THE ROARER'S GAME IN THE WEST.—A letter from D. H. Hink, Sask., from M. O'Neill, brother of Messrs. John and Al O'Neill, Glenelg tells a curling story so interesting we quote: "I took in Rose-town bonspiel where there were 50 rinks entered, my rink bringing home the Gilbert tankard and the grand aggregate. The last day of the spel we carried seven games without leaving the ice, except for lunch, winning six out of the seven games. The same rink took in Saskatoon spel, where 58 rinks were entered. We won the Herman Trophy accompanied by four beautiful community silver carving sets. The total number of prizes I have won curling this season is 35 and I am sure proud of them." And well he may be. We congratulate him on his success "in soaping up" the prizes in this fine game.

Presentation to Mr and Mrs Thos. Collier

The home of Mr and Mrs Thos. Collier at Edge Hill was crowded last Thursday evening, when between eighty and ninety of their friends and neighbors gathered for a final social evening with them before their removal to Durham course, games and dancing, until the wee hours were growing larger. The event of the night was the presentation to Mr and Mrs Collier, Mr Wm. Weir acting as chairman. He called upon Miss Kate McFayden to read the address expressive of their worth as neighbors and voicing regret at their departure, while Messrs. Cliff Howell and John McFayden, presented them with a handsome buffet on behalf of the neighborhood. "Tommy" very aptly recited and several of the men were called upon for brief speeches.

Mr and Mrs Collier are removing this week to the John Wright residence at the top of Durham hill, Mr Albert McNally having bought the farm and getting possession March 1st.

Presbyterian W. M. S.

The W. M. S. of the Presbyterian Church held their 2nd meeting of the year on Thursday, Feb. 9th, Mrs. Derby, Pres., in the chair. Mrs. J. J. Smith gave the Bible reading. Mrs. Smith shows her individuality in this work by locking up and writing out the Bible references, this giving her listeners a better opportunity of taking in the work. The reports were read and adopted. A new idea was introduced in the form of an expense fund, a loving the Society of the future to send all missionary money to that cause. The plan adopted originated with our former President, Mrs. Whaley in the form of a birthday box, which was to be passed at each meeting and every one having a birthday during the month is asked to contribute according to their years—of course the members are all young. Miss Margaret McGirr read an introductory to the new mission book, "The Planting of the Faith."

The paper of the afternoon was given by Mrs. C. Ramage, and great credit should be given Mrs. Ramage for the excellent paper. The paper given was an introduction to the new book we are to study, "The Planting of the Faith." Mrs. Ramage touched on several of the present state of affairs and showed how this affects the missionaries; China, Korea, Manchuria, and last and greatest of our own Canadian West. The Canadian West should be taken care of from a religious standpoint and a political standpoint also. —er who will give in the future. Every lady of the congregation should have heard this paper and everybody in attendance would go home feeling it was an afternoon well spent.

Mrs. A. Jackson read a couple of extracts from Africa from a book sent by Mrs. Rice which was also enjoyed and gave an idea of some of the activities of Africa. There was a good attendance about 35 being present and there is still room for a greater number.

Owen Sound Won the Round

By defeating Durham Juniors 10-0 in Owen Sound last Friday night the Sounders captured the first N. H. L. semi-final round by 11 goals, as they had previously won by 2-1 here. Though the home team had the best of the game throughout, it was not nearly so one-sided as the score would lead one to believe. Durham had hard luck in not securing at least four goals and in the first two periods they held the Greys to 3 counters. It was in the last period that the Durham's were distanced, the Greys adding 5 more goals. The ice was covered with water to start with this turned to slush as the game progressed, and the heavy going played the lighter Durhams out. Evidge was done in the second period while a couple of others could do no effective work in the last. The ice thus favored the heavier home team, and had it been kept in Durham would have made it more interesting though they would unlikely have won with being the star of the locals in his offensive play, though defensively he was not as strong as the Greys defence pair. Even the Sounders admit that Durham has a forward line equal if not superior to their own team, and had a fresh sub. been available, an even score would have been shown.

Our Junior team, along with the manager-trainer R. L. Saunders are entitled to a great deal of credit for the excellent hockey they have given the fans this winter and by winning their district.

IN MEMORIAM

Mrs. Adam Brown
Tuesday, 7th Feb. 1922, Mrs. Adam Brown Sr. died at her home at Clare, Mich. at a ripe old age, having survived with one or two exceptions they are at last merged with the well-trained team work, combined with an almost impregnable defence and goalkeeping. Durham wishes them success in their semi-final climb in both leagues.

Her son Adam saw her in January but could not stay, Mrs T. Brown was there Norman and wife from Whiting, Ind. ; Chas from Virginia and the others, all were at the bedside except Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. W. Davidson, Mrs. Reynolds and five sons and son-in-law, Mr. Reynolds and Pearson of Alpena, officiated at the home funeral at Long Rapids church. The floral offerings as was fitting to this lover of flowers, were of exquisite beauty and abundant.

A good many knew of her husband's penchant for poetry and we cannot avoid quoting his last effort, written not many days before his death, as a kind of Valentine to his wife on the anniversary of their wedding day. She has "joined him now to part never more, and the christian hope warrants us in believing that both can now "linger along the shore." Happily reunited. Here are the exquisite verses written after 57 years of married life:

To Mother
And I look on her face, changed, though lovely to me,
And I look at our sand-glass and there too I see
Those sands quickly passing, oh which shall it be
That receives the first shaft from Death's quiver?
I hope that the Master may first call me o'er,
For then I could linger along by the shore
And I'd help you my love o'er the river."

