Helping Haileybury

Accompanied by some 50 Mayors and Presidents of Boards of Trade, Premier Drury made an important announcement at Haileybury on Saturday to a meeting of citizens and representative men. The town will be rebuilt, the Province will assume the total bonded indebtedness for three years, restore the schools and public buildings, and bear the loss of assets destroyed by fire. "The people of the North did not want charity," the Premier said, "they simply asked a leg up to regain the saddle; the settlers were filled with the spirit of heroes. In the midst of destruction, they remained honestly optimistic."

Chairman Anderson took the opportunity for telling the delegates from the South, the reason for the trip they were taking. A million dollars was urgently needed for relief work. "We had to do something in a larger way to revive public sentiment and bring the needs of the north to every community of Old Ontario," he declared. "We may be criticized for running this special train, but let me assure you that not a cent of the cost will come out of the relief fund. The Dominion and Provincial Gov'ts generously made the arrangements for providing the transportation."

The Mayor declared: "We are being dealt with generously. We don't feel we are being pauperized. We believe it is good business on the part of the Government and we are sure the future will justify this action. You have heard talk of secession in the north. Older Ontario's generosity has dispelled this talk. This is the strongest link yet forged between the old and the new parts of the Province."

A QUICK TURN OVER

Little more than a month since the Lloyd George government went out of office, and yet a new government has been sworn in, an election involving 615 seats held and the first session of the new Parliament convened this week! Truly they do things up sharp in Great Britain, giving the lie to a notion held in some quarters that "old country folk are slow."

The Conservative party had a majority large enough to submerge all the other groups combined, which they should take as a vote of confidence. Though having a majority of seats, they have not a majority of the electorate, a fact which will give strength to the cry for proportional representation.

Out of 32 women candidates only two were elected, Viscountess Astor and Mrs. Wingham, and they were both in the last Parliament. Evidently the British electorate do not take kindly to this form of sex intrusion.

Approximately the standing of the parties is as follows:

Conservatives	348
Labor	141
Liberals	62
Georgians	48
Other Groups	15

and 4 yet uncertain.

MULOCK

Our anticipation of having a beautiful day on Sunday for our anniversary services, was fully realized. Rev. C. Harris of Hanover, delivered dispiriting courses of commanding earnestness and power. In the morning he spoke from Psalm 24:34, 35. The life acceptable before God, according to the Psalmist, has the four virtues: a pure heart, sincere desire toward God, lips that speak the truth and clean hands. The preacher contended these were not the virtues for the Psalmist alone, but belonged to every age and passed current in every realm. He urged that the heart, out of which are the issues of life, could be purified alone through the blood of Christ and that the promise to the pure in heart was the vision of the eternal.

The sincere desire towards God expresses itself in pure and simple forms of worship. Sincere and truthful worship God expects and the pure heart will be satisfied with nothing less. A plea for lips free from gossip, deceitfulness, flattery and vanity, was made as one of the most vital needs to our modern society.

The clean hands, he said, referred to the conduct of the business or life. In conclusion he pointed out, the necessity of clean hands for the high and holy tasks of the Kingdom of God.

In the afternoon at Glenelg, the text was found in Genesis, being the well known incident of Abraham offering of his son Isaac on Mount Moriah. It was an earnest plea to the young to hear God's call to them to lay down their life upon his altar, to seek to understand the meaning of such sacrifice, not as the destruction, but the consecration of life to holy ends. Finally men and women were urged to be content that the rewards of sacrifice would bring them at last into the life abundant in God's presence.

Rev. Mr. Aird, taking the evening service, delivered an able and acceptable discourse from John 15: 8 on "What is our Ideal?" No man can think high thoughts with low ideals before him. Jesus gives us right ideas concerning God and Sin, our relationships and responsibilities. God forbid that I should glory save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Mrs. D. J. McDonald and Miss Boyd favored the congregation with splendidly rendered duets and solos. These singers possess fine voices and which have been heard here before with great acceptance.

