PRICEVILLE AND SOUTH VICINITY

PRICEVILLE AND SOUTH

Died, at her home in Priceville on the 21st April, Mrs. Allan McLean, after a prolonged sickness borne with Christian patience in her 43rd year. It is just one year since Mr. McLean and family moved to Priceville from his farm one mile north of this place. Mrs. McLean's maiden name was informed as Miss Richardson, born and raised near the village of Chatsworth. She leaves a lonely husband, four daughters and two sons. The funeral on Sunday, 23rd April, was largely attended. The remains were taken to the Presbyterian Church of her pastor, Rev. Mr. Jones, preached a comforting sermon from the words in the 116th Psalm: "Precious in the sight of the Lord are the death of His saints." The remarks were chiefly on "death" and the death of the young mother is one of the sadder. In front of the casket which was beautifully covered with flowers, sat the lonely husband and family and friends. The pall bearers were six young men of the neighborhood. The remains were laid to rest in McNeal cemetery followed by a large crowd of mourners and sympathizers.

During part of last week we had real winter weather, snowdrifts some 4 and 5 feet deep. (This Monday, 24th April, plowing was resumed again and we hope the weather will take a change for the better soon.
Cattle feed is scarce, dear and hard to get at any price.

Mrs. Hugh McKinnon is around now but not as strong yet as of old. Mr. W. H. Patterson and daughter Willa, were guests at our residence one evening recently while on her way driving her to her school at Top Cliff. Mr. Dan Campbell, North Line, Artemesia, is busy preparing for a brick house this summer. Mr. Alex McDonald of this town is away to Ottawa to visit his son and family, John L. McDonald, teacher.

Mr. Arch McCuaig had a paper from his cousin, Rev. Angus McPhee of Tigh na Bruich in the Highlands of Scotland. Mr. McPhee is in his 80th year and is preaching as well as ever in Gaelic or English. He has been 46 years pastor in the old Kirk in his native island, Islay, Scotland and 50 years altogether. Mr. McPhee preached at the little church at Bunnessan 43 years ago in English and Gaelic, at the time of the late Rev. Mr. McLeod's pastorate.

Death of Daniel R. MacKinnon

Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Farquhar MacKinnon and family, Priceville over the loss by death of their son Daniel in Fergus hospital on Tuesday last. He was one of the victims of a gas attack in the war and ever since his vitality has been affected. He went west, but came home last fall quite ill. He rallied and gave hope to friends, but his old throat trouble came back and he died as above, aged 28 yrs, 9 mos. His only brother was killed in France, thus in the one home were two war victims. Three sisters will mourn with their parents the loss of a loved son and brother. Lydia, the nurse went to Fergus with him, so he got loving care. Mary and Sadie are at home. Interment takes place to-day.

Artemesia Man Refused to Pay Taxes but Later Coughed up

A certain citizen of Artemesia Township refused to pay his taxes, and as a consequence County Constable Cook was called upon to go and collect them or seize collateral sufficient to justify the claim. Taking a witness along he went out and interviewed the delinquent, with the result that he was met with a point blank refusal to pay any more taxes. Upon an invitation to go to the stable and show his horse the gentleman seized a stick and stood in the door of the stable, threatening to spread on the ground the brains of any man who tried to enter. In fact he raised the stick preparatory to dissecting the constable. The latter pulled his gun, when Mr. Fighting Man apparently thought better of it and dropped his stick. In a twinkling the stick was kicked from his hand and a pair of handcuffs graced his wrists. He called for help but there was no response. And he wept louder than ever Rachael wept for her children, but his spirit was broken and he invited the constable to the house where considerable specie was unearthed and a cheque given for the balance. Thus was the majesty of the law vindicated and the coffers of the Township enriched to the extent of eighty-five good simoleons.—Flesherton Advance.

Study tour for Boys

About the best thing a father can do for his boys is to encourage them to travel and see something of the world, before they become too keenly engrossed in commercial life. Travel is a great Educator—it enriches the mind and fits the youth to better fill his place in life. A normal boy is observant—he assimilates and retains knowledge. Travel gives him his opportunity, it fits him for every phase in life.

A tour of Europe is at present being organized under the personal supervision of Mr. T. H. Matthews, M. A. (Oxon) Assistant Professor of Mathematics, McGill University, and late Instructor, Lieutenant, Royal Navy. In addition, local guides will be secured, to conduct excursions and give lectures on the artistic, historic, literary and economic significance of the sights seen and the places visited.

