The Durham Review.

With which is incorporated the Holstein Leader

VOL. XLII, NO 46

DURHAM, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1919

Published Weekly, at $1 a year
C. RAMAGE & SON, Publishers

DOWN TOPICS

The village of Lions Head has a tax rate of 17 mills only. Yum, yum.

The Durham Furniture Co. held their annual meeting on Monday evening. A successful year's business is reported.

Mr. J. S. Black, the Glenelg clerk, has sold his farm on the fourth line at a fancy price to Mr. John A. Fawcett.—Standard.

Good home wanted for a strong healthy girl ten years of age. Apply to Rev. R. Perdue, Insp. Children's Aid Soc. of Bruce, Walkerton, Ont.

The Reading Club has completed the study of Tennyson's "Princess" and next Monday at 9 p. m. will begin Shakespeare's "Hamlet." All interested in the study of this famous work will be welcomed to the meetings weekly in the Presbyterian church.

If you wish to secure neat and tasteful Christmas Greeting Cards with your name and verse of your own choosing printed thereon, at very moderate rates, call early and see samples at the Review Office.

Capt. H. S. Mulowney who was Chaplain of the 147th batt. in 1916, and formerly Baptist minister in Owen Sound, preached as he said his last sermon last Sunday night in Owen Sound. He has definitely left the ministry and has entered law.

CHANGING FARMS—Mr. J. Levine has disposed of his 250 acre farm in Glenelg, extending along the Garafra Rd to McIntosh corner to Mr. Robt Wilson of Egremont. Mr. Levine has not given up farming however as he turned around and purchased Mr. Henry Seim's fine farm on the 3rd con. Normanby, the price we learn being $7000. Mr. Seim wishes to secure a smaller property.

LIGHT WEIGHT BUTTER—A lot of complaints are coming from the city about light weight dairy butter prints. Owing to the high price, government inspectors are watching arrivals of butter very closely and serious results are promised those offering dairy prints for sale which do not weigh 16 ozs. Now is the time to see that your one pound butter mould is set so as to allow for a full 16 oz. print.—Ex.

If the farmer will work at legislating as he does at farming, sixteen or more hours a day, the business of the country will surely be expedited, thus affecting a considerable economy in seasonal indemnities. On the other hand, labor will be wanting time and a half if the house sits more than forty-four hours a week. If a day is ever called on this point the new government stands to be defeated at the drop of the hat.—Walkerton Times

At Ritchie schoolhouse on Friday week a branch of the U. F. O. was organized for No. 9, Glenelg district. G. M. Leeson, M. P. P. was present. Wm. Weir was elected President, Jim McGillivray, Secy. Treat and Jos. Atkinson, Robt. Laidlaw, Albert Smith, Thos. Bell and Arthur Lawrence, directors. On dispersing it was found that all the cars except one had been tampered with during the meeting, but the officers managed to get them in running order after some time with the exception of T. Glenelg's car, which had to be towed to the garage for repairs.

WHAT IS THE LABEL FOR?—In the first place it is to help the postal service to deliver the paper to the right party. In the next place it informs the subscriber as to how his subscription stands, whether paid in advance or in arrear. It's a receipt for money paid, or a reminder of money that should be paid. Look at your label and see how you stand with the publisher. The month indicates that you are paid till the end of that month, unless otherwise indicated. The figures after the month indicate the year to which the subscription is paid. 1918, 1919, 1920 mostly indicated by 18, 19, 20, as the case may be. We corrected our mailing lists up to Nov. 5th; see that no mistake was made.

Last Thursday the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held at Dr. Wolfe's. It was one of the best and most instructive meetings yet held. Mrs. S. Patterson, President, was elected delegate to the Provincial Convention meeting this week in Toronto. Also $25.00 was given as a share in keeping the rink in Durham. Mrs. (Rev.) Cole gave a most instructive paper on Thanksgiving for the prosperity and welfare of our Dominion. Mrs. J. C. Nichol contributed a fine paper and talk on health, the basis of womanly beauty, showing how the hair, skin, teeth, etc. all show up the effect of care and attention to health. Mr. T. Henderson, baker of town, showed the ladies how to decorate their cakes by fancy icing and how to make the icings and donated the cake he demonstrated on to the Institute. After answering the roll call, a dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Wolfe and assistants and all voted it one of the best meetings.

