THE PUMP IN THE HOUSE

Means Comfort and Convenience for the Farmer's Wife.

Water Indoors Pumped From Outdoor Wells—How to Do the Job—Up-to-date Pumps Save Time and Energy.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The writer recently described in these columns how to safeguard the farm water supply against contamination. All will agree that this matter should receive foremost attention. In this and subsequent articles various means for getting the water, whether well, spring, or stream water on tap in the farm home will be described. In the first place I desire to emphasize the fact that it is frequently a very common thing for the farmer's wife to carry the water from the pump over the well to the house, where the pump could be located inside the house, and all the labor of carrying water avoided and without very little more labor expended in pumping.

Distance of House Pump from Well. Note this question: When can the pump be located to one side of the well, and how far away? If the water supply is no more than 150 or 200 feet from the house, and the level of the water at the supply, say the well, is never more than 25 or 30 feet below the level of the ground level at the house, the pump may be put inside the house, and the water drawn in quite satisfactorily. It would not cost very much to make this change in the pump arrangement, and consider what a great saving of labor and time, inconvenience, and exposure to bad weather would be effected by merely moving the pump inside. Perhaps you have never thought of this matter. How about it? Then, too, the well can be more securely guarded from surface contamination than when the pump is directly over it.

The Majority of Wells Are Shallow. In many districts of our country the majority of the wells are shallow and within a short distance of the house, and readily lend themselves to the pump arrangement described above. It is the nearest approach to water on tap, and the system should be far more common in the rural districts than it is. If in the future some fine up-to-date water system should be installed in the home, the water line from the house to the well would be already installed, and no changes in it would be necessary.

Hints on Installation. Before passing on, a few features concerning installation of the water supply shall be suggested and emphasized. These are: The best quality of galvanized pipe should be used, the joints in the line should be absolutely airtight, the pipe line should be deep enough to be always safe from frost, the pipe should slope slightly towards the well, and there should be a check-valve and strainer on the bottom of the pipe in the well in order to maintain the pipe line full of water up to the pump itself and to keep back sticks, stones, etc., that might clog the pump valves. The size of the pipe (inside diameter) should be at least one-half the diameter of the pump cylinder, the greater the horizontal distance water is drawn the larger the pipe. The type of pump used may vary considerably. The ordinary out-of-doors pump may be used. In this case the pump would be located in the woodshed, for instance, and installed over a dry well. This consists of a shallow pit cribbed up securely in which the pump cylinder is located, and it has a tight top like an ordinary well. It would be a much easier matter to repair the pump cylinder than when pump is over the well, and much easier to protect the pump from frost in severe winter weather. A single or double acting low down force pump similar to the type used on threshers' water tanks might be used. It might be located in the cellar or in convenient place inside; no dry well would be necessary in this case.

Have a Good Quality of Pump. Even the kitchen pump would serve the purpose very well if it were somewhat heavier in construction and better designed than the cheaper ones of this class. Another type would be the semi-rotary pump which is fastened securely to the wall of the kitchen or pantry at one side of sink. It is operated by a short handle moved back and forth in a semi-circular manner. The same pump at the kitchen sink may be used also for pumping up the water from the cistern by having a three-way valve installed in the pipe line at a point just below the sink. When the valve is set one way, the well water can be pumped into the house, when opposite the cistern or soft water can be pumped.

In this short article an endeavor has been made to explain a few simple and inexpensive means of reducing the labor of getting the water into the farm home, in others to follow more up-to-date systems will be dealt with. Our Department at the College solicits inquiries regarding the problems of equipping the farm home with water supply systems, plumbing, sewage disposal, heating systems, etc. Write for a copy of Bulletin No. 287; it is free.—R. R. GRAHAM, O. A. College, Guelph.

Aunt Ada's Axioms: Someone has said that a farm is a business with a home attached; but the best farms are homes with a business attached. Elm, maple, or even nut trees and fruit trees are good to plant along highways. The objection to fruit and nut trees is that they may be broken down by over-zealous collectors of fruit. This is not apt to happen if they are common on the highway.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A Peep at our Provincial Parliament in Session

Mr. Editor of Review.—

For one hour I sat in the visitor's lobby at the Parliament Buildings on Monday, listening to some very dry speeches. It was the poorest machine entertainment I have been at for many moons. However I got my money's worth for the show cost me nothing.

Two of the three galleries were well filled, the third almost empty. Spectators gather there, some to witness our law givers in operation, others expecting excitement, the hearing of party tricks or the slicing of U. F. O. scalps. Sometimes they are rewarded, generally it is otherwise.

On the floor of the House were about 26 of the 111 members. Where were the rest? I can't say. A casual member would slump in to his seat, another would watch the Speaker's eye and leave the chamber. A few stop in the lobbies for a talk and smoke, the rest disappear early. The Government party had about 20 of the 55 present: G. M. Loeson of South Grey was among those present in their places. He doesn't say much, but his silence is considered golden compared to some of the speeches served up in the session. Some of the members talk volumes but say nothing.

Jos. Thompson of Toronto was "riding" the Government on its road policy. Biggs was absent, Drury left and Raney was in command. Nobody listened to Thompson. The few members present wrote letters, (some) then on the floor to the page boys to collect, or read papers. W. H. Thompson, Liberal Leader, read some usual present in his coat, lapel and dandy and debonair in appearance, chatted to Sara Clarke on his left, Senator of South Ontario, who declared the 1923 legislative program brought in nothing and would take out less, whispered secrets with Hartley Dewar. Howard Ferguson was busy reading. Then Thompson prosed the handful of Government members opposite him would constitute the numerical strength of the Farmers' Party after the next election. The opposition woke up and chattered their desks.

