PRICEVILLE AND VICINITY

PRICEVILLE AND SOUTH LINE

Monday, 30th Oct. 1922 Our anticipation of having a beautiful day on Sunday was fully realized by having the sun shining in its brightness from early morning till 3 p.m. We had the pleasure of attending the Harvest Home in the Methodist church and we highly appreciate the manner of delivery of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Bushel, who is a clear speaker and to those with defective hearing it was an easy matter to follow his discourse. He took for his text, Luke 16: 5-8. First he based his remarks on the duty we owe to one another and secondly, the duties we owe to the Giver of all good by being liberal in the support of all matters relating to the cause of christianity. On the platter of fruits, consisting of pumpkins, turnips, carrots and apples, &c. If the apple which tempted Adam was so delicious looking, we could hardly blame him for yielding to temptation. And probably those of us who were sitting close to the temptation, we might in a sinless state be as guilty as our forefather Adam. Fortunately those good ladies sitting close, did not offer anyone the temptation. How is it that all the good Methodist preachers are generally good singers? Rev. Mr. Bushel had a beautiful tenor singer and Mrs. Bushel a fine soprano. We admired the old familiar hymns which are generally appreciated by the older class in church praise.

Mrs. Conkey who went to Vancouver a couple of months ago, attending to her late son Thomas, returned a few days ago to her home here. Mr. Arch. Calder who was in Owen Sound hospital for the last six weeks, returned again a few days ago. The injured eye had to be taken out to save the sight of the other. He is getting along all right now and is thinking of resuming his work again in the near future. Mrs. Jno. McMillan's, South Line, Artemesia, Hector McEachern, visited their old home at their father's, Mr. Arch. McCormick, at Aberdeen, Bentinck, and returned this Monday.

Grey and Bruce McCuaig attended a meeting at Hanover on Friday, 27th inst. The stables of Mrs. Hazzard and sons of Priceville, was burnt a week ago with contents, one horse and cut the fire is unknown.

This is a beautiful morning and many will be taking in the view, while others are threshing, which will be wound up this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Nichol motored to Stayner on Friday afternoon and returned on Saturday, visiting Mrs. Nichol's father and mother there.

Mrs. D. Graham is visiting friends at Woodbridge for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McMillan of S. Park, attended the Presbyterian Ch. Mr. and Mrs. Jones Sr., are visiting at the Mansie for a few days.

Mr. Jas. Rose, son and two daughters of Bruce, motored out to Norton McIntyre's and Chas. Ferguson's one afternoon lately. They are brother and sister to the late Mrs. Rose.

We saw a flock of blackbirds one day lately and if not mistaken heard a flock of wild geese going south, but it would take Peter McArthur, the able writer for the Globe, to count them all. As the old English man said "Thousands of millions of them."

SWINTON PARK

Thanksgiving is now in order and the people of the Park are endeavoring to do their part to make it enjoyable both at home and in the north line zone. The girls of the Bible Class under the supervision of their teacher Mr. John Hill, have been busy making and packing an outfit for some girl in the north, putting in all necessary for a comfortable and respectable turnout. The Women's Restonary Society are also busy on quilts and comforts for those in need. Others are away.

The feathers and the chickens and geese are catching particular fits. Turkey is very scarce in this locality so are not in preparation for Thanksgiving dinner. We hope all readers of the Review may be able to give thanks also to do their bit in giving others reason to be thankful. The weather continues fine and work is getting well finished up and all should be ready to enjoy a sleigh ride soon, as the snow will come in due time. The trappers are setting traps and locating sites to be ready for the season starting tomorrow. The young farmers who received sheep from the government two years ago are to-day returning their share of the lambs and are shipping from Dundalk.

There will be no service in the Presbyterian Church here next Sunday. All are invited to take part in Salem anniversary services Sunday afternoon and evening. Also tea meeting and entertainment Monday evening.

The young people of the Park are holding a Thanksgiving Social in the church on Friday evening of this week. Admission 15 cents in aid of church work.