The church on Monday night was filled by a most appreciative and attentive audience: the order was excellent and every number on the program received marked attention above the average and reflects much credit on the entertainers. An excellent address was given by Rev. C. Harris of Hanover. The very humorous character of the introduction given by the speaker, gave pleasure to the whole audience and put all in a good listening mood. Rev. Mr. Harris is a pleasing speaker and spoke with that earnestness and sincerity that always commands respect. The Hanover Baptist choir very kindly assisted with the program and delighted the audience with a number of choruses, under the leadership of Mr. Selling. Miss Eva Fiddis, our teacher, showed her ability as a reciter by favoring us with a humorous recitation, entitled, "Neighbors." The chair was ably filled by Rev. Mr. Aird who excelled himself in his application of wit and humor, to the delight of the audience. He welcomed the many guests and moved a hearty vote of thanks to all who took part.

Miss Bessie Anderson, teacher at Crawford attended the anniversary services here and at Glenelg Sunday, and was the guest of Mrs. W. Fulton. Miss Blanch Boyce of Durham High School, spent the week end with her friend, Miss E. Fiddis.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid Hastie, Chesley, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McKechnie recently.

Last week four parcels of new clothing and bedding were sent by mail from the Ladies' Aid, Mulock, to Rev. Norman McCausland, former pastor of Chesley, now pastor of Cobalt and Haileybury Baptist Churches. The following is the reply re parcels:

Cobalt, Nov. 14
Dear Mrs. Fulton,—
The four parcels you sent from the Ladies' Aid for the fire sufferers up here, have come to hand O. K. and I want to say they are just splendid, serviceable and good. In fact your donation is one of the best which I have received. Tell the ladies that we appreciate the kind interest in our people at this time of need. Mulock did well,—thank you all. I don't know what the people here would have done had not the people of Old Ontario so generously come to the aid. The woes of such a disaster are greatly lessened by living in a Christian country, where the love of Christ is shed abroad in the hearts of the people. Yours sincerely,

Norman McCausland
Mr. John McDonald, his school student at Durham, was unable to attend school last week. Dr. Smith was called who pronounced the trouble pneumonia, but pleased to say John is now getting along nicely and will soon be able to be back at school again.

Miss Elsie Grant of Varney, was the guest of her friend, Miss Blanch Boyce over the week end.

Listen! That concert by the Cameron children of Durham, will be given in Mulock Baptist Church, Friday, Nov. 24. Admission 25 and 15c. All are cordially invited to come and hear Miriam and Eben Cameron. Rev. E. Cameron will also give an address.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Lawrence of Durham, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Porter and Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Patterson of Varney, visited Mr. and Mrs. F. McCausland recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Alf Sharp of Durham were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Sharp Sunday.

The people of this community are pleased to have Mr. Jas Park, the genial store keeper of Allan Park, call on us again. We wish him every success.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hastie visited friends in Elmwood Sunday. Mrs. Bessie Shaw (nee Miss Bessie Burgess) and little daughter Murine, of Alberta, were welcome guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hastie last week.

Mrs. H. Dunn is at present visiting friends in Toronto. Sorry to report Mr. Duncan McKinnon is under the care of Dr. Brad Jamieson at present. Mr. McKinnon's many friends hope soon to see him around again in his usual health.

ROCKY SAUGEEN

We have been having beautiful fall weather, but a light fall of snow reminds us that winter is approaching.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas Lawrence visited with Mr. and Mrs. Robt Hopkins on Sunday.

Mr Sam Heppburn has bought a farm near Moorsburg and moved there last week.

Miss Alice Trafford is visiting her sister, Mrs. Jas. Millar. Our heartfelt sympathy is extended to Mr. Bert Ritchie and two little boys in the irreparable loss of a loving wife and mother.

Mrs. Robt. Webber is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Jack Caswell.

The young people are busy practicing for a Xmas entertainment. Mrs R. Baxter is spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Jno. Braun, who has not been in good health for some time.
