NO MOTION LIGHTS.—The proprietor of Palmer's circus in town this week appeared in Magistrate Laidlaw's court on Saturday last and pleaded guilty to having a motor truck parked on the streets without lights burning during the night hours. It cost him $1.00 and costs, or $6.00 in all.

NEW SEATS FOR SCHOOL.—The population of that section of Egremont township in the vicinity of Wilder's Lake known as S. S. No. 12, is on the increase, as evidenced by the addition of ten additional seats installed in the school last week. The accommodation was taxed to the limit previously, but ample provision has been now made for present needs at any rate.

OPENS PASTORATE.—Rev. E. Cameron the new incumbent of the Baptist church in town preached his inaugural sermon to the congregation on Sunday and made a fine impression. The new pastor gives a fine delivery. Not a loud speaker Cameron it can be said, he possesses a calm, sincere and intelligent form of delivery, which will doubtless appeal to his parishioners here. On Sunday evening he spoke on "The Uplifted Son of God."

A RUSH FOR SEEDS.—There has been an unusually large number of school children from the rural schools make application from the Grey County Dept. of Agriculture representative, T. S. Cooper, for garden seeds this year. Mr Cooper states that more than three times as many children applied as provision had been made for, consequently many are doomed to disappointment. The allotments have been made to the scholars in Burlington, Keppel and Euphrasia this year and next year these children cannot compete with other children in this special phase of work.

Since County will go into reforestation and has purchased one thousand acres for the purpose about ten miles north of Barrie. The bought area is sandy land that was once covered by white pine. The land cost the county $7,500. Thirty acres of young trees will be set out this year, and after that about one hundred acres annually.

When Mr W. J. Young returned home in the early morning hours, Tuesday, he found a local young man, lying on his verandah, dead to the world, probably from the effects of swamp whiskey. Arousing Constable Falgout, they had him removed to the cells and the lad was next day assessed $5-fine for his indiscretion. He claims to have secured the stuff from a Hanover man.

PHARMACY GRADUATES.—In the list of Pharmacy graduates are the names of Melvin Greig of town and James M. Wylie, a former Durham boy. Both are now full fledged "pill doctors". Melvin was home for the week end, returning on Monday to write off his Ph. M. B. examinations to legalize him in the drug profession. He has accepted a position in one of the Tambo chain of stores in Toronto. Mr Wylie passed with honors.

SPECIAL CHURCH SERVICES.—Anniversary services are being held in the Presbyterian church, Sunday, June 4th. Rev. Mr Henry, the noted divine from Deer Park, Presbyterian Church, Toronto, will preach at both services and on Monday night will lecture on "A Pod of Peas". It sounds interesting. A sign of the times, is that the congregation has found disfavor with the old fashioned anniversary supper and are not having one.

WHAT A DOG CAN DO!—Differences of opinion concerning the real value of a dog belonging to George Greenwood, resulted in a legal dispute before Magistrate Laidlaw on Saturday, between the canine's owner and his neighbor, Chas. Wright. According to report the animal had been destroying Mr. Wright's garden and was somewhat of a nuisance around the premises. The magistrate decided in favor of Mr Wright, fined the defendant $1 and costs, amounting to $7, and made a few remarks regarding the right place for troublesome dogs.

INSTITUTE MEETING.—The regular meeting of the Women's Institute addressed by the Gov't delegate, Mrs. Boyes, was held in the Library on Tuesday, a good attendance being present. After some business preliminaries about the District meeting, 15th June, and some community singing, Mrs Boyes gave two fine addresses on "Trifles" and "Open Secrets". This was followed by a well rendered recitation, "The Enchanted Apple Tree." She has had good meetings at Halstein, Dromore and Zion and is a capable speaker. She also gave some splendid ideas on program planning from the doings of Beeton, Tottenham and Bond Head Institutes.

The Late Arch. S. Hunter

Long Prominent in the Civic Life of the Town

Late on Monday, 22nd May, 1922, one of the most prominent of Durhamites passed away, after an illness from anaemia, extending some ten months. He was in his 72nd year and his removal is noteworthy also as breaking a link with the past.

He was a son of the late Wm Hunter who died young, and grandson of Archibald Hunter, the founder of Durham, with whom deceased grew up. He was born here and fell heir to the estate of his grandfather on which he has lived almost continuously, the last Hunter of the name to farm the old historic lands. The deed was taken out in 1848, was never mortgaged and always bore Hunter name until February of 1921. The late owner used to boast "it (the farm) never went back on me, never missed a crop and never needed to buy a ton of hay."

A little over one year ago he sold the farm, retaining residence and orchard, the home consisting of deceased, his wife and daughter Miss Margaret and son Oliver, who with his other son, Dr Archie Hunter, Vancouver, will mourn his death.

For many long years he was prominent in the civic life of the town and was mayor for several terms. As a farmer he was progressive and very successful. His herd of Hereford cattle, had Provincial wide fame, and he was known as a breeder of repute; many Ontario herds were strengthened from his stock.

For a long time he was the only grain produce buyer in town, and few of our older folks but remember winter by winter his activity in this line on the street. Then with his son he has been conducting for many years a hardware and seed business which bears the imprint of his energy.