Archie Ferguson of the 14th con. who has spent the summer on a ranch in the West with George Campbell, formerly of this place as manager, is on his way home coming with a shipment of stock to Toronto.

Miss Mary Kinnell is expected home for Thanksgiving and will be heartily welcomed by her many friends. Bethville basketball girls and foot ball boys will on Tuesday evening of this week consume a quantity of fowl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lane and spend a joyous evening.

IN LOVING MEMORY In fond and loving memory of our dear son and brother, Eric Archie A. MacKinnon, who gave his life for his King and Country on Nov. 6th, 1917 at Passchendaele. Father mother and sisters.

Baptist Anniversary Services

Featuring the Baptist Anniversary Sunday and Monday was the presence of Rev. Wm. Corkery, M.A. D.D., of Hamilton, who delivered discourses on all three services. Rev. Mr. Corkery is an elderly, divine, active, faithful and enthusiastic in the Master's work. In the morning he spoke from John 20: 21. On the church's mission. What is the great business of the Christian church? It is to preach Jesus Christ and Him crucified, to win souls for the Master. He must listen to God's instructions, show forth his glory, and preach his message to the ends of the earth. Our churches should be united churches, working and praying churches. There is room in God's service to make the most of the talents He has given us—ample room for every talent we possess. The choir under Mr. Giles leadership, for the day, rendered two fine anthems.

"A fine example of brotherly love" was the way Rev. Mr. Corkery described the union meeting on Sunday evening last. Presbyterian and Methodist churches had both cancelled their services, with the result that church and schoolroom were filled to capacity and some had to go home again. The choir, strengthened by Messrs. Bert Saunders and Peter Ramage of Methodist and Presbyterian churches, had special music, the former also giving a solo. Beautiful flowers decorated the platform. Rev. W. H. Smith gave Scripture reading and Pastor Cameron after prayer fittingly introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. Mr. Corkery, who left a fine impression.

He took his text from Romans 1: 16, Paul's ringing declaration of his faith "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, etc." It required an effort of the imagination, he said, to identify the church of to-day with that of 1900 years ago; then humble and obscure beginnings; now thousands of churches pay allegiance to Jesus Christ. We, more than the apostles, have commanding reasons to speak of the Saviour. Julian, the apostate Emperor of Rome, after trying to crush the early church, had to admit on his deathbed "O Gallian, thou hast conquered." The gospel alone had the power to save the world. It was a vain boast of worldly men that they had shattered the christian religion. Of a list of 65 great men (compiled by Gladstone) who had influenced the world for good, no fewer than 63 were christian and he asserted, the religion was never so strong as to-day. We, like Paul, can utter the text with full assurance. The world is being conquered, "Fidei is now more like christian than the countries that sent them missionaries," and he saw the time when the next ruler of India would be Jesus Christ.

He made a eulogy of the saving character of God's power. He wills none to destruction, but he said, even God cannot save us against our will: the gospel was simply God's power to save the world. He closed a fine discourse with an evangelical appeal.

MONDAY EVENING

With numerous gatherings the same evening, Monday's lecture and program was not largely attended. Those present however, had a real treat in Rev. Mr. Corkery's splendid lecture on the Bible. Some of the gems of truth brought out in his address were: It is given a place above every other book in the world; it is without a precedent, parallel or peer. The Jews were God's chosen people; a Jew was a Jew for ever, he never becomes assimilated; the Jews to-day were a proof of the Bible; the map of the world is the answer that the Bible is the leading book; where it is pre-dominant, is where civilization is most highly developed. There is a splendid harmony in the songs of the Bible; in fact everything blends though 41 different writers had produced the Bible living hundreds of years apart. It was 17 centuries being written, not a syllable had been added for hundreds of years; all this proved to be the product of one great Master mind in God himself. The Bible has never been outgrown—it lifts the world up to sublime heights of morals and religion. Queen Victoria holding up the Bible, said "This is the secret of England's greatness." The Bible is the only book in the literature of the world that men hate—which countless attempts have been made to destroy. The only chance to destroy would be to replace it by a better and this couldn't be done.