A most carefully planned and interesting itinerary has been arranged including visits to Montreal, Liverpool, Chester, Stratford-on-Avon, Oxford, London, Paris, Lyons, Marseilles, Cannes, Nice, Monaco, Mentone, Genoa, Pisa, Rome, Naples, Sorrento, Capri, Pompeii, Veuvivius, Florence, Venice, Trent Innsbruck, Munich, the Passion Play at Oberammergau, Nuremberg, Mayence, the Rhine, Marselles, Brussels, Louvain and Ostend returning through London and Liverpool.

This exceptional tour starts from Montreal on Saturday June 21st, calling at Quebec, by the splendid White Star Line steamship "Canopic" (12, 100 tons). A period of approximately two months will be occupied by the tour as by the itinerary of the return trip is made from Liverpool by the fine steamship "Regina" (10, 500 tons) arriving at Montreal on August 21st.

The arrangements for this tour are most complete and the charge which is a minimum one covers everything in the way of transportation, hotel accommodation, sight seeing fees, in brief all necessary travelling expenses for the entire tour. Apply to any agent of the Canadian National Railways for further particulars.

There were a number of speakers who favored Consolidated Schools both in the trustees' department and the teachers' department. Inspector Lees of Peterboro presented a strong argument in favor of these schools and also answered many arguments used by opponents. There is no doubt that a large number of rural trustees are strongly opposed and attended this convention with the express purpose of voicing their opposition if necessary. A strong movement is on foot at the present time to increase the number of Consolidated schools.

A resolution requesting the Department of Education to increase the grant of $500 for per capita improvements in high schools to $1000 was unanimously adopted.

Mr. J. G. Elliott of Kingston, Chairman of Legislation Committee of the Trustees' Department was elected President of the Ontario Educational Association for the coming year.

The teachers in session at the O. E. A. strongly repudiated the charge of Unionism of the teaching profession made by Judge J. H. Scott. The Federation made a point blank denial of the charge and claimed that the real object of the organization was to raise the standard of the profession both from the view of the teacher and of the service rendered to the community. The Federation strongly endorsed the formation of a Board of Reference to mediate in disputes between teachers and trustees. The "black listing" of certain school boards by the Federation was strongly condemned by the trustees section, the whole subject has become so serious and intolerable as to warrant immediate overhauling, was Judge Scott's opinion.

The Trustee Section of the Ontario Educational Association has for two years past been assuming great importance, and the meeting last week was no exception.

A proposal to teach French in the Public Schools was introduced but met with little support only 6 voting for it out of the 800 representatives, and a motion of a French Canadian delegate to make it optional was ignored.

Much time was taken up with the vexed question of disparity in grants to Public and Separate schools. It was formally voted that Mr. Grant should make a plain public statement as to these grants and the basis on which they were made.

The question of consolidated schools was discussed without a decision being reached, but the balance of opinion was in favor of the change. "Consolidation will not come," said the speaker, "unless there are public spirited men who are willing to work hard and undergo abuse to secure it. That abuse will eventually turn to praise, he declared, either before or after one's death!"

Dr. Carscallen, of Tamworth, told of their experience, and stated that it had not raised the tax rate appreciably, at the same time increasing the attendance wonderfully. An outlying school that had been brought in to the consolidation and expected an average attendance of about 15, had actually sent an average of over 30.

Another burning topic was the Teachers' Federation, which President Scott of Perth said were largely commercial affairs in the nation of trade unions which Judge Scott believed was not needed. A motion to appoint a conciliatory commission of three to report on the question, one by the Trustees, one by the teachers, and one by the Minister of Education was voted down, indicating that the feeling was against recognizing the federation even in this mild manner. An outcome of the discussions may be a federation of Trustees.

Since the foregoing was in type we have received a detailed report from delegate H. R. Koch for which we thank him from which we extract:

Judge J. H. Scott of Perth in his presidential address before the Trustees department advocated Consolidated rural schools. He pointed out that Ontario is lagging behind in installing modern equipment in rural schools, that rural education was now being got at an extravagant cost under the present system. He also pointed out that the real source of delinquency in attendance of pupils was the lack of interest and control of parents. Home and school clubs did much to correct this state of affairs he thought, and helped to arouse parents interest in school work. Teachers' salaries, and engagements should not be hemmed round with the trade union restrictions which a teacher's federation would institute. "Teacher's federations are largely a commercial proposition it seems to me," he said.

