INJURED BY CHAIN—While drawing wood from the bush on Monday, James Lawrence, Rocky Saugeen, was struck a severe blow on the hip, by the tension chain on the load becoming suddenly released. The mishap laid him up for a day or so.

L. O. L'OFFICERS.—At a well attended annual meeting of the Loyal Orange Lodge 632 on Friday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Wm Erwin, Worshipful Master; Geo Miles, Deputy Master; Jas Lloyd, Chaplain; Roy Vickers, Rec. Secy.; J W Lloyd, Fin Secy.; Wm, Ritchie, Treas.; Wm Falkingham and Wm Grasby, inside and outside tylers; Wes. Storry; Wm Hewitt and Johnston Allan, committee.

SANTA IN DURHAM—Santa Claus delighted scores of Durham kiddies on Saturday afternoon when he made his appearance on the streets. Owing to snow sheriage he came in a motor truck and when he stopped in front of the Variety Store, the old gentleman received a royal welcome from over a hundred tots. After making a speech and selling some parcels, St Nick drove around town and the Pied Piper of Hamelin was never given greater worship than the Christmas visitor on this occasion. He had a difficult task to make his departure for the north.

A FORD EXPERIMENT.—Smith Bros converted a Ford Service car into a model to suit winter conditions and which they hope to use when the roads are impassable. The car is stripped of all unnecessary equipment, axles shortened 14 inches to conform with cutter tracks engine moved back 15 inches and placed in centre of car to lighten the front and driving shafts perceptibly shortened. They have made runners for the front wheels and they stood a fair test and expect better results when they are steel shod. The snow bus motored to Dromore on Tuesday and through Egremont to Mt Forest.

John Black of Chesley is a labour candidate for the council in that town.

Mr. Wm Thompson, Normanby, has purchased the farm of his brother-in-law, Mr Adam Watson on Lambton St. and will make his home with them in future.

Notice—Do you want to sell or buy a farm? If so it will pay you to see R. H Fortune, Ayton, Ont. Look at his list of farms on page 8.

The Willing Workers and Junior Mission Bands of the Presbyterian Church held a joint bazaar Saturday last. The former realized at their booths $90 while the Juniors took in $36.

RECEIVED CROSS.—Mr and Mrs Thos McAllister and Mr and Mrs Dugald McKechnie, were each recipients of the silver cross from the government in memory of their sons, William and Percy respectively, who fell in the path of duty in the great war.

THE "COMMENCEMENT."—This annual event was held in the Town Hall last night with a program that was high class and delightfully varied. The old Hall was filled to overflowing and many turned away. Proceeds amounted to $142.00. We regret that our write-up has to be held over this week. There is a strong desire to have it repeated.

BOUGHT RESIDENCE.—Our townsman, Mr. A. A. Catton, whom we recently reported purchased the Chevrolet garage in Mount Forest, has bought the fine home of the late Alex Jamieson in that town. We regret Mr. Catton's impending departure from our citizenship, and can assure our sister town they are acquiring a worthy business man and citizen. Mr. James Baird, whom he bought out, is going into the timber business in New Ontario.

"NOT BEFORE IT WAS TIME"—Mr. John McInnis of Midnapore, Alta, in sending a fine remittance for the Review says, "I notice your paper is a trifle higher. AM I have to say about it, it was not raised before it should be. We have often said Mr Ramage must be publishing his paper for charity it is so cheap when everything is so high. I buy. Any rag of a paper in this country is from $5 to $10 a year." Mr McInnis' label will read a date in "25" at next change, easily out-distancing a few "23's" we have. Mr McInnis speaks of beautiful weather and no snow on Dec. 10th—but "times in general rather dull." We thank him for remittance and confidence in Review.

Hockey Galore Next Month

The Northern League grouping was arranged at Palmerston last Saturday. Howard McDonald, Durham's executive member being present.

Durham is in a six club senior group, along with Mildmay, Hanover, Chesley, Paisley and Southampton. This means five home games. Durham Juniors are grouped with Chesley, Harrison and Mt Forest, so will also have plenty of opposition. To get all games in, there must be at least one game a week in January and February, and most weeks two. The locals have as yet no idea of the comparative strength of other teams, but expect to pick a line-up that will be fighting for the top rung in both series.

