Wanted—An Organist for Holstein Presbyterian Church. Duties to commence December 7th. Applicant to state salary expected. Communications addressed to:

D. Allan, Secy. Managing Board.

In correction of an error in last week's issue we state that Mr J. M. Matthews has bought a two-hundred acre farm, two miles north of Markdale (not Ceylon) known as the Walker property. The price was $6500 and from what we hear of this farm Mr Matthews has bought a fine home.

Victory Bonds are selling well throughout Egremont township, and Durham district, in which Egremont is included, has now subscribed over $300,000 which places it more than 25 per cent over the top. The honor flag is already in Durham, the district has also now won one crest, and will probably capture another.

After a brief span of earthly life for three weeks only, a sweet young life was called away to the heavenly home on Sunday in the infant son of Mr and Mrs A. R. Hershey. Much sympathy is extended the sorrowing parents in their bereavement. The funeral on Tuesday to Mt. Forest cemetery was largely attended and many flowers covered the small casket. Rev. Mr Scott conducted the service in the absence of their pastor, Rev. Lovegrove.

Grey County Over the Top

Last week closed with Grey District in second place in the Victory Loan campaign in the province with a grand total of over two and a half million dollars. There's ambition this week to put it in first place and all who can should join in the good work and keep the canvassers busy.

The O. S. Advertiser says: Some sections are certainly doing their share. Dundalk has added three Honor Crests to its flag and will have two or three more before the finish. Ayton has one and is right after another, and Flesheron's flag is also decorated with a crest. Markdale, Clarksburg, Durham and Hanover have their flags and are now out after the "trimmings," and Meaford is close.

The standing up to Saturday night is:

District	Amt.	P. C.
Dundalk	200,600	200.60
Ayton	149,000	149.00
Flesheron	115,050	127.77
Markdale	171,550	114.86
Clarksburg	340,000	113.33
Durham	270,150	112.56
Hanover	132,000	105.60
Meaford	240,100	104.39
Chatsworth	100,500	87.21
Owen Sound	742,850	87.39
Total	2,461,900
Specials	326,000
Grand Total	2,787,900

The race now is not to reach the County or district objective, but to put the County in the lead and keep it there. Provincial headquarters sent a telegram this morning heartily congratulating those in charge on the splendid showing; and it's up to every one to get busier than ever and show the rest of the Province that Grey is on the map. Especially is it up to Owen Sound to put, on a spur that will take it out of the cellar position and put it up among the leaders.

Closing S. S. Entertainment

Among the most enjoyable of the many entertainments given in Knox, Normanby Church was that given by the officers and scholars of the Sunday School last Friday evening, assisted by Durham talent. The church was filled to the doors, and it was midnight before the program was completed. Rev. B. M. Smith, the pastor, presided over a program which was full of good things, both for the mind, the ear, the eye and the stomach. The features were the splendid work of the school children, under the capable training of their teacher, Miss Clark and at times interspersed with humor by Rev. Whaley and McEwen of Durham. The latter also opened with a prayer, followed by a star drill by ten little girls in costume. This and a flag drill by ten boys and girls were cleverly executed through-out. The children also rendered two choruses, presenting an amusing depiction of Mother Goose nursery rhyme, with Miss Mary Petty as the central figure. Miss Neila Marshall, the section's famed elocutionist, rendered a recitation and reading, and Miss Carlotta Porter, a recent resident in the district, made a promising debut as an elocutionist. The younger folks are also progressing in this line. Florence McElvride, Lizzie Lewis, John Allan and Kenneth McElvride giving recitations. Messrs Allan Bell and Peter Ramage of Durham rendered solos. Misses Janet and Katie Keir a duet "Somebody," Misses Janie Peter and Carrie Wilton a duet "Whispering hope," while the choir contributed two numbers, all of which were much appreciated.