CHOPPING—At McKechnie Mills, R. S. McGowan.

Priced right for quick sale—4 good spring calves. T. H. Binnie, Priceville, R. R. 2.

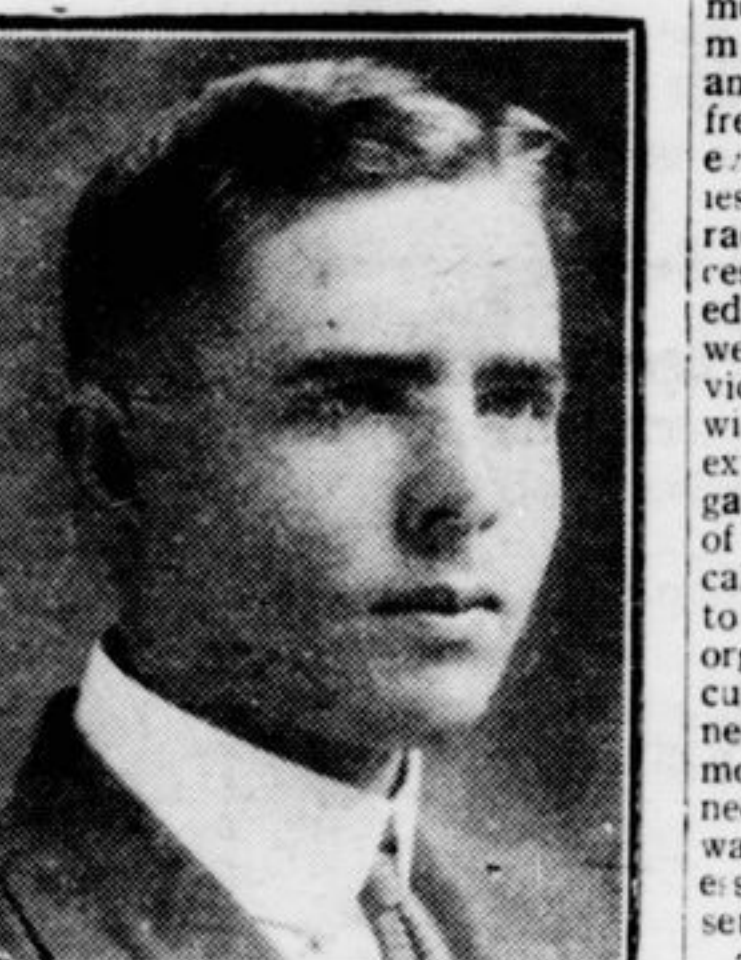

Commencing next Monday, Nov. 17th, the couriers for Rural Routes Nos. 1 and 2 Durham, will leave the post office at 9 a. m., continuing during the winter, instead of during the noon hour.

RINK MEETING—A public meeting of all interested in the Durham Rink will be held in the Armory on Friday night to discuss the securing of a charter and other necessary business. Come out to the meeting.

The G. V. V. A. dance in the hall last Friday night was a grand success, nearly 300 young people being present, including many from Walkerton, Mount Forest and Hanover. The Veterans had the hall prettily decorated with bunting and flags and served a dainty lunch. The music was furnished by the Collard orchestra from Toronto.

The funeral of the late James M. Farquharson at Agincourt last Thursday afternoon was largely attended, many old Durham friends and school chums now in Toronto or not far distant being present. The pall-bearers were five of his boyhood friends in Durham, Ernest McGillivray, Alex. and John Bell, Gordon and Russell Gun, and a chum of Ray's in Agincourt, a Mr. Green.