Mrs John McGillivray

The death occurred from pneumonia on Saturday of one of the earliest residents of this part in the person of Mrs. John McGillivray of Mulock aged 87 years. Her maiden name was Flora Beaton and her husband predeceased her six years ago. Of a family of eight children, six survive, viz. Alex. C. Beaton, Donald at home, Lizzie, Mrs. F. C. Mulock; Mrs. Long, Walkerton; Maggie, Mrs. McGillivray, Sunningdale, Sask.; Mrs. Clare, Mary and Angus both of Spokane, Wash., are the deceased members. The funeral was held Monday to Rocky cemetery, many friends paying the last tribute. A more complete account of the life of this worthy lady will appear next week.

Death of Robert Corlett

One of the fathers of the district of Dornoch and one of its oldest men passed away at his home on Tuesday last in the person of Robert Corlett. He passed away without pain or agony, the machinery of life worn out, leaving to his loved ones the fragrance of "a life well-lived." He was born in Glen-garry, Ont., in 1833 and over sixty years ago came to Benitnick, and with the aid of his wife, who was Miss Margaret Hughes, did his part in reclaiming the wilderness. His wife died in 1911 and of a family of six daughters and two sons, there survive Robert at home; Mrs. Buckle, Benton Harbor, Mich.; Mrs. Earl and Mrs. Hanger in Chicago; and Margaret at Clare, Mich. We have not learned when interment takes place.

Death of Andrew Leslie

Monday last there was interred at Amos Church cemetery, a pioneer of the district, Andrew Leslie. He died in Toronto on Saturday last at the age of 91 years. Over 20 years ago he left Egremont, spending a few years in Mt. Forest, and then to Toronto. His wife died many years ago and since he has been tenderly cared for by his daughter Lizzie, and three sons near by. The sons are Albert, John and Addison. Another daughter Emma is married to Mr. Scott. Two brothers of deceased are now 70 and 81 years of age living in Owen Sound. The funeral services in Toronto. The funeral service at Dromore was conducted by Rev. W. J. Burnett. Albert and Miss Lizzie accompanied the remains to their last resting place.

St. Valentine Carnival Was the Best Yet

Perhaps the best costumes ever seen on Durham ice, and more of them, were in evidence at the second Carnival of the season Tuesday. There were about 150 masqueraders, with about as wide a range of characters depicted as could be imagined. The gate receipts also broke carnival records, so it was a complete success. Strange, though many country people were present, that no farmer brought it worth while to gather the $5 prize for "biggest load of people"

The open race was won by Taylor of Grand Valley, with McArthur of same place 2nd. Sherwood Rowe and Cliff Pus-hien were scarcely a lap behind in the matched races between Rowe and Eddie Innes, only the 220 yard was pulled off last giving way. Innes was injured when he ran into the boards. The Grand Valley men also gave a lap exhibition, and proved themselves real speedsters. The winners for costumes were:

FANCY:
Lady—Mary McKeehanie (W. Washington)
Gent.—Lloyd McClodlin (cavalier)
Girl—Shirley McIntyre (the Dutch girl)
Boy—Wallace McGowan (owl)

HISTORICAL:
Lady—Amelia Bair (Italian girl)
Gent.—Ward Koch (17th century knight)
Girl—Eula Burnett (Brittania)
Boy—Alex. Graham (Highlander)
Best Move a Star—Marie Cole (representing Mary Pickford)
Best Comic—Geo. Lavelle (clown)
Other splendid costumes not taking prizes were:

Boy leading bear—Norman McIntyre & Thompson
104th Guards of Honor at Princess Mary's wedding—V. Caldwell and S. McDonald.
King Lear—E. D. McClocklin
Minister—Royden Burnett
Uncle Tom and Little Eva—J. H. Hard and daughter Jean
Chinaman and Jap lady—J. A. and Mrs. Rowland
Jontel—Miss Jean McGowan
and many others we can't recall.

Still another Carnival "bigger than ever," with best prizes yet offered and cash where possible, was staged early in March. Begin now and prepare costumes.

A Princely Gift to Hanover

Presented with a Hospital
With startling suddenness we learn from the Post, Mr Daniel Knechtel informed the Council of Hanover of his purpose to present his well-beloved town with a Hospital costing $10,000. Not only so, he estimated that to make the changes necessary would cost $6,000, and he will pay $5,000 of this if the town would raise the other $1,000. Needless to say the Council overflowed with gratitude and quickly accepted the splendid offer, promising to raise the $1,000.

It will be remembered that about a year ago, Mr J. S. Knechtel offered for $10,000, his fine residence worth perhaps $40,000 to the town for a hospital. The council was duly appreciative, but fearing to take the plunge, the proposition hung fire. It is this building the father of J. S. Knechtel has bought and his generosity will add to the endowment that clings around his name in Hanover at the present time and will to the third and fourth generation. We congratulate our progressive sister town on being the recipients of so noble a gift.

The natural, refreshing sleep of a healthy body is enjoyed by those who take Tanlac. Sold at Macfarlane's Drug Store.

A delightfully informal social night was spent Monday in Trinity Church schoolroom at the St. Valentine Birthday social. The evening opened with a singing-song in which all participated and featuring the program were readings by E. D. McClocklin, instrumentalists by F. Bunce and others and two good contests. There was a large crowd present and over $85 was realized.

Men's Bible Class
The discussion next Sunday will be on "Spiritualism." The text evoked new interest in this cult and the prestige of names like Sir Oliver Lodge and Sir A. Conan Doyle added to it. Can we talk with the dead? If so—how? Various methods have been used such as ouija board, table movement, raps, slate writing, scaled letter reading, etc. Are the mediums honest or do some claim, demon possessed? Come and bring a friend.