There were a number of speakers who favored Consolidated Schools both in the trustees' department and the teachers' department. Inspector Lees of Peterboro presented a strong argument in favor of these schools and also answered many arguments used by opponents. There is no doubt that a large number of rural trustees are strongly opposed and attended this convention with the express purpose of voicing their opposition if necessary. WINDOW AND VERANDAH

Brightened With Flower Boxes and Hanging Baskets.
The Boxes Must Be Strong and Durable—The Soil Should Be Kept Rich and Well Watered—Hints on Arrangement of Plants.

Window boxes should be made strong and durable. Each box should be nine or ten inches wide at top and bottom, seven or eight inches deep inside measurements, of a suitable length to fit the window, not over four feet in length, made of one-inch dressed lumber, and when finished, painted a dull green color. Half-inch holes should be bored about six inches apart through the bottom of the box for drainage purposes. Verandah boxes should be about the same measurements. A large iron screw eye, or iron staple, should be put at each top, outside (front) corner of the window boxes. A strong piece of wire should be attached to these long enough to attach to another screw eye or staple placed in the window frame about a foot higher up than top of box, so that the box can be fastened securely in position. Boxes and barrels may be made more artistic and rustic looking by nailing moss and fungi covered bark, of native trees, on the outside. This not only adds to their attractiveness but also helps to keep the plants moist and cool at the roots in summer time. The bark from Basswood, Elm, Cedar or Birch trees will be found suitable. By the exercise of a little taste and originality, very pretty boxes can be made at slight cost. Verandah boxes and rustic stands can be made in something the same way. One of the prettiest rustic stands I have ever seen was made from the lower half of a sugar barrel, reinforced by a thickness of half-inch board nailed on the bottom of the barrel outside to strengthen it, with three-quarter inch holes bored through for drainage purposes.

Hanging Baskets.
Wire hanging baskets lined with green moss or sphagnum moss are very effective, especially for a sunny position. The clay baskets dry out very quickly and are better suited for a shady position than a sunny one.

The soil for window boxes must be rich in fertilizers if the best results are to be obtained. It is a good plan to put an inch in depth of well rotted barnyard manure, or dry cow manure, near the bottom of each box, before filling it up with the depth of soil. About an inch in bottom of the box first, and the fertilizers named spread over it, or about half a pound of bone meal may be used as a substitute for the first named fertilizers. These fertilizers will help sustain plant growth late in the season when the soil has become exhausted. One part sand, one part leaf mould (black soil from the bush) and seven or eight parts of light loamy soil well mixed, with two parts of either of the fertilizers named added, will make a good soil for window boxes, rustic stands, etc.

The best time to fill window boxes is when they are to be placed in position toward the end of May or early in June. The boxes may be set in position and well secured, before they are filled with soil or plants, as they are heavy and difficult to set in position when filled.

Arrangement of Plants.
Tall growing plants should be placed at the back of the box nearest the window. Dwarf plants and trailing plants should then be put around the front and ends of the box. Any space between these in the centre of the box should be filled with medium height plants. It is a good plan to first fill the box nearly level full with soil, then stand the plants on the surface where they are to be planted finally. By doing this the plants can be changed about and rearranged, and a good idea of the arrangement and effect desired can be obtained before finally planting them. For color effect, for instance, too much of any one color, especially the heavier colors, should not be placed in any one part of the box, whether of dwarf or tall plants, as there would not then be a proper balance of color, something that would detract from the effect considerably. By standing the plants on the surface of the soil before planting as mentioned, any change required can be easily made. Use bright colored plants mainly foliage or foliage or flowers, and if possible, make use of good sized plants. Boxes filled as described at the time of setting out, will do much better than boxes filled very early in the season. Boxes filled very early in the season, often get shabby as soon as they are set out, and sometimes become positively unsightly before the summer season is half over.

Care of Boxes.
Window boxes, etc., require copious and frequent waterings every day, or at least every second day, especially during hot weather. The soil should be well soaked with water when watering the boxes. Toward the end of the season, in July and August, some liquid fertilizer may be given the plants.—The late Wm. Hunt, O. A. College, Guelph.
