BOUGHT ALLAN PARK STORE.—Mr E. B. Code has sold his general store at Allan Park, which has a stock of approximately $5000 to Mr James Park Jr., son of Arch Park of Durham. Mr Park took possession of the store Monday, but has Mr R. Schillemore in charge until after his auction sale of farm stock and effects, which is advertised in this issue. Mr Code intends going west.

CARNIVAL CALLED OFF.—The continued mild weather all last week played havoc with the ice surface in the rink, and consequently the Carnival which the Durham Amusement Co. had billed for Thursday last had to be withdrawn. It gave promise of being a successful event, but ice in March is always an uncertain quantity, so management and public must be satisfied with the two held earlier.

Mrs P. Gagnon gave the use of her home which took the form of a reception on Thursday last, for the benefit of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church. Invitations were issued including a small sack in which was to be inserted silver to the extent of one's age. It is doubtful if the Durham ladies lived up to this rigidly, but their good will to the Society, was to the extent of $30.00, representing a total of 5000 years! Now how many were present?

BEFORE THE MAGISTRATE.—Police Magistrate Laidlaw had before him on Saturday last, George Montgomery and Moyer, the former charged with assault. Both work in the Furniture Factory and the incident that caused the trouble was the disappearance of Montgomery's rubbers. Moyer picked the rubbers out from below a machine and said, "here they are." Montgomery evidently thought he had hid them and in an unguarded moment gave him a severe blow on the face knocking him down. It appears that Moyer had on two or more occasions been guilty of annoying boyish tricks. Defence argued that the fall might be caused by him tripping over strips on the floor. Anthony Holmes, Philip Lawrence and Peter Reid gave evidence as to the force of the blow and the magistrate after some remarks on the seriousness of the practice imposed a fine of $10 and costs.

Be sure and come to the Presbyterian church on the evening of the 17th March and hear "ould Ireland" made famous in song and story. Mrs. W. Rutledge, Hanover, will contribute an Irish address on this occasion. Refreshments served. Admission 25c.

A terrible fatality in Owen Sound on Saturday last. The big fire at the Kilbourn block a few weeks ago left some of the walls standing. One of these though held by wire, tumbled and fell on the kitchen of an adjoining building crushing it like an egg shell and killing Mrs Assid Simon, who was preparing dinner. An inquest is being held and the firemen and others saw to it that the remainder of the wall was taken down to avoid further danger. The victim is an Assyrian and a bride of a few months only.

LIKES S. GREY'S MEMBER.—Mr R. Duncan, M. P. for North Grey, writes from Ottawa to the Owen Sound Sun-Times; "I have met all the good Tories and a lot of good Liberals. I had the pleasure of meeting Jimmy Malcolm of Kincardine and was very pleased. He is just my kind. I have not met many of the Progressives yet as they seem to stand off from the rest of us, excepting Miss McPhail. I received an introduction to her and I think she and I will get along splendidly."

MONTHLY MISSIONARY MEETING.—The Presbyterian W. M. S. met in the Durham Pres. Church, March 9th, Mrs A. Derby, President, in the chair, and a most interesting meeting was conducted. The minutes of last meeting were read and adopted. The visiting committee were reported as being most cordially welcomed by all whom they called upon. The birthday mite box was placed upon the table and received some contributions. Miss Belle McKenzie gave the paper on the Bible reading, explaining each text. Mrs Jno. Bell gave an excellent paper on "Central India and Honan" and although India is in such unrest, showed the wonderful progress made in missionary work, the Indian natives going as missionaries themselves. Mrs A. W. H. Lauder gave a short missionary story, and the meeting closed with prayer.

Death of Mrs McMillan
On Monday last there passed away at the home of her son-in-law Robert Macfarlane, Mrs John McMillan, aged 88 years. Deceased has been a resident of Durham for fourteen years coming here from Antigonish, Nova Scotia, and though coming here late in life made friends and was esteemed in the circle in which she moved. Under the loving care of her daughter, though suffering from an anæmic trouble, she has seen a good old age and is the last of her level to pass over the divide.

Mrs McMillan who was Miss Margaret Gibson Bould, was born in Dunfermline, Scotland, and came in young womanhood to Halifax, N.S., to reside with an uncle named Gibson, who in Confederation days was a stalwart opponent of the entrance of Nova Scotia into the Dominion. Mr McMillan died 18 years ago. She was Presbyterian in faith and her pastor Rev. W. H. Smith will to-day Wednesday conduct the funeral services. Interment takes place in Durham cemetery.
