ALMOST LIFTED HAHN CUP—A rink of Durham bowlers failed by only one shot to lift the Hahn cup, which was owned by Oscar Hahn, from Hanover on Tuesday night. 18 ends were played and Hanover won 14 to 13. The Durham rink who went after it was, Herb Cross, skip; W. Calder, Vice-skip; T. G. Good child and J. S. McIlraith. Scarborough and Cross were skip and vice for Hanover.

HOGGING THE ROAD—The one who over takes another on the road is entitled to pass if he wishes, and the law provides that the one who is overtaken shall open to the right to allow of the other passing on the left. There is no slow speed-limit. Any who wish to prolong the joy of the scenery, or company is at liberty to do so, to their heart's content, but not allowed to block the way of those in haste, either on business or pleasure bent. In the old time it was common in driving to encounter a "smart-alec" with a fine rig and a fast horse, who "didn't have to take any one's dust," who would always insist on a race if anyone tried to pass, and who would never fail to jockey for the middle of the road, if there was any chance of the other getting ahead. There are still too many survivors of that class, and too many of them in high powered cars, who insist on hogging the road, even when there is no dust.

The September meeting will be held on the evening of Sept. 12th, at the home of the 2nd Vice regent, Mrs Wm. Calder, and as there is much business to be discussed, a large attendance of the members is wanted.

Smothered The Bluebirds

There was a sad slaughter of Durham Bluebirds in Hanover yesterday. When the day's contest was over it was found that Hanover had brought down 23 opponents, while Durham counted but 1. In short, these figures told the score of the first semi-final lacrosse meet, when about 100 rosters accompanied the local team and hoped to see a fairly tight game. The last game will be played here Monday next, and while the Bluebirds cannot hope to enter another round, they feel assured they can win on home grounds.

No district games spelled disaster to the locals, who realized that getting a bye is a real detriment to getting into condition. Experience was a big factor as well as good condition in the Hanover victory, as several of the Durham lads seemed lost at times and allowed the homesters too much freedom, with the result that Durham was kept busy defending the nets. It was close at quarter time 3-1, then 8-1 at half, and thereafter a fusillade. There was no doubt that Hanover was the all round better team on the day's play, and that they have a clever, well-balanced aggregation who will take some beating in the semi-finals. Sproule of Brampton was a capable referee.

The Death of Susie Eden

After barely a week's illness, Susie only daughter of Mr and Mrs Robert Eden, Varney, passed away at the age of 13 years on Sunday last. The cause of death was infantile paralysis, a disease round which there is still some mystery, but which has been proved to be infectious. It occurs for the most part in children although young adults are sometimes affected. The death of Susie, a bright girl, at that interesting age, is a severe blow to parents and friends and the heartfelt sympathy of the community goes out to all the mourners. In her death she left behind her a record of a life of sincerity and of the earnestness of her grief for the part of many friends.

Disastrous Fire in Flesherston

The worst fire Flesherston ever experienced visited the village early Tuesday morning. From cause unknown it originated in W. Cargoe's grocery at 12.30 o'clock and despite the strenuous efforts made to stay the progress it soon spread to adjoining buildings, which fell a prey to the devouring flames.

A call to Markdale brought assistance to the fire fighters here and a light shower of rain helped to check the flames and danger to other buildings from flying embers.

The places destroyed were: the Cargoe grocery, A. M. Gilchrist's brick residence, W. H. Bunt's furniture store and residence, and John Runstadler's provision store and residence. The loss on the buildings will be only partly covered by insurance. The contents were mostly saved. The residence of Dr. Murray W. Moon, W. A. Armstrong, and Mrs. Van Dusen had a close call.

If you Aren't Interested.

In what is below, do not stop to read. But if you are, come to Owen Sound on Labor Day, Sept. 4, and see the biggest day's sport ever held in the County.

The C. N. A.

The letters stand for Canadian National Exhibition which opened on Saturday last in Toronto. The management are aiming this year to pass the million and a quarter mark, and an enthusiastic "first day" crowd of 71000 seems to warrant their hopes, it being 6000 more than last year. The early harvest, almost completed, and its excellence is another big factor in swelling the attendance. Rural Ontario after the harvest struggle just wants the relaxation the big show gives.

The action of Durham and Hanover on Sunday in closing up their dams in order to fill their reservoirs and provide themselves with surplus water power so interfered with the flow in the Saugeen that the water was lowered about 5 feet between Sunday night and 6 o'clock Monday morning in both the Trux and Electric light dams in Walkerton, thus necessitating the closing down of Trux's mill for all of Monday morning, and the putting out of commission for most of the morning of the Walkerton Electric power plant. This temporary shutting off of electric juice caused considerable loss and inconvenience to the industries and other places in town dependent on electrical energy, and a storm of protest went up at this arbitrary action of our sister burghs in pulling off this stunt without any pre-arrangement with this end. Power was not only off in Walkerton on Monday morning, but current was shut off in Mildmay, Formosa and Otter Creek, all of which get their electrical juice from the local plant. Just how high the damages would run if the closing down for several hours on Monday of the dependent industries in these places were properly computed it is difficult to say, but that it would run into a nice tidy sum there can be no doubt. If those responsible at Hanover and Durham were proceeded against and made come good for these losses, it might teach them a lesson in etiquette that would preclude against their arbitrarily interfering with the stream in future.—Walkerton Herald Times.

Pleased to have a call and talk with Mr Donald Smith of Merlin, Kent Co., who has been visiting friends in and near his old Dornoch home. Mr Smith is now in the council of his township and can tell a vivid story of the intricate questions they have to deal with compared with old Bentinck for instance. These consist of drainage questions, the delicate allotment of water responsibility, right of way bridges over the big drains, &c. He is convinced that much flat land in Grey Co., would benefit by underdrainage.

FORDSON TRACTOR $395

As good on the belt as it is on the drawbar

THE usefulness of the Fordson is limited only by the amount of belt work you have to do. In the Fall it will fill your silo, and thresh your grain. In Winter you can keep it busy grinding feed, pumping water, baling hay, cleaning seed grain, or running the churn or washing machine.

If you regard the Fordson as a field tractor only, let us show you right on your own farm that it is as far ahead of competition on the belt as it is on the drawbar.