FORWARD—A strong committee has been formed in the Presbyterian church to push the great Forward movement, behind which are found five strong Protestant denominations. The committee has representatives from Session, Managers, Young People's Society, Choir, W. M. S., Ladies' Aid, Sunday School, &c. The congregation is divided into areas, county and town, over which divisional committees will have an oversight. It is hoped that individual and family piety will be increased, attendance at church and prayer meeting gives more attention, a wider knowledge secured of Church activities at home and abroad and generally a more devout frame of mind stimulating heart and hand to a greater degree of "service" than ever before.

PILOT J. MORRISON SMITH

Who reached home Wednesday evening, the last of Durham's soldier boys to return from overseas. The town extends a welcome to Pilot Morrison Smith, only son of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Smith who arrived home last evening just too late all will regret, to attend the big Red Cross banquet. Morrison enlisted when living in Dornoch in the Royal Flying Corps, left for England, Nov. 1916, where he trained and graduated in June 1917. After some time on duty in England he went to France in March, 1918 and came through a number of air battles without injury. Since the armistice he served six months with the army of occupation in Germany. Along with Pte David Thompson who also arrived last night, he is the last returning soldier boy in this locality, and expects his discharge today.

A Credit to Canada

Canada has every reason to be proud of that great family and farm paper, The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal. It is now issued in a new form, sixty-four pages weekly, and is more easily handled and read. The Family Herald is the great home paper of this Continent. Each and every issue is brimful of the choicest and most interesting and instructive reading matter. It costs but $1.25 a year and every subscriber for 1920 is receiving a handsome souvenir portrait of the Prince of Wales, size 16 x 22 inches. This portrait alone could not be bought for the money. How the Family Herald can give such a beautiful souvenir to all subscribers is indeed a mystery, still they do it and their subscribers receive the benefit of their generosity.

Closing Red Cross Banquet

A Grand Success and Fine Program by O. Sound Soldiers

There are banquets and banquets and that of Tuesday night given by the ladies of Durham Red Cross was one of the best of its kind. There was nothing small about it: the Red Cross workers of surrounding districts were invited to fraternize, and they did; the decorations were appropriate and on an extensive scale it needed not the large "Welcome" signs to make every one feel at home for the suavity and urbanity of President Mrs. Dr. Jamieson, Secy Mrs. P. Gagnon and their scores of helpers made everyone feel at home. The preparation for this elaborate banquet must have entailed much work (and no little money) but assuredly it was a labor of love, and they have their reward in the success attending the evening. Four long tables, seating about fifty each, were loaded with tempting viands, flowers and other aesthetic fixings, the delt waiters were all in Red Cross costume, and it is safe to say that the old Town Hall never witnessed such a company.

At the close of the first table, Rev. Mr. Hardy was given the position of toastmaster and in a speech of some length reviewed the situation that had led up to the first anniversary of Armistice Day. He eulogized the nobility of the sacrifice made by the heroes who fell and in a lesser degree of those who returned, included in the eulogy was hearty commendation of the work of nursing sisters in the field and in the hospitals and of the great work done by the army of Red Cross workers and other women organizations everywhere, during the war.

The toast to "The King" was the first proposed and responded to by the National Anthem. The next was "Our Guests" coupled with the name of Rev. Mr. Whaley, who without preparation, made a splendid review of the war situation dealing especially with the Red Cross women, to whose efforts were due no small share of the victory that was achieved. Lieut. Helwig of Hanover, on behalf of the soldiers present, responded felicitously. To him Armistice Day had meant more than to the others, for he had been in a prisoner of war camp on Sept. 27th, 1918 and the 11th of November brought him freedom again. Both dates to him would ever be memorable. He thanked the ladies of the Red Cross on behalf of his comrades for all their many kind remembrances while overseas, which had often buoyed them up in dark hours, and thus they were entitled to share in the honours of victory. "Our Hosts" followed coupled with the name of Mr. Irwin, who fittingly extolled the unceasing activity of the organization here and the amount of work they had done. Mr. Laidlaw was called upon by the toastmaster as worthy to be heard for his sympathy with the organization when as Mayor, he had secured a grant of $5000 for the Red Cross needs. Mr. Laidlaw then added his testimony to the worth of the work done, its necessity, &c, but the close of his speech was heard to poor advantage by the necessity of clearing the tables for another set of diners.

