Death of Mrs. Dave Young.

A much regretted death took place at Weston Sanatorium Wednesday morning, when Mrs. Dave Young of Townsend's Lake, Glenelg, passed away after a brave fight for life. Deceased was formerly Miss Jessie Peters of Glenelg, and was wedded only a few years ago. Her husband was to Weston to see her over Sunday last and returned home Monday. Mrs. Robt. McFadden, Glenelg, is an aunt of deceased. The Review extends its sympathy to the bereaved.

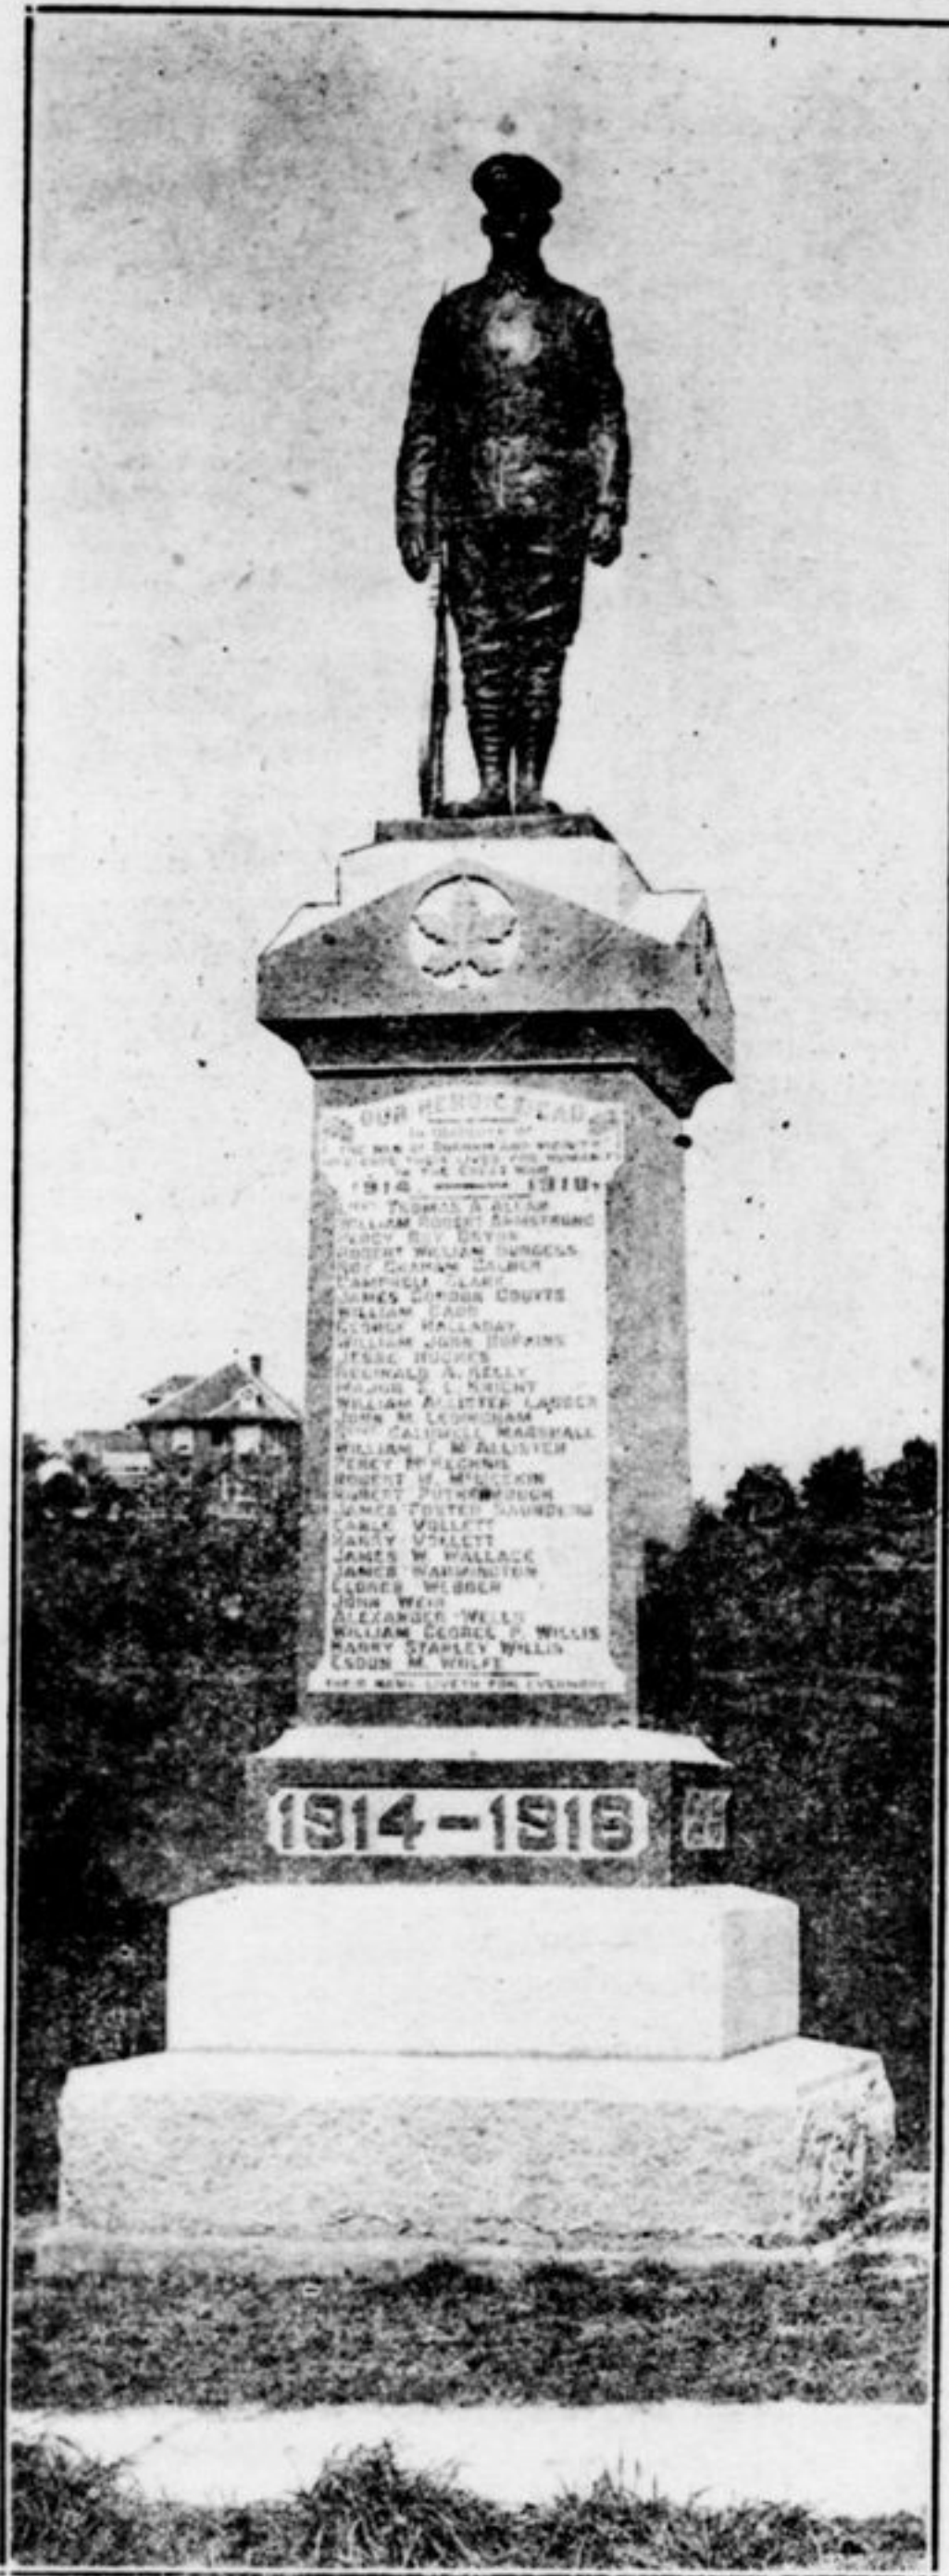

Aluminum Ware for Hospital.

By the courtesy of Mrs. Rev. Cameron, we had the privilege last week of seeing the new kitchen outfit for the Hospital. All of it is aluminum ware and it surely is the last word in adaptation to its purpose. There are vessels for every possible requirement in the culinary art, some of them reversible for two purposes and all the most modern adaptations for facility in cooking. The cost of the outfit was $75.00 and it is sure to be a valuable as well as timely present for our new Hospital.

Card of Thanks

The Memorial Committee desire to express their warmest appreciation for the part taken in the unveiling ceremony last Sunday by the Great War Veterans: I.O.D.E.; the Red Cross; the Girl Guides; Scouts and Brownies; pupils of the schools and last but not least for the great service rendered by the choir. The same appreciation is due and is given to all who contributed in any way to the great success of the day.