"Why I would not Marry"

The morality play "Why I would not marry" to be presented by William Fox at the Veteran Star Theatre for two days commencing Dec. 24th is based on the idea that a young and beautiful girl has one hour in which to decide which of our suitors she will accept. In her dilemma she is assisted by a mystic power which reveals the future and saves her from a life of misery. She rejects all four and comes to fear every man. Instead of marrying she goes into business and there finds the solution of her troubles.

GREETING

HAPPY CHRISTMAS and a PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR C RAMAGE & SON

Fined $200 and Costs

Scotch whiskey from Montreal at $24 a case is considered a reasonable figure these days, but when the initial expense is saddled with an additional $200 and costs fine, it is rated higher than an article on the luxury tax list. Mr John Pilkey had a consignment of 12 bottles imported on Monday, Dec. 13. On the 19th inst. or five days later, License Inspector Matt Beckett and County Constable Ed Watson paid an official visit to the Pilkey home and could not digest the proprietor's statement that he had consumed the whole case or two gallons in five days. To support his statement, Pilkey could only produce seven empty bottles with the Scotch label. The missing five re-sulted in a charge of having liquor for sale or barter laid against him and he was tied and convicted on Wednesday by Magistrate Laidlaw, a fine of $200 and costs being imposed.

Inspector Beckett and Constable Watson both testified visiting the Pilkey home on Saturday morning and found the accused perfectly sober. He produced nine empty bottles, seven with Scotch labels, one with an Irish and one with a Canadian label. The latter two, accused admitted having been part of case shipments on Oct. 6 and Nov. 22. He told the officers, according to evidence, that he had drunk it all during the week.

In the witness box, accused changed his statement and declared two friends and his son, a minor of 20 years, had helped in disposing of the stock. One of the friends had helped him to saw logs one day and to use the apt phrasing of Barrister Currey who defended, "they had oiled up the machinery between each log." The other friend came in one afternoon to Pilkey's home and spent all night there, but left perfectly sober. Accused also gave evidence accounting for the missing bottles. Two, he said, were smashed two his son had hidden in the cellar unknown to him and the other was found behind a trunk after the departure of the officers. Defendant stated that he had butchered nine pigs and cut considerable wood during the week despite the fact that he had been drinking heavily.

Magistrate Laidlaw asserted, that no evidence had been produced to show liquor had been sold, but owing to strange circumstances of the case, he was convinced the law had been violated and imposed the minimum penalty. He also referred to the strings being tightened on magistrates and inspectors by the Attorney General.

Conflicting evidence on the part of witnesses featured the case of Vernon Watt who was charged with being intoxicated at a recent town hall gathering. Even witnesses for the Crown testified in unsatisfactory manner, and his worship scored young men who gave evidence in recent liquor trials, declaring they were not telling the truth. He was disposed to be lenient with the young man, letting him off on suspended sentence and upon payment of costs.

On Saturday C. F. Lawrence and Alex Graham pleaded guilty to intoxication and paid fines of $20 and costs each.

An official visit by Inspector Beckett and Constable Watson to the home of a citizen who recently imported two cases, showed them that the law was being observed in this instance. Only half a bottle had been downed though it had been in the proprietor's cellar for a week.

What's What in the Municipal Pot

With nominations next Monday, only five days a way, interest in municipal affairs is again more or less active.

In Durham it is certainly less, for but little or no stir is evident. Mayor Grant is retiring and Mr Thos. Allan is the only name we have heard proposed as successor. If he will accept nomination, the will doubtless be no opposition. It looks like clear sailing also for Reeve Calder while with five of the present Council reported retiring, there will be ample room for new aspirants. Some of these may be induced to stay in the field however. Probably an all round acclamation in town.

In Bentinck we learn, Mr Frank Smith, ex-councillor, will oppose Reeve McD. n'ald but we believe Bentinck electors will decide to give their Reeve a second term. Hunt and Hewitson will again contest the deputyship, we are informed. It was a tight race last year, Hunt winning by 9.

Ex Coun. Mal. McInnes is reported to be coming out against Reeve Weir in Glenelg, which would be a close battle.

The prospects are that in Normanby the present council will get an acclamation.