The new boys entered with their afternoon papers. All the members dip down for a coin. A few tory members buy both Telegram and Star but the U. F. O. have tabooed the Telegram and I did not see a copy purchased on the Government side. They consider it a mean and unfair sheet. Everybody except Raney and Thompson are reading. Raney, the watch-dog, listens to Thompson, the critic, barking.

This is a casual afternoon in the Legislature. To the uninitiated it seems a funny business and seemingly a South Grey school teacher or farmer is earning three times their incomes compared to some legislators in Toronto. Of course the visitors do not see the Committees of the House in operation or many of their strenuous sessions. And anyway it must be worth $2000 a year, the pain endured to sit and listen day after day to the volumes of froth poured out—but then they don't always listen.

"Some day when something 'good' turns up in the House, I may write again."

Miss Agnes McPhail Asks Trade Questions

A number of questions dealing with foreign trade matters have been placed on the Order Paper by Miss Agnes McPhail, member for South East Grey. Miss McPhail asks the Government to state how many consuls and Commercial Agents the United States has resident in Canada, how many Canada has in the United States and whether Canada intends to appoint sufficient agents in the United States to properly take care of her trade needs. Miss McPhail is also asking what steps the Gov't is taking to foster trade with the United Kingdom and how many officials with technical trade knowledge are attached to the Canadian High Commissioner's Office in London, England.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Charlotten of S. Bentinck, visited with Mr. and Mrs. John Wells and family on Sunday last.

The U. F. O. Club held their monthly meeting on Friday afternoon and quite a lot of business was done.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Reay visited in Hanover on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Torry, Mulock, visited with her parents recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reay have moved from the Burgess farm on the Carleton place, north of Durham, to Mrs. Fred Reay's house on the back line. Mrs. Reay has moved into town.

MULOCK

A well known and respected citizen and who was one of the oldest pioneers of Bentinck Township, passed away very peacefully Monday morning, Feb. 5th, in the person of Mrs. John McCallum, aged 94 years. She had always been a healthy and strong woman, until a few months ago when her health failed noticeably. Deceased whose maiden name was Anne Morrison, was born in Ross, Mull, Argyleshire, Scotland in 1829, came to Canada in 1841 with her parents and other members of the family. In 1857 she was married to the late John McCallum by the late Rev. Alexander Stewart and settled on the 7th con. of Bentinck where a home was established. Here she remained until the time of her death. Her husband predeceased her 16 years ago. The marriage resulted in a family of 7 children, 5 sons and 2 daughters, Duncan dying a number of years ago and Maggie (Mrs. Dan Lamont) of Sault Ste. Marie dying one year ago. The living are: Bella, (Mrs. Donald Smith), Tilbury East; Dugald, of Denver, Colorado; John of Minnesota; Malcolm, of Durham and Neil of Mulock, with whom deceased made her home for years and where she was lovingly cared for by her son Neil and his wife.

Mrs. McCallum was admitted to the fellowship of Rocky Saugeen Church 61 years ago on her profession of faith. Her husband was for many years an honored elder in the congregation. She was a genuine Christian character, kindly and sincere. She was also a good neighbor, always ready to lend a hand in time of sickness or trouble. She leaves behind her a memory that will not soon be forgotten by her many friends. Interment took place Wednesday, Feb. 7th, at Lutton cemetery, Rev. Duncan Sillars, her pastor, conducting the services, assisted by Rev. Mr. Aird.

We extend heartfelt sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Alex. J. McDonald and daughter Myrtle, in the sad loss of their little son and brother, who died Feb. 7th, aged 16 mos. Little Leslie was the darling pride of all the hearts at home, but an angel came and whispered "Leslie darling come home". To express our feelings towards the late Mr. J. H. Adams of Hanover, is a hard matter. Hanover has lost one of its noblest citizens, a man deeply beloved by all with whom he came in contact, esteemed for his sound judgment, upright dealings and kindly disposition. His citizenship was beyond reproach; he lived the Golden Rule of life. "An honest man's the noblest work of God."

Colds and a gripe are all the fashion these days. Sorry to say Mrs. McDonald Sr. is ill at present and hope she will soon be in her usual health.

Miss F. McDonald, Hamilton, and Mrs. Jas. Sumpton, Port Elgin, attended the funeral of their little nephew Leslie McDonald, and remained over the week end visiting their sister, Mrs. A. Hastie.

What Do You Know About Chiropractic ?

Do you believe that it is a health science which is daily relieving the sufferings of thousands and saving thousands from a premature grave? Is your belief based upon actual experience or simply upon hearsay, or is it a matter of fact that you have given the subject little serious thought?

Do you know that Chiropractic is entirely different to any other form of Druggish Science and that it has nothing in common with Osteopathy?

Do you know that there are ten thousand Chiropractors who are practising their profession in the Country at the present time and that still the supply is not equal to the demand?

Do you know that in the recent "flu" epidemic, Chiropractors only lost one case out of 886, or one-ninth of one per cent?

Do you know that it has been proven beyond a reasonable doubt that as a prophylactic method, Chiropractic stands head and shoulders above any other?

Ninety-five per cent of so-called Dis-ease is caused by a subluxation (displacement) of one or more vertebrae of the spine which causes an impingement of the nerves, preventing the life force from flowing normally.

The Chiropractor relieves this pinching by Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments with his bare hands only. The displaced bones are put back to their normal position, the pinching is relieved, the life force flows unimpeded and Health is the result.

Mechanical defects cannot be corrected by the employment of drugs.

The Chiropractor is a spine Specialist, a human machinist, who has been trained to know the spine thoroughly.

See your Chiropractor, ask for more information regarding his wonderful science. Get him to give you a spinal analysis and ascertain just what condition your spine is in. It will pay you.