Weather Cool but Hearts Warm

Not a hitch or a "break" of any kind marred the unveiling of the Memorial to the fallen soldiers on Sunday last. The weather, though cool, was bracing and fair all the day though about 1 p.m., an ominous black cloud gave anxiety for a while, but it passed and success was assured, though very likely the cloud may have checked the attendance, great as it was. By the energy of Mr. Wm. Calder and his assistants, a vast array of plank seats were provided and 100 chairs, but it proved quite inadequate to seat everyone, for capable estimators placed the number present as between 4000 and 5000. All could not hear the fine addresses but they could see and it was good to mingle in such a crowd, met for a sanctified purpose, that purpose carried out with dignity and reverence befitting the occasion and a Sunday afternoon.

The proceedings began at 2.30 by the massing of the khaki boys at the Armory, 60 in number, Mack Saunders in command, and he was quite exacting in requiring military precision, and he got it too for they acquitted themselves well and showed they had not forgotten the strenuous experience of four years ago. John Stedman was in charge of the Guard of Honor, the firing party, and Frank Bunce was the bugler to sound the Last Post.

At the same time at the schools were massing the Girl Guides, headed by their President, Mrs. D. Jamieson, and Captains, Misses Julia Wein and Annie McKenzie. Behind them came the Brownies, little tots and masses of school pupils, larger size, headed by Principals Danard and John A. Graham. These in procession, headed by the Band, marched south to Lambton Street, west to Garraux and then on to and past the monument. They made an imposing array and indelible impressions must have been made on the minds of the young.

The platform proceedings began by Mr. Calder calling on Mayor Allan to preside. He (Calder) touched on the lapse of four years since the war closed, the difficulties at the inception of the proposal for a monument, then differences as to site, happily now all settled and carried to completion.

The mayor then took charge calling first on the Band, then on the large choir of 60 or 70 voices under the efficient leadership of Mr. Allan Bell. They rendered the fine old hymn "O God our help in ages past." Rev. F. G. Hardy gave Scripture reading, a comforting message from St. Paul to the Thessalonians and from the 7th chapter of Revelations and the eloquent words found echo in many hearts "What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they?" and the answer "These are they which came out of great tribulation, &c." Rev. E. Cameron followed in prayer, eloquent and impressive.

Mayor Allan thanked the Committee for the honor given to him as chairman, the occasion was a solemn one, yet was gratifying that honor was done to the memory of the boys. Half of them he knew and valued. He brought out fine the work of our boys in barring the Germans from reaching the Channel ports. Col. G. D. Fleming, Commanding Officer, Grey Regiment, said that in four years we were apt to forget, but Durham had not forgotten. He made an eloquent plea not to forget the maimed and the women and children who had been bereaved. He had nothing but contempt for the man who said there were too many memorials. The thin-blooded, spineless, wishy-washy creature." 60,000 of our boys had laid the foundation of a noble Canadian manhood. Ever remember, he (Continued on page 5.)

The Late Miss B. Rutherford

Wednesday morning the tired spirit of Miss Belle Rutherford sank to rest after several weeks of illness. She had not been in her usual health for some months back but the end came sooner than expected. Neighbors were most attentive in her loneliness her only relative here, Mrs. Arrow-smith, a cousin, also rendering faithful service.

Deceased since her mother and sister died, has lived alone, but she was no hermit for all that. She was an expert dressmaker and in days of health got all the work she wanted. She took a great interest in her beloved Presbyterian church and for years saw to it that flowers were placed in front of the pulpit. In work she was also active and in other ways she will be missed.

She was a native of Edinburgh, Scotland, and had a warm patriotic pride in her native land.

Interment takes place to-day at Durham cemetery.

Sudden Death of Jas. Matthews

A great shock fell on the town this Thursday morning when the news got around that James Matthews was dead. He went to bed the evening before in his usual health and in the silent watches of the night, the spirit fled, for wife and daughter woke to find they were deeply bereaved. He had nearly completed his 84th year for he was born at Downpatrick, Co. Down, Ireland on Oct. 28, 1838. He came to Canada at age of 19, settled near Paris and came to Egremont in 1862, where he remained until he came to Durham nine years ago. In 1866 he married Miss Margaret Morrison and to them were born eight children, the survivor being Jane, at home: Robert and Earl and Sarah (Mrs. M. Hooper) on 19th con., Egremont; Ellen Marg., (Mrs. Schenk) 11th con., Egremont; James near Markdale. A daughter Amanda, Mrs. Merchant, died 16 years ago and Wm was killed in the West 10 years ago.

The deceased we have known for 44 years as a man of intelligence and integrity. For many years he was the leading trustee in Section No. 12, Egremont, taking great interest in education. In politics he was a Conservative, was a devoted member of the Anglican Church and of the Orange order.

To the survivors and the lonely widow and daughter Jane of the home especially, intense sympathy goes out. The last named for some years, has been afflicted with blindness.

The funeral will take place on Saturday to Maplewood cemetery. Service in Trinity church at 2 p.m. and his brother Orangemen will also assemble.
