Monday afternoon, Jan. 12th, the spirit of Mr Wm. Mountain quietly passed away to home not made by hands, eternal in the heavens. Dis solution occurred at his home north of the village. Mr Mountain was born in Bentinck in the year 1857 where he lived until a young man, when he purchased and settled on the north-west lot in Egremont. In a very short time he selected as his partner in life Miss Elizabeth Gray. Together they lived a most happy and prosperous life.

Mr Mountain was until the last a man of generous impulses. Heart failure which was the cause of death was a peaceful and painless one and a fitting close to his worthy life. Deceased enjoyed his prosperity quietly and at times of adversity showed the sturdy stoicism of his race. At all times he took a great interest in the current topics of the day, and in his younger days was one of the athletes in this neighborhood.

He was a faithful adherent of the Presbyterian church and services of a solemn and impressive nature were conducted by Rev Mr Whaley on Wednesday at the home and grave, where a large number of friends and neighbors gathered to pay a last tribute to the memory of Mr Mountain. HENRY SEIM, R. BRIGHAM, Auctioneer

Division Court

Judge Sutherland, now the only Judge in the County of Grey, held the first session of the 2nd Division for 1920 in Durham Town Hall, and while the atmosphere of the cases was warm enough, that, and will have to be remedied in the future, or a new place found. So says authority.

Two suits were entered against the township of Egremont, but as both were of the same nature they were taken as one. The plaintiffs were - Morrison and J. Moore, their counsel being Clark & Moon, Mt. Forest, while the township, the defendant, entrusted its defence to W. H. Wright, O. Sound. The plaintiffs both live in Normanby on the edge of Egremont, the former a thrasher, and the points in the whole case turn on a buggy drive by the plaintiffs about 9 p. m. on the 9th September last, on the position and condition of the remains of a tree that had been cut in 1917 and on the character of a horse.

The tree in question had fallen angling across the road, part of the trunk had been removed to clear the roadway, it was a big tree with three big limbs springing from the trunk, and these big branches being cut off left three glaring white ends of a fearsome nature said the plaintiffs. Morrison and Moore on the night in question were driving north (near Pollock's corner) their horse, owned by Moore shied, upset the buggy, throwing both out, Morrison receiving much injury and both testified, that even yet they felt the effects of the mix-up, and told of their expense with medical men, loss of time, &c.

Testimony from others made light of the frightfulness feature, some had passed it often and had no trouble.

Then as to the horse, evidence was also conflicting. Some said it was skittish J. D. Roberts had once told Moore before the accident that if he did not cure the horse of its restiveness, (even as it showed on the main street of Holstein) it would bring trouble to him - McPhee said it was a quiet horse and had driven it. Others said it had been seen zig zaging in a lane, &c.

Both counsel summed up, Clark laying stress on the township's duty, on the injury to his clients, &c., Wright insisted there had been no contact with the obstruction, it had been shown that the horse was of uncertain disposition, and besides the plaintiff Moore being a minor (19 years of age) was not qualified to bring an action.

The Judge took copious notes but reserved his decision and the matter being, thus sub-judice we refrain from further comment.

Calder v Bryon was an action over a disputed coal account, the defendant claiming certain portions paid previously, but admitted having paid accounts later on without referring to the alleged double payment. Mr Calder, fortified by his troubles in his books, methodically kept, conducted his own case. Mrs Calder gave evidence of interviews with Mrs Bryon. Mr Currie, counsel for the defendant, criticised some of the evidence. The Judge ruled in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount sued for, with costs.

It is likely that newspapers will advance in price in the near future as paper has taken a sharp advance. For over two years the Canadian Press Association has been fighting the paper manufacturers but the battle has ended practically in a failure. After Jan. 1st roll newspaper, the class of paper used by the daily press will be subject to an advance of 20 per cent over the prevailing high price now paid. The weekly newspapers are harder hit as sheet news, which they use, is much higher and the advance will make financing much more difficult than it has been in the past.

Bilton - Keller Nuptials

The home of Mr and Mrs Julius Keller on Wednesday, Dec. 31st, was the scene of a very pretty but quiet wedding when their third eldest daughter, Laurena Christena, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr J. Bilton of Holstein. Rev B. M. Smith from Dromore tied the nuptial knot. Only immediate friends were present.

The bride who entered the parlor leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her gracefully away, stood under an arch of evergreens and holly, and was beautifully dressed in white satin and georgette crepe and carried a bouquet of white carnations and fern and wore a veil and wreath of sweet peas. The bride and groom were attended by Nelson McGuire, John Benwick, M. M. Chan; instrumental music by Mrs John Drimmie and Mr and Mrs Daley; quartette by Misses Bena and Nellie Bunston, Mrs V. Adams. Andy Hay, John Drimmie. Then Mr and Mrs Moore replied, thanking them for their kindness. After lunch was served, the evening was spent in games and dancing. Following is the address:

January 6, 1920
To Mr Wm. Moore.
We, your friends and neighbors, are gathered here to-night as an expression of the hearty welcome we extend to both you and Mrs Moore.

Some five years ago Europe was darkened and saddened by the dreaded cloud of war. The Mother Country sent out a call loud and clear that all was nobly responded to.

For three years you served your King and Country in that deadly struggle for justice and freedom on behalf of all mankind.

We desire to express to you in some tangible form our appreciation of your services and therefore ask you to accept this purse, also our good wishes to you both for a long, happy and prosperous life.

Signed on behalf of your friends,
C. E. Eccles,
N. Bunston,
W. Eccles,
P. R. Newick,
A. Hay.

ALMOST A WHOLE FAMILY PERISH.

Two sisters, sole survivors of a once happy family, greeted us pleasantly, as we visited in a sunny ward at the Muskoka Free Hospital. The mother and several other members of the family had died of consumption, and the plague had marked these two girls also for its own; but fortunately they were found in time.

One of them said: "I feel the Hospital has done me a great deal of good; everything is lovely, and I like it awful well." The other: "I have gained twelve pounds, and think I will be able to go home for good in six months."

Such is the work of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives. Thousands of grateful patients can testify to the help they have received therein. It costs a great deal of money to carry on the work. Will you help? Contributions may be sent to Sir William Gage, 84 Spadina avenue, or George A. Reid, 223 College street, Toronto.
