First Steps for Continuation School in Holstein

At the School meeting held here on Tuesday afternoon, Mr Campbell of Toronto Insp. for West York, gave an appreciated address on the Consolidated School, stating that where there was no change, there is little progress. All governments have been generous in grants for educational purposes, and also the counties especially Grey County. He emphasized the necessity of practical education. Economic reasons require changes in this as well as all other institutions. The teacher's time of office in the one room school is too short to be of much benefit.

Mr R. Wright, Inspector for South Grey, took up the Continuation Class question, which is the one foremost here at the present time. We want he said, to keep Canada for Canadians and in view of the great immigration likely to take place from all countries our children should be well educated, as it is they who will shortly be doing Canada's business. He gave figures showing what grants would be given, etc. Mr John McArthur spoke of the County's attitude to such and could see no reason why a Continuation School could not be established.

The following Committee was elected to put the machinery in motion, with power to add to their numbers: L. B. Nicholson, Chairman; Dr. Ellis, D. Allan, R. Irwin, J. R. Philp. These met at close of meeting, organized, and added the following from the different School Sections: U. No 1—J. W. Blyth U. No 2—R. Robertson U. No 3—K. Murphy No 4—Geo. Hunt, J. Eurig No 6—W. J. McDougall No 9—P. Mutch No 10—John McArthur No 11—Alex. Calder No 12—W. H. Hunter, S. M. Patterson No 13—W. W. Ramage

ORCHARD EXPERIMENTS

Cultivation and Pruning Tests by Government Agents.

It Pays to Enrich the Soil—Late Cultivation Not Advisable—Pruning and Spraying Advocated—Thrifty Ewes Mean a Big Lamb Crop.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

FIVE leased orchards in the Counties of Simcoe, Norfolk, Prince Edward, Lambton and Ontario, all being in apple growing sections, were looked after by the Ontario Department of Agriculture during the war. Four of these have been very profitable. In the Prince Edward county orchard it was successfully demonstrated that new heads could be put on old trees.

The Department found that leasing apple orchards is a profitable business, but several things must be done to make it so. On the lighter soils many of the trees are positively starving while on heavier lands this may not be so apparent. In the experiments very little commercial fertilizer was used, but the Department depended on the use of barnyard manure, mostly secured from Toronto. About seven tons per acre are sufficient for one application, which gives about 400 pounds per tree and the total cost is about $21 per acre. The amount looks big but there is no doubt that it will pay well to spread that much on light land nearly every year.

About six or seven years ago we began ploughing, in the fall, several rows of trees in all the leased orchards (a portion being left in sod to test the soil under). This was done in order that we could answer from experience the frequent question—What about fall ploughing? When the land is fall ploughed cultivation can be begun much earlier in the spring. It costs much less to get land in good condition when it has been ploughed before winter, but we can see no advantage in ploughing closer than five feet from the tree. The troublesome part in orchard cultivation is close to the trunk and it is frequently difficult to work near the tree without injuring the bark.

We have tested cultivation against sod mulch, and have concluded that nearly all the orchards will be more profitable when cultivation is carried on, unless the land is first-class and there is plenty of barnyard manure for mulching. When to stop cultivation is rather hard to answer. It depends on the season. The drier the weather the later the cultivation should be carried on. On rich land apples will grow long after cultivation has ceased. We are stopping our cultivation earlier and earlier every year because our Ontario apples lack color; less cultivation means more color, more color higher priced fruit. Medium apples slightly colored seem preferable to larger ones lacking color. When cultivation is stopped a cover crop is frequently sown. The principal object is to rob the trees of nourishment in order that the fruit will color and the wood will ripen before winter. Some low growing crop from cheap seed gives most satisfaction.

Trees must be pruned to get high class apples. The best time to prune is early spring but we prune any month when the weather is not too cold for our men. If there are large cuts to make we leave a stub about one foot long and cut it off in the spring, as cuts of two inches or more do not heal well when made in the very cold weather; large cuts should be kept painted to keep the wood from decaying. Pruning is a slow business and it costs a lot to get a big orchard done, but it is absolutely necessary if good apples are expected. High trees are difficult to spray thoroughly. Twenty feet is high enough for any tree and several feet of top may be removed in a season with no bad effects. The tree with a low head is easier pruned, easier sprayed, can be picked for half the cost, and the wood will not blow down so many apples. W. F. Kydt, Fruit Branch, Toronto.

Thrifty Ewes Mean Bigger Lamb Crop.

The best results from breeding are obtained from ewes that are in a gaining condition. If they are thin from having been kept on short fall pastures, they should have a little grain—from one-quarter to one-half pound a day. This will put them in good condition and they will breed earlier and increase the lamb crop.

Some fairly accurate record should be kept when the ewes are bred in order that when lambing time approaches the ewes may be separated from the main flock and given extra feed and care. If ticks, lice or scab appear in the flock, the sheep should be dipped even though the weather is a little severe. This is extra work, but the flock will be more healthy and thrifty. A warm place should be provided for the sheep until they dry off.

The ram should also receive extra care at this time. In order to keep him active, vigorous and in fair flesh during the breeding season he should be fed a pound or two of grain every day. "Extra care of eyes and breeding ram at this time," says Mr. Anderson, "will insure a larger and stronger lamb crop and will repay the stockmaster for his extra labor."

Farm Notes.

From now on empty the hopper of the gasoline engine after using, and protect batteries from frost.

Do not forget that salt and water are as necessary for the cow as is feed. A tablespoonful of charcoal mixed with the feed aids digestion. The dairy farmer not only studies how to feed his cow, but how to feed his land. He is not a soil robber, as he realizes that the farmer who reduces the fertility of his land robs himself.

Arthur's Church Union Move

Last week in Arthur a well attended meeting was held to discuss ways and means of effecting church union in that village. The Methodist, Presbyterian and Anglican congregations were all fully represented and the desire for Union was unanimous. A resolution favoring the union of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Anglican congregations in Arthur was passed and Mr. E. W. Brocklebank, the Secretary of the meeting, was instructed to send same to the Secretaries of the Methodist Conference, the Presbyterian Assembly and the Niagara Anglican Diocese.

The outcome of this meeting will be awaited with much interest. That the object aimed at is a most desirable one goes without saying. Church union has long been a very live question in the councils and assemblies of the leading Protestant denominations, but its accomplishment seems still some distance off. Action by the laity locally all over the country would expedite matters greatly.

Word Picture of Muskoka Hospital

A WONDERLAND of invigorating pine-scented air, dazzling sunshine, freshly green trees, vivid blue water; no sound, but the song of birds! Set on an elevation—the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives, consisting of an infirmary for bed patients, with verandahs overlooking the lake, and many long, low, open-air pavilions, surrounding wide green lawns. Here, in hospital coats, are the patients, all wonderfully happy. White-clad nurses and doctors pass to and fro. Peace and contentment reign. Convalescents bask on sunny lawns, or lie in shaded hammocks. Broken down through overwork, worry, under-nourishment they have nothing to do but get well. "It's God's own spot," declared one young man reverently. Proper care, rest, pure air and good food had saved his life, the Samaritan Club providing for a bed-ridden father during the son's absence. "God's own spot" where a helping hand stretches out to those losing their grip of life! Contributions may be sent to Sir William Gage, 24 Spadina Avenue, Toronto, or to Geo. A. Reid, Treasurer, 225 College Street, Toronto.