The first company went upstairs and about an hour was whiled away in chat and in listening to brilliant piano instrumentalists, kindly supplied, Miss R. Irwin to fill in the time. Some snatches of camp songs by the ex-soldiers, added variety. When the second table had finished, the meeting upstairs took shape. Mr. Wm. Irwin, being the capable chairman with a long program in his hand, entirely musical supplied by the Owen Sound contingent, among whom are some brilliant entertainers. The chairman in welcoming them from the suburbs of Durham up "O Sound way" called their attention to something they would not see, at least had not yet seen, that was the Prince of Wales' flag, secured by Durham district for reaching its objective in the Victory Loan, which had just arrived that day and was prominently displayed on the platform.

We can give merely a list of the performers, who were all loudly applauded and encored. Miss Irwin and Mrs. Town gave two instrumental duets, Lieut. Yu e an old favorite, appeared twice in solos. Mr. McRae, a stalwart highlander in costume appeared twice, Mr. E. Henry gave a piano solo and also accompanied the others. Mr. Henderson had the Harry Lauder habit in costume and sang and appeared twice. Major Geo. Fleming was called upon to sing, but instead made a net little speech eulogizing the men from Grey as he knew them, and thanking the workers for kind remembrances. A vote of thanks moved by Mr. Allan Bell and Dr. Smith was heartily carried and the meeting closed with God Save the King.

Pres. Anniversary Services

Large congregations in the Presbyterian church on Sunday, especially in the evening, greeted Rev. W. H. Burgess, B. D. of Walkerton who conducted both services with great acceptance. Mr. Burgess is a young man with a future and his kindly memories behind him. His morning topic was "Service" based on Matt. 23: 23-27, "whosoever will be chief among you let him be your servant." The topical world Kingdom had the idea of overlordship through all ranks: the ideal of the Kingdom of Christ (so opposite) was one of service: "it shall not be so among you." He had a fine sermon, and that the employe was also an employer and the employer an employe, so interwoven were our social needs. He illustrated by a story of two mothers, in some circumstances, each having a daughter, but trained to different ideals. One's idea was to serve the other to be served, and the consequence was that the latter was a vapid, useless life. He made bold to declare that the world of Labor-to-day had a wrong ideal. The cry of shorter hours was a fallacy. It would be better for themselves if their hours were increased and they filled with the idea of service. He pictured the ideals of Him who minister, scorned by his contemporaries they are all forgotten, but He is exalted and ever becoming greater. He was not so happy in his illustration of the fall of public men being always due to their forsaking the ideal of service. It may be so in many cases but we think instances could be pointed out where fickle public opinion failed to appreciate true service. The motto of the Prince of Wales "ich dien" (I serve) was made notable at the present time because the present wear seemed to be living up to the sentiment as never before. He closed by an earnest appeal to all to follow the ideal of service in the new anniversary year, just entered upon, ever remembering that Service was the watchword of Christ's Kingdom. "Service" was the key-note of his evening address also, but this time founded on the story of St. Samuel, last chapter, King David, in a moment of weakness set Job to numbering the people, thereby showing a lack of faith in their Divine leader. For this David and Israel were punished by a deadly pestilence, which was stayed however over the threshing. Continued on page 5.

Honor Flag and Crest for Durham

During the early part of this week Durham district sailed far past its Victory Loan objective of $240,000 and on Tuesday night over $300,000, or more than 25 per cent over it, was raised. The honor flag was won by Saturday night and the flag proudly displayed at the hall at the banquet Tuesday. The 25 per cent entitles Durham district to a crest on the flag and Chairman Calder has bright hopes of winning another crest or two before the campaign closes. The County figures up to Monday night are published on 8th page.
