Men Who Refused Crowns.

Several times in the world's history crowns have been as promptly rejected as though they were very damaged and worthless articles indeed.

Early in the last century the crown of Greece was offered to Lord Byron, who died before he had a chance to accept it. Later on, Queen Victoria's second son, the late Duke of Edinburgh, was invited to become King of the Hellenes, but the jealousy of foreign powers decided his refusal. Then it was offered in turn to Mr. Gladstone and Benjamin Disraeli, Earl of Beaconsfield, but neither was attracted by the honor.

Napoleon anticipated the patriotic Hungarians by wishing to separate Hungary from Austria in 1809, when he offered the separate crown to the great Hungarian Count Esterhazy. But the Count refused and went into temporary exile.

POOR THIN BLOOD The Newest Designs MOROEGE SECTION OF SECTIONS

Using Dr. Williams' Pink

Pills. Thin-blooded people generally have stomach trouble. They seldom recognize the fact that thin blood is the cause of indigestion, but it is. Thin blood, weak, watery blood, is one of the most common causes of stomach trouble. The glands that furnish the digestive fluids are diminished in their activity, the stomach muscles are weakened and there is a loss of nerve force. In this state nothing will more quickly restore appetite, digestion and a normal nutriton than good, rich, red blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood, making it rich and red and this enriched blood strengthens weak nerves, stimulates tired muscles, and awakens to normal activity the glands that supply the digestive fluids. Buying Newspapers With

It is announced by a Parisian paper -L'Avenir'-that all subscribers will be allowed to purchase ten pounds of Make the Blood Rich and Red by sugar at cost price, and since sugar is about the scarcest commodity at present in Paris, it is likely that the proprietors will do well.

Papers have resorted to all sorts of curious devices in order to increase their circulation. At one time the Paris 'Petit Bleu.' then in low water, was purchased by M. Henri Deutsch, who announced that he would give away 100,000 copies a day-so many to nembers of various professions, 2,000 to dress-makers, 1,000 to butchers, 500 to dentists, and so on. Editors in less civilized lands have been known to announce that they will take subscriptions in kind.

Take, for instance, the following announcement from a far-Western journal: "Have you paid your subscription yet? Remember that even an editor must live. If the hard times have struck your shebang, don't forget turnips, potatoes and corn in the shock are most as welcome as hard cash at the 'Gem' office. Also hardwood. Our latch-string is always out, or the goods can be delivered to our wife, who will give receipt in our absence." Imagine buying a paper for three or four turnins!
