LOCAL AND PERSONAL

An appreciative article on the late Jas. Boakes, from the pen of Mr. C. McInnes, is received too late for this week.

Miss Edna Haas, Toronto, is spending a month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Haas.

Mr. Harold Main of the Hydro Co., has been visiting his mother this past couple of weeks.

Miss Hood, teacher at No. 10 school was a week end guest at the Parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Moore visited his brother Joseph N. Egremont, this week who has not been well all winter and is not improving much.

Mrs. Bunston is in very poor health just now.

Quite a number attended Jas. O'Connell's sale on Tuesday. Mr. O'Connell has rented his farm to Dan Farrell.

The telephone men are repairing the lines. Sunday night's ice was almost heavy enough to do damage.

St. Patrick's Social in the Methodist church on Friday evening was a decided success. Mr. West gave a short talk on St. Patrick's life which was interesting. There was also music, singing, a play, &c. At the close refreshments were served. Proceeds amounted to over $20.00.

Rev. G. S. Scott returned Friday evening after spending most of the week in Toronto, Welland and other places.

H. Main who was laid up with grip is out again.

Martin Bye is unable to attend school this week on account of sickness.

It is our sad duty to report death of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McGillivray's four month old daughter. The funeral is to be held on Tuesday. Sympathy is extended to friends.

Jas. Baikes, known to all N. Egremont, who lived alone when at home was found dead on Sunday by his neighbors. He had been working out during the week, coming home on Saturday night, which was the last seen of him alive.

The short course in street judging conducted on Wednesday by Mr. R. H. Harding of Thurlowdale was well attended though it was Fair Day in the Forest. More interest than usual was manifested with horses and quite a number are ready to join in judging cattle and sheep. The idea of these courses is to educate the young men which in this case turned out well. But a large number who might have taken advantage of it were conspicuous by their absence. It is also interesting and beneficial to older men. Some of the young men who are too old to take part with the older ones.

Such a course cannot but have a great effect and if carried on from year to year greater interest would be taken and it would be impossible to figure their worth. Mr. Cooper is to be congratulated on the success. He is also anxious to have each school section go in for school gardening, ac, and have a school fair all going in the fall.

ORCHARD

The roads have just been about ready for cars etc., but this sleet and rain will likely spoil them for awhile again. Too bad we didn't have all our cold weather at one spell and then we could have been ready for spring when it did come.

Quite a number of their friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rawl last Thursday evening to spend a social evening before these people leave for their new home. The main feature of the evening was a presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Rawl of a beautiful gas lamp and an address which was read by Mrs. Cornish. Mr. and Mrs. Rawl each made a very suitable reply thanking their friends for this unexpected gift and extending invitations to all of us to come and visit them in their new home.

The ratepayers of the section met at the school Friday evening to discuss the advisability of still being connected with the Holstein Continuation School. The decision seems to be unfavorable toward this scheme which was begun last year.

Miss Luttrell spent the week end visiting friends in Holstein.

A few from the village attended and took part in the St. Patrick's entertainment Friday night and all report a very nice evening.

The Misses Kellar's of Varney were the guests of Miss E. MacIveride one day last week.

YEovil

Much sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Roy McGillivray in their sudden sorrow. On Sunday evening Jas. Baikes, their infant daughter aged 3 mos. and 19 days, passed gently away. She was a bright healthy baby and her demise coming so unexpectedly was a great shock. Lying in her little white casket among the flowers she was the fairest bud but the Great Gardener has only transplanted her to a brighter climate to be with the children's friend. At the funeral to day, their pastor Rev. Mr. Scott spoke consolingly from the text: "He shall feed His flock like a shepherd, He shall gather the lambs with His arm, and carry them in His bosom."

"God gave and God has taken away. Let us our Jeannie be: His ways are not like unto ours, He gives us Sunshine, why not showers? He knows His own, His chosen flowers. Such was our Jeannie. She cannot come to us again, God claims our Jeannie, But we may go to her some day, When one by one He leads the way. No more to part, but aye to stay, With our wee Jeannie."