Mayor Allan spoke a few minutes on the desirability of unity of christian churches. Mr. Irwin recited one of Service's poems. Mr. J.A. Graham gave an address and Mr. P. Ramage a solo. This was all an impromptu part of the program, which the chairman, Rev. Mr. Cameron introduced following the address. Preceding it were some fine solos by Mr. J.F. Giles and Miss Miriam Cameron, recited by the latter, anthem by the choir, and a duet by Miriam Cameron and Little Miss Gliddon, accompanied by Mrs. Gliddon on mandolin.

The proceeds of the Sunday services were announced as totalling $115.00.

U. F. O. Annual Meeting

The South Grey United Farmers' Association has taken the lead in war on indemnity increases and bonuses, and has called upon United Farmers in every part of the Province to join in the movement to hold members to an indemnity limit until such time as the electors have had an opportunity to pass judgment. This is the first time in the history of the Association that it has called for a meeting, following the introduction of the matter by E.C. Peddler. A resolution, moved by J. Whiteford, of Hampden, seconded by A. Cameron, was unanimously carried. It read: "That whereas much dissatisfaction has been caused throughout the Province owing to members—both of the Commons and the Legislature—voting themselves increases in seasonal indemnity and bonuses: Therefore be it resolved, that this Convention record its disapproval of the same, and recommend that the United Farmers of Ontario, in each and every Riding of the said province—where such Riding is represented by a U.F.O. member—request their representative not to accept more than $2500 per session in the Federal house or more than $1400 in the local Legislature.

"Provided and except, however, that such additional indemnity be made an issue at a general election; and be approved of by the electors at the polls." "And further Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to every U. F. O. Riding Sec'y in the Province; a copy to the Farmers' Sun for publication and a copy to the Provincial Sec'y for consideration and approval at the coming Annual Convention in Toronto."

The annual Convention was held at Priceville on Friday, Oct. 20. There was a good attendance and many members of the U.F.W.O. were present and held their annual meeting jointly with the U.F.O. President Herb. J. Neil was chairman of the meeting and M. E. Murray, Neustadt, Secretary.

An Appeal for the North.

After the usual routine of business was over, including the election of officers for 1923, the meeting listened to a few brief reports from their representative, Miss A.C. McPhail, and to a very instructive and interesting address from Prov. Sec'y, J.J. Morrison. Mr. Morrison had just direct from the fire zone in the North, and gave a vivid and touching description of the scenes he had witnessed, and made a stirring appeal to the delegates to return to their respective clubs and endeavor to encourage all the assistance available for the fire stricken sufferers. He had personally established distribution centres at Haldimand, New Liskeard, Thornloe and Enghart, and any assistance forwarded to the relief committee, in care of the U.F.O. at these points, would be honestly distributed to those in outlying districts who had no means of reaching town or of getting the necessary assistance. The officers elected for 1923 are: Riding Director, Thos. Binnie, Priceville P.O.; President, Herbert J. Neil, Singhampton P.O.; Vice Pres., Mrs. Rufus Funston, Cedarville P.O.; Sec. Treas., M.E. Murray, Neustadt; U.F. W.O. Director, Mrs. E.C. Peddler, Singhampton.

BUNESSAN

Threshing being all finished in this burg, the farmers are taking advantage of the fine weather and are taking up their roots. Mrs. Emma Brown returned on Thursday last from Hamilton where she attended the funeral of her nephew, who was killed by the train. Mrs. Wm. Brown entertained the married ladies of the section to a quilting on Friday and all report a jolly time. Miss Mary Edwards of Grand Valley, was the guest of Mrs. Trafford and Mrs. Vickers recently. Mr. Wm. Edwards and Mrs. Trafford attended the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Thompkins of Allan Park on Thursday. Mr. Thos. Thompkins of Allan Park is a visitor there now.