The Mayoralty

As Mayor Grant has definitely decided to retire from the Mayoralty for 1921, it becomes us to clap him on the back and say "Good Boy." He has set a healthful example to young men in his year of service and one regrets that he could not have used the experience gained for another term.

In looking around for a successor, we have thought of Mr Thos Allan as a suitable man and acceptable to all citizens. We are certain he is not looking for it, and will not pull wires for it, but it would be a graceful act for the town to crown his long years of service in education by placing him in the highest civic position.

He has given one year of good service in the council, has shown adaptability and has leisure to give the higher official attention it deserves. Let it be—Mr. Allan.

Some fine Christmas reading on our inside pages—Be sure to read "Christmas Made them Partners."

A MARKET FOR XMAS TREES—Thos Bell showed considerable enterprise last week when he chopped down 500 balsam trees in his bush and took them to Toronto. With the help of his brother John the trees were sold in the city.

Rocky Saugeen Christmas Entertainment will be held in Rocky Church, Dec. 24th. A splendid program including bag pipe music by Mr. Wm. Froy, Orchardville, is being prepared, also outside musical talent. Admission 25c.

BOX SOCIAL AND DANCE—On Friday, 31st December, Township Hall, Glenelg: there will be held a social evening as above under the auspices of Glenelg Centre Athletic Club. Gentlemen 35c. Ladies with boxes free. Come one, come all.

EDWARDS—MARSHALL College Street Presbyterian Church, Toronto, was the scene of a quiet wedding at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Dec 18th, when the marriage was solemnized by the Rev. E. A. Earchman of Janet Elizabeth, third daughter of Mrs. M. M. Marshall, to T. Ivan Edwards, son of Mr and Mrs R. T. Edwards, Traverston. The bride wore a blue georgette gown over silk and carried a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses. The groom's gift to the bride was a string of pearls.

Miss Marion Marshall of Melancthon attended the wedding. Mr and Mrs Edwards left on a short trip to Hamilton after the ceremony, the bride travelling in a gown of navy tricotine. The young couple arrived in town on Wednesday and spending a few days with relatives in Durham and Glenelg. They are leaving next week for Toronto where they purpose making their home.

Pres. Christmas Cantata

The Cantata held by the choir of the Presbyterian Church Friday evening last was one of the most brilliant of its kind held here for a long time. The choir was in full force and rendered anthems, choruses, &c, with much spirit and fine harmony, telling of much faithful practice. Their public spirit, as well as their performance was worthy of a better audience. Surely the congregation must not have been conscious of the treat provided. Miss Margaret Hunter, to whom its success as to training was largely due, was accompanist, and cor-net solos by Mr. E. Leeson were rapturously encored. Rev. Mr Smith gave the only address of the evening, his topic being "Gossip." It was sparkling with humor but had withal much good common sense instruction and advice.

Make it a Christmas Gift

THERE is not another Christmas gift which will bring such comfort, pleasure and satisfaction—nothing which, day in and day out, Winter and Summer, Spring and Fall, will so enter into the business and pleasure of the family as a Ford Car. In fact, your Ford will so make its presence felt—will become so much of a necessity, regardless of the weather or season, that you'll wonder how you managed without it. The Ford Car has enabled many a family to revolutionize the manner of their living—has made it possible for them to broaden out, see, hear and do things that they could not have done otherwise. Every Christmas hundreds of families forego the purchase of the usual furbelows—all go in together and buy a new Ford car.

If you can't give your Family the Actual Car, You can do the Next Best Thing.—Present them with a Copy of the Signed Order for Future Delivery.

Think of the satisfaction it will be to them to know they will have a new car in the Spring—a satisfaction practically as great as though they could actually see the very car they are going to ride in and drive. In order to be sure of your car when you need it, place your order for future delivery now, and your duplicate of the order will not only bring the desired satisfaction into the family circle but will assure you not having to wait longer than necessary.

- Give your friends a gift for their Ford—any of the following accessories would be appreciated: Robes, Tires, Tire Gauges, Tire Pumps, Car Heaters, Hood Covers, Slip Covers, Floor Mats, Windshield Cleaners

If you cannot secure a car on Christmas Day, place your order for future delivery and be sure of it when you need it.
