NORTH EGREMONT

Notwithstanding the stormy for bidding weather of Sunday last some 90 people turned out to church at Amos, a tribute to Rev. Burnett and his gospel message.

The election here hinged largely upon the Co. road system, we think rather than upon personal feeling toward either of the candidates for the Reveship. If an analysis of the concession's vote could be had, it would resolve itself largely into the fact that certain ones were to be benefited by the proposed change of location of the highway, while others would be deprived of benefits promised under the first proposition. Selfish interests, which one can hardly condemn in this case, affected the results. Nos. 3 and 5 wards are with out a representative in the council. Economy can be effected by the new Council should the weather yet prove boisterous in the matter of breaking roads, when fields are available with the good will of the owner, as happened last winter near Dromore, when the sideroad was fought with incessantly and needlessly. This also affected votes.

A pleasant musical evening was spent at the home of Mr and Mrs W. Ramage on Monday, with Messrs David and George Hooper on their violins, accompanied on the piano by Miss Grace Ramage and Mrs Thos. Moore interspersed with solos and vocal duets.

SOUTH BEND

New Year's Day, 1921. Another year has passed away. With its many hopes and fears, its scenes of gladness and of woe. It's laughter and its tears.

For some the joyous wedding bells Rang out upon the air; For some the solemn church bell tolled As they bore a loved one there.

For joy and sorrow are mingled here. No unmixed joy is given, To teach us that perfect happiness Can be found alone in Heaven.

Let us learn wisdom from the health en name Of the first month of the year, Look back and correct our many faults. Through the rest of our journey here.

What this year has in store for us Our God alone can tell. Let us do our duty and trust in Him And then all will be well.

We wish all a happy and prosperous New Year.
