THE CEMENT ROAD AGAIN.—At the Egremont Council meeting last week, a delegation of North Egremont township farmers, from the vicinity of Wilder's Lake, waited on the council and asked co-operation to buy the old cement road, leading from the lake to Durham, now the property of Mr Jacob Levine. It was pointed out that the road could be bought for $300 and it was believed that Dr. Jamieson who was interested in its purchase would advance $200 of this sum, provided the Council secure the deed and advance the remainder. There are some wrinkles that the council does not like, it is said, but the matter was left in abeyance until Dep. Reeve Alex. Allan meets the farmers and reports back to the council at their next meeting.

SUCCESSFUL VARSITY STUDENTS.—The daily papers at present contain many columns of names of university students who have been successful at the mid-summer exams. While all the results are not out yet, the following names are known to us. In medicine, Ray Farquharson of Toronto has passed his final year in medicine, but intends taking a post graduate course before practising. In Arts, Miss Myra McLean of Priceville has completed five years study. It is said that this talented young lady will likely follow up literary work. In dentistry, Robert Marshall of near Ayton has graduated this term. In the dental lists appear the names of Edgar Renwick, Murray Findlay, Percy Ross, Cecil Townner, Charles C. Ramage, Theodore Fallaise and Murray Campbell, the latter being the son of a former Dromore minister. Of these students, Cecil Townner who has finished his third year, is working in a dental office in Warton this summer. Ernest McGirr has passed his third year in Arts, also Miss Margaret Lauder, daughter of Dr. Ed. Lauder.

DROWNED IN OWEN SOUND.—The friends of Mrs David Brown, Owen Sound, formerly of Durham, will sympathize with her, in the loss by drowning of her two young sons, Cyril and Arthur aged 8 and 6 respectively under 10th St. Bridge, Owen Sound. It was sometime before they were located as they mysteriously disappeared and search parties were organized for different directions. The family moved from Durham about 5 years ago, and Mr Brown died when the youngest child was 18 mos. old. Mrs Brown has since done nursing. Two older brothers and a sister survive.

Rev. C. G. Cole is at St Catharines attending Conference. On Sunday in his absence, song services were rendered in the Methodist church here by a male quartette from Waterloo, one of the number being Mr H. G. Mistle, former manager of the Royal Bank here, and a musical favorite. The members in addition to Mr Mistle who was 2nd tenor, were Mr McGillivray, 1st tenor, Messrs Stoner and Jones, 1st and 2nd bass. Their each and every number was enjoyed and as all are solo singers, they arranged a varied program. At the morning service Mr Will Glass had charge of the service and in the evening, Mr C. H. Danard. Mrs Mistle accompanied the quartette to Durham and renewed former acquaintances.

Store Crowded all day.

The people of Durham and district turned out in great numbers to visit the new Bargain Store last Saturday. The Store was crowded all day with eager buyers and in the evening the doors had to be locked to enable the clerks to serve the customers. The Bargain Store will offer special bargains again for Friday and Saturday this week. Watch for hand bills with list of Special Bargains for Friday and Saturday and all next week. Remember the place—Middaugh House Block.

Favor Main Street Site

Government authorities in Ottawa will be asked whether they will sell the land or grant a permit to erect the proposed monument in memory of fallen soldiers of this community, on the vacant Post Office site on Main Street, north of the Hahn House. The feeling of the meeting on Friday evening gave evidence that this location was desirable and preferred above other positions in town and it is expected the memorial column will be erected here, provided suitable arrangements can be made with the Government.

Favorable mention was given to the lot on Mill Street, east of Mrs Wm. Caldwell's residence. Mr A. H. Jackson gave strong support to this. Reeve Herb. Hunt of Bentinck, advocated the corner of George and Garrafraxa Streets, immediately north of the river. While this situation was a favorable one, it was felt considerable expense would be incurred through building a foundation to the street level as well as a breakwater to withstand spring freshets.

To others, the monument should be on the school grounds, where it would be certain of proper upkeep and care by the caretaker and at the same time would be a shrine, sacred to the eyes of generations growing up.

While these places were advanced, the old town hall site on Main Street was generally favored and the committee are now awaiting advices from Ottawa.

During the meeting, Mr Calder stated the column would weigh from 15 to 20 tons, necessitating a strong foundation. He also stated that the fund was sufficiently large to buy the monument.

Constable Bowled Out, Now is it to be Police Magistrate?

