Appointed Clerk of Glenelg

Mr. Hector McDonald, son of Mr. John A. McDonald, South Line, Glenelg, has been appointed Clerk of his township, in succession to the veteran John S. Black, who for thirty-eight years has given efficient service as Clerk and seven years before that as Assessor. Mr. McDonald is a good penman, with a municipal instinct inherited from his father, (also an old veteran in the municipal life of the township) and will make good. Mr. Black first entered the Council in 1875, 47 years ago, but Mr. McDonald was ahead of him, being elected councillor in 1870, fifty two years ago. For continuous service though, Mr. Black holds the record, James Brown the clerk before him, serving 25 years only.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Marshall

Friday last at her home in Egrement, the death occurred of Mrs. Wm. Marshall. About a month ago she suffered a stroke of paralysis, but was recovering fairly well, when a second one proved fatal. Only last spring her husband died and much sympathy goes out to their four children and other relatives, doubly bereaved in a brief period.
Deceased was Miss Aggie McVeane, born in Normanby about 60 years ago where her brothers James and Alex, and sister Jessie still live. About 35 years ago she married Wm Marshall, the union being blessed with four children, James, now on the home farm near by and Aggie, Jessie and Will.
Interment took place on Sunday last to Maplewood cemetery.

HOPEVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Shand and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Shand were Sunday visitors at Mr. Geo. Shand's. Mrs. E. E. Hockridge entertained the ladies of the village at a quilting last week.
Mrs. Geo. Gilkes is spending a while with relatives in Toronto.
Miss Ruby Haw has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Wm. McEachnie.
Mr. Chas. Wale was in Toronto on business last week and on Saturday opened his store to the public. We wish him better luck.
The Threshing Machine Co. have started work for the season. Messrs. Harry Scott and Geo. Riddell are in charge of the outfit.
A union meeting of Hopeville and Esplan Bible Society was held in Hopeville church last Tuesday evening and a good lecturer with lantern slides was interesting.
Messrs. Iles and Horsburgh, Woodland, visited the first of the week at Mr. Jno. Sinclair's.
Born—On Tuesday, Sept. 12th, to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Sturrock, a son.
Born—On Thursday, Sept. 14th, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gumble, a son.
Hopeville Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. W. Jack on Wednesday, Sept. 13th. It was the annual flower day and Mrs. G. H. Gilkes took first prize with a choice bouquet of pale pink asters.

A Radio Store stocked with all good standard radio parts and supplies is opening September 16th in Owen Sound. This store will be in a position to supply you with any style of set, complete, or any parts, for you to construct your own set, and will also be in a position to instruct you in different methods of wiring these parts, so as to achieve the best results, or will do the wiring for you. It is a mistake to think that radio is an extravagant idea—just the reverse—if you are properly instructed as to what to buy.
Any information regarding radio, costs of sets or parts can be obtained by addressing Frank Slater, Coulson House, (opposite the City Hall), Owen Sound, who is opening this up-to-the-minute Radio Shop.

A Cheerless Second Day for Durham Show

But Program Carried out in Full
Our hoping in last week's issue for a favorable second day was not gratified. Thursday broke drizzly, and though there was no downpour, the forenoon gave little encouragement to those not directly interested to "come out." The afternoon was a little better and in fair numbers the trend to the grounds began. Gate proceeds amounted to $255, not half the amount a good day would have netted.
However the Directors carried their program through. The display of horses in several classes was good and the judges had no small difficulty in coming to a decision. Cattle, sheep and swine classes were not numerously represented, but there was good quality in all. The same remark applies to the poultry exhibit.
As we intimated last week, the ladies' work in the hall drew much favorable comment, and was generally voted high-class. The fruit was abundant and good as was to be expected this year. Field vegetables were not up to average we thought, but the display of plants and flowers was superb. Some juvenile school fair exhibits seemed of great excellence, but another year should see this department better differentiated.
The edible display was abundant and tempting. Butter was, we are sorry to say as usual, scarce and in some cases, quality only fair. The penmanship exhibits were closely scanned and while we think the prizes were fairly awarded, we confess to agreeing with a number of critics that there is room for more attention being given to penmanship.
In the Fine Art class were some fine specimens and the photographic groups of local public buildings, scenery, etc., were admirable features deserving high commendation.
A new feature for which the crowd waited and were not disappointed was the basket ball game between Durham Third Form High School girls and Boothville. The Directors at some trouble had moved the High School outfit to the grounds, and this comparatively new game was witnessed with keen delight. Boothville won, the score being 10 to 5. The game seems well adapted to promote the health and agility of the participants, young ladies in orthodox bloomers, whose eagerness and activity were quite spectacular.
One of the best ball games ever seen in Durham was the seven inning exhibition between Varney, South-West Grey champions, and the Holstein team, Varney winning 3 runs to 0. Holstein imported a 3rd baseman and pitcher Knox from Allenford to endeavor to capture the game, but Varney's star pitcher, Harold Mountain, was unbeatible, striking out 15 men and allowing only 2 hits. Knox also pitched good ball, but had not as good control as Mountain. Both teams showed snappy fielding. The batting order:
VARNEY: Elmer Fee, left f. Art. Coleridge, c. Jack Petty, 3rd b. Harold Main, s.s. Bob McArthur, right f. Knox, pitch. Lorne Mountain, s.s. Geo. Brown, c.f. Clar. McGirr, 2nd b. Fenton, 2nd b. G. Roy. Grant, catcher. Moore, 3rd b. Gaisley, centre f. McLean, 1st b. Bert Barber, 1st b. Bert Gibson, r.f. H. Mountain, pitcher. C. Calder, l.f.
Score by innings:
Varney 0 0 0 1 1 1 0 3
Holstein 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
In the open half-mile race, Harold Mountain finished 1st, Roy Dickson 2nd, and Oscar Moon 3rd. Elmer Fee threw the baseball farthest in the ball throwing contest.
The reader is referred to the prize list for the winners in the various foot and other races.
The Concert
Was, as always, generously patronized, two hundred or more being turned away. The entertainers were the Henderson troupe from London, a different array of juvenile artists than formerly appeared here, and less experienced entertainers. The dancing and some of the vocal numbers were fine, though the comedian was scarcely up to the standard. The receipts were about $180.
