DEATH OF W. P. TELFORD.—Owen Sound and North Grey mourn sincerely the death of Mr. W. P. Telford, eldest brother of the late J. P. Telford and father of J. C. Telford, both so well known in Durham. The deceased was 87 years of age and the best years of a long life were spent in service to his town and community. He as a Liberal represented North Grey in the Commons for a term and was prominent on the management of several societies and corporations. Presbyterian in faith, he was a pillar of his church and a staunch adherent and supporter of every moral movement. The press of Owen Sound, clergy and all classes of citizens, unite in praise of the public spirit he showed and the many virtues he possessed. The memory of such a life is an inspiration and with the sorrow of separation is mingled thankfulness that he was so long spared as an example of a worthy citizen.

Egremont Farmer Ended his Life

As Result of Worry, Robt. McMicken, turns gun on himself

Startling was the news which rapidly spread on Monday, that Robt McMicken a well-known and energetic farmer east of Varney, had taken his own life about 6.15 that morning. For some months past he has not been in good health partially due to a running sore in one leg, and he has been worrying considerably over farm troubles. He owns 250 acres clear with three barns, some of the buildings were in need of repair and he believed he was "going behind." Always a hard and steady worker, these and other worries doubtless unbalanced his mind when he committed the rash act.

He had gone outside on the verandah when wife and children heard the report. He had turned the gun on his heart, and, in falling, clutched the post, but death was practically instantaneous.

The deceased was born 60 years ago this month on the farm on which he died, which had been taken up by his father, the late Jas. McMicken in pioneer days. He always lived on the homestead, except for a short time when out west. Through industry, thorough honesty and thrift, he had acquired a comfortable home, and had bought the farm from his father with not a cent of dispute.

About 26 years ago he wedded Miss Jennie Reid, who survives him with their five children, all grown-up; Elmer of Toronto, (Eva) Mrs Van Slyke of Durham; (Ruby) Mrs Swanston of Egremont, Bessie and Cecil at home. His aged mother and one sister, Mrs Dan McAuliffe also reside in Durham. Three other sisters are living, Mrs Williams of Tisdale, Sask.; Mrs Kinzie of Chatham and Mrs Henry of Shallow Lake, while two are deceased. Three brothers also survive him, David in Sault Ste. Marie; Wm. in Toronto and John in Michigan.

The deceased and his daughter Ruby were bosom companions, and he deeply missed her presence in the home since her marriage last summer. Interment took place on Wednesday to Maplewood Cemetery.

Orpheus Chorus was a Musical Treat

The Orpheus Male Chorus, Owen Sound's premier musical organization delighted a good house with their program last Thursday evening. They came seventeen strong conducted by Mr Geo. Oberle, who has forty years experience as a chorus leader, and we are safe in stating no finer chorus work has ever been heard in Durham. The time and harmony were excellent, and with precise enunciation their words could be readily heard. Perhaps their most popular choral number was "The Bill of Fare" a humorous take-off of a waiter's sing song. The "March of the Guards" and "Admiral Tom" were also productive of perfect blending of voices, with volume well under control.

The inimitable D. B. Patterson, was again on deck with new skits and sketches which brought down the house. A wonderful effort was his "Managstol" in which he sang all four parts, soprano; alto, tenor, bass, and quite effectively too. J. L. Yule, well-known and an old favorite here, supplied a fine solo as also did Messrs G. McGregor, H. E. Pembroke and D. Hubbard, the latter a new star here. G. D. Fleming in "A Red, Red Rose" was at his best, and he is one of Western Ontario's leading tenors.

Mei. Christie, a splendid baritone, was also enjoyed in "the ringers" which contained hits on local men. Variety was lent by the grand zomophone solos by L. A. Duncan and the audience would have appreciated more of his nimble music.

No small part of the success of the Chorus is due to Miss Helen Fleming who accompanied most capably throughout.

Following the concert the ladies of the local Red Cross Society under whose auspices it was given, entertained the Chorus and the lady friends who came with them, to a lunch in the lower hall, after which the young people enjoyed a dance upstairs. The visitors were most appreciative of the social entertainment provided by the ladies. The Orpheus Chorus are assured of a big house on any future visit here.

Many regretted the absence of J. C. Telford, president of the Chorus, who owing to the death of his father that afternoon was unable to come. Loyal Ireland who modelled in Durham some ten years ago, was one of the vocalists.

Mr Gordon Gun, Weston, is visiting relatives here this week.

MADAM ZODDA.—Scientific Palmist, now at room 4, Middaugh House, for a short time only.

Mrs C. L. Grant a few days ago had a slight stroke of paralysis. Latest information on tells of improvement and it is sincerely hoped she may be restored to normal health and usefulness.

Congratulations to J. Morrison Smith, who has passed his third year examinations in Civil Engineering at the school of Practical Science, Toronto. Also to Wm. A. Campbell another Durham boy, son of the late Insp. and Mrs Campbell, who has passed his final year with honors in Chemical Engineering.

Monday last before Police Magistrate Creasor, Mr T. H. Jackson was up for examination and after various testimonies had been given, his case was referred to the assesses at Owen Sound on the 15th of June. Bail of $2000 was taken for his appearance there when the unhappy situation will be further traversed.

Reports of trouble in the commercial end of the U. F. O., ranks came from Sullivan township where it is reported there exists a debt of over a ne thousand dollars which the members will have to pay costing about $90 each. If this be the case there will likely be an investigation for such a deficit must surely result from careless or inefficient management.

Death of Wm. G. Lauder

On Monday last there passed to rest Wm G. Lauder after a weeks prostration from a stroke of paralysis. He was in his 60th year.

Deceased was born on the Lauder farm north of town (where Mr J. W. McKechnie is now) and grew to manhood there. He married Lydia Cameron about 31 years ago and lived with her ten happy years at Innesfall Alta., when death overtook her and left him with a family of five young children. Quite a number have not forgotten the heroic action of the bereaved husband when he determined to, and did bring his children home to Ontario. He lived near Varney till about 12 years ago and has been in town since.

His children are Allister who died overseas; Cameron in town, at whose home he died; Dell, Mrs Dr. Lewis, Toronto; Winnie, Mrs Ab. Noble, Durham; Blanche, Mrs Geo. Harbottle at the Sault. Three sisters are also among the mourners; Mrs Buchan, Bayfield; Mrs Wilson, Lorraine, Ohio; Mrs Munro of Durham.

Mrs Lewis, Mrs Robertson, Stratford and Mr Will Buchan, Dunnville were up for the funeral, which took place yesterday from the Presbyterian Church of which deceased was a member.

Those who knew "Willie" Lauder best appreciated him most. He had a warm hearted kindly disposition, was a neighbor tried and true, and a worthy citizen in every respect.

There was a large attendance at the funeral on Wednesday, old neighbors from north and south of town mingled with Durham friends to show respect to the memory of deceased. The remains were taken to the Presbyterian church and Rev. W. H. Smith gave a comforting discourse from Daniel 2: 22: "He knoweth what is in the darkness." Earthly clouds are lifted when we realize that God knoweth. Even in the dark valley He will be there to comfort and sustain. Jesus knew the cross was coming, we don't, but God knows. The child has no fear while it's hands are in its father's. So likewise we should go hand in hand with God. Him we mourn had his clouds but God knew them and sustained him. Darkness may endure for a night but joy cometh in the morn.

Beautiful flowers spoke love and sympathy. The pall bearers were; T. G. and A. W. H. Lauder, J. W. Blyth, Thos McAllister, S. P. Saunders, Ab. Noble. Interment took place in Durham cemetery.