In politics he was a Liberal and was a staunch adherent of the Presbyterian church, his attendance being regular when in health. James and John in business here are brothers of deceased.

Above all Mr Hunter was a great lover of his home and home town and it is to be regretted he had not the health in his leisure hours to enjoy it.

The Review extends sympathy to wife and family over the separation. Funeral on Saturday at 2 p. m.

Death of Robert Douglas

Following several months' illness Mr. Robert John Douglas died rather suddenly at his home here on Monday night. He had been taken out for a short car ride by Mr John Murrack over to the show and to the good roads work north of town, and half an hour after returning home, he lost consciousness, passing away about an hour later.

The deceased was born in Erin, Wellington Co., sixty years ago, and when a small boy came with his parents to Durham, where he has ever since resided. Thirty-five years ago he wedded Miss Elizabeth Ryan, daughter of Mrs and the late Mr Geo Ryan, with one son Robt J. and two daughters survive him. The latter Mrs Wm Hill of Markdale and Miss Gladys of Toronto are now also home. Another son George died six years ago and two other children in infancy. Mrs Aaron Vollett of Bentinck is his only sister now living.

The deceased was an industrious and competent workman as long as health permitted, and in his home life proved a loving and revered husband and father. Interment took place Wednesday to Durham cemetery, the funeral service being conducted by the Canadian Order of Foresters, of which the deceased was a member.

Presbyterian Appointments

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed on Sunday next at the 11 a. m. service. Preparatory service on Friday evening at 8 p. m., when Rev Mr Stewart of Bethel and East Normanby will preach.

Anniversary services will be held on the Sunday following June 4th when Rev Dr. A. E. Henry of Deer Park Presbyterian Church, Toronto will occupy the pulpit, morning and evening. On Monday evening, June 5th, at an entertainment he will give a lecture on "A Pod of Peas."

Dr Henry preached here as a student in 1894, during the absence of Rev. Mr Jansen in Holland. His services proved both popular and uplifting and many friends made then have followed with pleasure his distinguished career. The announcement of his coming at the Anniversary has been gratifying news.

Installed an Intertype

The Review this week has installed a Model A Intertype in its composing room, one of the best machines for type-setting on the market, and we expect to have it in operation within a few days. It is an expensive piece of machinery, but with its much time and labor will be saved, in its capacities, we hope to make the Review a better journal than ever. Further reference may be made when in operation.

In the meantime it would be most acceptable to the publishers to have all subscribers glance at their label and if in arrears, or owing, or if they are in doubt as to the amount owing, our list has been corrected to date this week: if your label is not correct please let us know.

Chasing Kewpie Dolls at Palmer's Circus

"There's more married women chasing around this circus than any other class," said a well known citizen attending the carnival of mirth on the river bank on Saturday night. "Really it is more than surprising to see a great deal of girl in the arena, the manner mothers in this town can forsake the dishpan and crank the monkeys up the pole. It's a corker and I don't understand it. Well I must be moving." The scribe looked around and at that moment noticed Mr Citizen's wife entering the arena at the northern portals of the encampment and understood the sudden departure to other fields.

It doesn't take a lot of money to make a man look foolish at Palmer's circus and it doesn't take a great deal to give him a good time. A dollar or two out of the pay envelope will give him a refreshing evening and if he is lucky, the odd souvenir in the shape of a kewpie, adorns the mantel of his home next day.

According to report, Palmers shows made a nice cash clean up in this town a year ago. The community suffering from excess bank rolls and victory bonds tumbled over each other to secure a seat on the "merry-go-whirl" or to knock the stuffing out of the cats in order to get a cheap cigar. This year it seems different. Hundreds attend daily but the public are a little more satisfied this year—not biting so keenly. Notwithstanding, the management whose shows are good and clean, will be making a good daily dividend, it is believed.

Perhaps the most interesting tent on the grounds is the museum. Here is the best and most interesting collection of war and foreign curiosities that has ever been in Durham. They have a real educative value.

According to report, school children are allowing studies to fall behind. Homework is forgotten in the glare of music and glitter of lights. It is said Principals Danard and Graham would have preferred the circus to have arrived here two months hence, after the examination strafe had finished. As it is, many scholars are doing their homework "after four."

McMillans "Not Guilty"

The trial of Mr and Mrs Dan McMillan at Owen Sound for alleged murder of Johnston, the former's husband, which was sensationally stopped at last assizes because one jurymen had spoken to an outsider, was resumed on Monday last before Justice Orde at O. Sound and special preparations made to see that jurors were not allowed out. The death of Johnston occurred on Labor Day 1921 and though he died in mysterious agony nothing would likely have arisen from it had not Mrs Johnston in the same week married Dan McMillan. Suspicion was aroused, the McMillans were set up for trial and have been confined ever since. The decision was given out on Tuesday and the jury agreed on a verdict of "Not Guilty."

Card of Thanks

To the many friends and neighbors who so kindly extended sympathy and aid during the illness and at funeral of our beloved husband and father, we tender our heartfelt thanks. Mrs Robt Douglas and family
