental train Toronto-Winnipeg-Vancouver made its initial trip from Toronto, with one of the very latest type of steel tourist cars as part of its equipment, the first of an order of twenty such cars in whose construction every point has been considered for the safety and comfort of passengers. This modern type of tourist car, with anti-telescopic devices of similar design to the standard sleeping coach, the exception being that they are upholstered in leather, and they are electrically lighted throughout, all berths, upper and lower, are provided with berth lamps. A new feature, the omission of car is that lamps have been installed under the seats in the vestibule, so that when the ceiling lights are switched out for the night light may be provided under berth curtains, a great convenience for passengers when going through the car.

Phosphorous push buttons can be readily seen in the dark, should the power require to switch on the light of the bell, when the berth is in darkness.

A safety feature, introduced in a device for holding down the upper berth, which precludes any possibility of the upper berth closing when, in use, the upper berth curtains are provided, so that passengers in the upper berth will not disturb passengers in the lower.

The kitchen has the latest steel range facilities for washing, dishes, and other enable passengers to store their food. Lavatories have received special attention and provide greater conveniences than the older type. An electric thermostat heating control can be adjusted as to regulate the temperature of the car, thus preventing overheating.

Thus with the introduction of the daily service of the Canadian National lines between Toronto-Winnipeg-Vancouver, the added convenience of the very latest type of tourist cars for second-class passengers who can enjoy a transcontinental trip in every comfort, at a minimum expense.

"I Hope Every City and District Will Win My Flag"

When Edward, Prince of Wales—eager, bright eyed, smiling and sincere—arrived in Canada in August, and when he voiced his great admiration of the wonderful achievements of Canadians, on the fields of battle and at home, once again we were thrilled with joyous pride.

He asked concerning Canada's reconstruction programme, and when he was told of the Victory Loan programme, he graciously consented to the use of his Coat of Arms on a flag, which is to be the prize of honour for districts achieving their quota in the loan.

In dedicating "The Prince's Flag" at Ottawa on Labor Day, His Royal Highness said in part:—"It is a great joy to me to be associated with the loan, which is the bridge between war and peace, and which is finishing off the job."

"I hope every city and district will win my flag." Striking, and beautiful in design, this flag will form not only an unique memento of Victory Year, but a lasting and outstanding souvenir of the visit of His Royal Highness—a visit which will remain as one of the most memorable events in Canada's history.

The reproduction above shows the design of the flag. The body is white, the edge red; in the upper left hand corner is the Union Jack, and in the lower right hand corner the Prince of Wales' Coat of Arms.

The flag is made in two sizes, 4 feet 6 inches by 9 feet for small cities, towns and villages, and 7 feet by 13 feet 6 inches for cities of over 10,000 population.

Canada has been divided into canvassing districts by the Victory Loan Organization. Each city forms one district. Other districts have been determined according to population.

Each of these canvassing districts has been allotted a certain amount in Victory Bonds to sell. To win the Prince's Flag, therefore, a district has to sell its allotment. That is the one and simple condition.

Anticipating that many districts will buy far beyond their allotment, the organization decided that for each twenty-five per cent. excess of the quota one Prince of Wales' Crest be awarded. Thus the workers in a district doubling its quota will be the proud winners of four small crests for their Honour Flag. These crests will be sewn to the flag. The Prince's Crest—the three ostrich plumes—is shown at the top of the coat of arms.

To every organization with fifty or more employees, where seventy-five per cent. of the enrollment invests a total of ten per cent. of the annual payroll in Victory Bonds, a supplementary Prince of Wales Flag in smaller form—48 inches by 34 inches—will be awarded.

The allotment for each district has been carefully considered, and is based on a conservative estimate of the purchasing power of the district.

Your district can sell its allotment and thus win the Prince's Flag, provided each person does his or her share.

You will gladly do your part and encourage your neighbour to do his. Remember YOUR purchase may be the one that decides whether or not your district is to be the proud possessor of the Prince's Flag.

The Prince's Motto is "I Serve" Will You also Serve?