Ex-Constable Falconer on his Defence

Do the people of Durham wish paved streets for the business section of the town? This question will be discussed at a public meeting called for this Wednesday evening.

The town council decided it was necessary to take some action to remedy street conditions prevailing on the main thoroughfare and to get the opinion of the citizens, a full discussion is asked for at the meeting.

A representative of the Hamilton Contracting Company addressed the council at Monday's meeting, with the view of obtaining a paving contract. The work he quoted on was for 20 feet of concrete pavement from the crossing at the Ford garage to the C. P. R. crossing, and with 5 foot macadam strips on either side of the concrete road bed, making a new roadbed 30 feet wide.

The price asked was $2.00 a square yard, the estimated area being 2,500 square yards and the estimated costs approximately $5,000. Reeve Calder pointed out that 20 year debentures would cover the cost at less than $200 annually.

No Town Constable Yet
Durham is still without a town constable. Thos Daniel applied for the position, but refused to accept when the council would not pay more than $20 a month. Coun. McDonald did not want an officer appointed at all, declaring that the only time the town had a reign of peace was when there was no constable. Councillors Smith and Saunders favored paying $25 per month, but Calder, McQueen, Adams and McDonald opposed. There were no other applications.

Ex-constable Harry Falconer jumped into the fray to defend his late tenure in office, and there was a lively passage between him and Reeve Calder. The latter was explaining the necessity for Mr Falconer's dismissal and referred to the fact that he seemed to be taking instructions from the magistrate and not from the council.

"Mr Calder is lying. I never took instructions from Mr Laidlaw," were the heated words which came from the former constable as he paced the floor to face the council.

The Reeve rose quickly to his feet and declared that Mr Falconer was out of order and would have to retract his words or he would be satisfied. Acting Mayor, Dr. Smith concurred and the words were withdrawn, whereupon the council gave him permission to speak in his own behalf.

Mr Falconer upheld his actions in taking numbers, having been instructed by Mayor Allan to go easy until May 1st and then tighten up on delinquent motorists. He denied laying any 36 in formations as reported and declared eight to be the correct number. He had not complied with the verbal request to attend the special meeting because he did not intend to be abused and "hit a slap in the face by Mr Calder." Mr Allan had told him he was satisfied with his work. Council gave him permission to address the Mayor at the next meeting, when the latter returned from Winnipeg.

To ask Mr Lalolaw's Dismissal
Reeve Calder got his motion through whereby the council will petition the attorney-general to relieve Magistrate Lalolaw from his office. Coun. McQueen seconded the motion, but Dr. Smith opposed for various reasons, one of which he stated; believing the phrasing of the motion to be incorrect, when it stated the magistrate had convicted contrary to law and evidence on many occasions. He did not like the word "many."

However, the motion carried 4 to 2, McDonald supporting Smith, and McQueen, Saunders and Adams favoring the Reeve.

Dr Hutton, M. O. H., asked the council to take some steps to look after Miss Jane Bell, who is now frail and ill, but refuses to go to the House of Refuge. The matter was referred to the Board of Health.

District Masonic Service at Trinity Church

The first Masonic service ever held for Grey District No. 25, was observed last Sunday in Trinity Church, Durham, with Rev. W. W. Hartley of Shelburne, the District Chaplain, and a former Durham rector, in charge of the service. The brethren, about 225 in number, lined up at the Town Hall and marched to the church headed by Marshal E. D. McClocklin and District Master, Dr. J. F. Grant, both of Durham. Intermingled in the parade in true brotherly unity were masons from Owen Sound (60), Flesherton and Priceville (40), Durdalk, Markdale, Shelburne, Mt. Forest, Hanover, Walkerton and the local brethren. There were perhaps 25 more brethren in town not at the service, some of whom were engaged in preparing lunch at the Hall for visiting brethren.

At the church, the rector Rev. F. G. Hardy, extended a cordial welcome to the brethren and expressed his approval of an assemblage for divine service. It was an inspiring discourse, Rev. Bro. Hartley delivered, taking his text from Psalm 11: 8. "The stone which the builders refused is become the head stone of the corner." He instanced how this noted verse had probably originated at the building of Solomon's temple, and brought out numerous applications in biblical history. Masonry should place Jesus Christ as the headstone in the structure of its temple. Christ was the great founder and teacher of brotherhood and through brotherhood God had raised mankind.

The brethren enjoyed the service, and the visitors their commingling with Durham and other lodges, and were highly appreciative of the hospitality of the local brethren.