Mr. and Mrs. W. Crispin of Alfeld and Miss Ethel Mutch, Toronto attended the funeral.

Miss Mary Mutch is able to sit up a little while now and is slowly regaining her strength. We hope she will be quite well and strong again. Nurse Connolly went home last Friday. Miss T. Stevenson is still with her niece.

Mrs. J. Reid has returned home after visiting her daughters in Owen Sound and Swinton Park.

Some of our ladies are enjoying Miss Hopkins' demonstrations on cooking, etc., which are going on this week and part of next week under the auspices of Drumore W. I. Several are suffering with severe colds but we hope they will not become an epidemic. Perhaps the "quincial" gales will blow them away.

We noticed Mr. Jas. Melonis "moving" going out to Holist in recently. He and his wife have resided in this vicinity for a great many years—well liked and respected neighbors—and we wish them much happiness in their new home and hope they will enjoy their leisure days after their many years of hard work on the farm. M. Wes. Love and family have moved into the vacated home in their home on the 12th con.

Mrs. S. Eccles spent a recent week with her brother and attended church services in her old home church.

Miss Annie Sinclair, who has been suffering from a sprained ankle is improving.

Messrs. Charlie McDougall, Wilbert Ross and Earl Bunston have gone west again.

A Special Meeting of Yeovil Club will be held Monday, 27th inst, to deliver Guses Seed and Seed Corn. Those who ordered same please attend. H. Groat, Sec.-Treas.

NORTH EGREMONT

It was with startling suddenness that the news of Jim Boakes' death came to this neighborhood. He was going around on Saturday night and was up to Drumore and walked home. On Sunday three of the neighboring boys went to pay him a friendly visit in the afternoon and to their sad surprise found him lying in bed, cold in death. Jim through lack of education in early youth was not bright mentally as some but had a good discerning quality between right and wrong and always comporting himself well in Amos Presbyterian Church of which he was a member, and popular to attendance when in the neighborhood. He was a mason by trade and has or had a brother, Jack by name but no word has been heard of him for years. An uncle, Stephen Boakes died some years ago and is buried in Amos church cemetery.

Andrews-Dailey Nuptials

A happy wedding was celebrated in North Egremont at the home of Mr and Mrs Thos. Dailey on Wednesday March 15th, when their eldest daughter Mabel C. was married to Mr. W. J. Wesley Andrews, son of Mr and Mrs T. E. Andrews near Mt. Forest. The ceremony was conducted by the pastor, the Rev. R. J. McCarty Methodist minister of Priceville. The bride was dressed in white satin, with veil and carried a beautiful bouquet of carnations and fern. She was attended by her sister Miss Velva Dailey, dressed in coral georgette and satin. The bride's hat was of henna silk trimmed with silver, and her going away suit of navy. The groom was attended by his brother Edgar. The wedding march was played by Mrs. McCarty and only immediate relatives were present. After the wedding supper, a programme of vocal and instrumental music, recitations and speeches added to the enjoyment of the evening. The bride and groom will live on the town line on the farm formerly occupied by Mr. W. R. Watson. We all join in wishing them many happy and prosperous years of wedded life.

The Farmers' Paper Every Other Day

The Farmers' Sun, which has been enlarged and improved, is now published EVERY OTHER DAY. This forward step was taken at the earnest request of Sun readers who wished a farm newspaper which would give a summary of world news, more frequent markets (for which The Sun is noted), together with a paper which is sympathetic to the farmers viewpoint. All these are found in The Sun. No other farm paper equals The Farmers Sun in the service it renders to its readers.

When you subscribe for a farm paper, subscribe for The Farmers' Sun, owned and published by the farmers, and published in their interests. The subscription price of the tri-weekly Sun is only $2.00 per year, or three years for $5.00. When you spend $5.00 for a City Daily when you get all you require through The Farmers' Sun for $2.00 per year. Address all letters to The Farmers' Sun, Toronto.
