Bible Society Annual Meeting

The annual meeting was held on Sept. 19th. After the general routine business and reports, an illustrated lecture was given by Rev. Mr. Bell, colporteur of the Bible Society, entitled "Indians of Canada."

The views were very plain and with the explanation was very instructive. Mr. Bell also spoke of the difficult task of translating the Bible into the different languages, of which it is printed in over 500. In helping the Bible Society there is no danger of any new doctrines or higher critics getting any help. They print the original only.

Egremont Equal to the Best

(We publish the following address given by Miss Mary McInnes at the Egremont School Fair, as a sample one, in the public speaking contest.)

Mr. Chairman, ladies, gentlemen and children:

I am pleased to see you all here today. This is Egremont's School Fair and say, it is a dandy. Everybody smiling, every child happy.

This is as it should be at a gathering of this kind. We are here to advance and make progress in the great field of agriculture. We have passed the day of the old cow-bell and the reaping hook and the brush burning in the little clearings in the bush. Science and art in Agriculture have made farming a pleasure to all who like it. The school fair will do much to encourage the boys and girls in farming.

On the farm you have plenty of the best to eat at all times and good, fresh milk to drink. There the busy bees gather their sweetness from the fields for us, and the apple tree drops her mellow fruit. The sunflowers and corn tassels bend to the breeze and the clovers bloom in all their various colors, providing abundance of fodder for our live stock.

The colts, calves, lambs, pigs and poultry frisk about in the open fields and enjoy the bounties of the harvest.

Yes, Mr. Chairman, we have everything on the farm except some of the fancy goods that the T. Eaton Co. sell to the city people.

Let us compare our School Fair with the great C. N. E. of Toronto and see where we are. At Toronto they have a water front—so have we. At Toronto they have electric lights—so have we. At Toronto visitors are exposed to the scorching sunshine while we enjoy the shade of the big maple trees.

There are prize babies in Egremont also and pardon me if I refer to the McGinnis twin babies in Toronto. We have some of them here too. I repeat, Mr. Chairman, we are a happy people.

We have our Reeve, Mr. Gilbert McEachern, to attend to the welfare of our municipality. We have Mr. John A. Ferguson, Egremont's post, to improve our highways. We have Dr. G. M. Leeson, M.P.P., Drs. Sneath and McLellan, to care for our health, and we also have Miss Agnes MacPhail, M.P., to promote our wealth at Ottawa.

We have in Egremont also a goodly number of clergymen to promote our spiritual welfare. We do wish that they would visit our schools more frequently and teach us some theology when there is so much unrest in the world. We have also in Egremont a goodly number of business men and some manufacturers, who co-operating with the farmers, promote the welfare of each other.

These are all good, but Mr. Chairman, surpassing them all is our Agricultural representative, Mr. T. Stewart Cooper and all the faithful, talented school teachers who have enabled us to have such a successful School Fair to-day.

Mr. Chairman, we sure are a progressive people. I thank you all, ladies and gentlemen, for your presence with us to-day.

On account of the unveiling of the soldier's statue in Durham on Sunday next, the children's rally day service will be held in Knox church at 7 o'clock in the evening, instead of the usual hour, when it is hoped a full house will be in attendance as an encouragement to the children.

Threshing has been the order of the day for the past while back around the Corners. 'Tis an uncommonly dirty job as the late sown oats are very rusty and smutty.

Few men can boost their town like Varney's popular merchant, Mr. Jas. Blyth, who lately acted as a go-between and purchased a magnificent equipped Gray Dorr car from Mr. Portis, Varney's new blacksmith, thereby enabling the latter to purchase the shop owned by Mr. John Noble. Through this, all the surrounding neighborhood of Varney's, have the convenience of an up-to-date blacksmith shop in their midst which otherwise would have been closed up. However, wishing to have something reliable to fall back upon in case of getting into a tight hole, Mr. Blyth very wisely decided not to part with the old Ford.

ORCHARD

The weather blows like fall, though Indian Summer is to come yet. Guess it is the equinoctial gales approaching once more.

Miss-Belle Kirby Sundayed at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Smith visited at Mr. Alex. Stevens one day last week. They were accompanied by Mr. Peter Cornish.

Mr. Jno. Kirby has purchased the Calvert farm at the corner and has begun plowing operations there.

Rev. Mr. West having a funeral on Sunday afternoon, Mr. Latta of Mr. Foreest very ably filled the Orchard pulpit for the afternoon service. We all enjoyed Mr. Latta's fine discourse but sorry to say our numbers were small. However we are looking forward to a treat next Sunday, both in the Sunday School and from the pulpit. Next Sunday, being our annual Rally Sunday, a special program is being prepared and the 3 o'clock service is to be taken by Rev. C. P. Holmes, a former pastor on this circuit who is at present home on furlough from the foreign field.
